Solid Front Shown By Allied Nations Upon Reparations

GERMANS WILL HEAR ULTIMATUM TODAY

Little Doubt But That Powers Will Resort to Drastic Means to Enforce Terms.

WAR CLOUDS LOOM

London, March 2.—The Evening Standard's diplomatic correspondent reports that Barthou, the war minister, has wired his government to be prepared "for all eventualities."

Bonar Law, speaking in the house of commons, declared that British troops now on the Rhine number 12,900.

The following official statement was made by the spokesman for the German reparations delegation late Wednesday: "If the entente insists upon our signing the Paris agreement without alteration, we shall pack up and go home. No other course is possible."

Paris, March 2.—The allied premiers have set the seal of approval upon the immediate execution of military penalties authorized by the treaty of Versailles, unless Germany recants from her present position.

A telegram received in Paris Wednesday afternoon from Premier Briand announced that Lloyd-George, of Great Britain; Sforma, of Italy, and Jasper, of Belgium, had "approved fully the necessity of executing immediate military penalties upon Germany."

This does not mean that a military invasion of the central republic, or occupation of new districts of Germany will be undertaken today or tomorrow. It is taken rather to mean that the allies have accepted the plans of their military leaders, and that the program, in the event of Germany's continued refusal to come to terms, has been completed.

Ultimatum at Noon.

The Germans at noon tomorrow will hear the unanimous decision of the allied powers on their counter proposals which Dr. Simons, the German foreign secretary, and head of the German delegation, presented yesterday at the reparations conference in Lancaster house, and the consequences which will follow their failure to comply with the allied terms.

There is little doubt as to the nature of the reply, for in a statement issued after a meeting of the supreme council this evening, the counter proposals are described as "meriting neither examination nor discussion."

Details of what steps will be taken to enforce the demands of the allies are withheld tonight, it being considered only an act of courtesy to let the Germans hear them before they are published.

Lloyd-George's Stand.

Lloyd George consented today to the employment of armed forces against Germany in the event of her non-compliance to the extent of the occupation of Manheim by British, French and Belgian troops and also of the Ruhr ports on the Rhine.

There may possibly also be a blockade of German ports, although some of the powers are opposed to this.

The reply is described in some circles as being in the nature of an ultimatum. The seriousness of the step which is being taken, both in refusing to discuss the German counter proposals and in the action

Offers to Start Fund for Support Of South Family

Californian Will Give $100 If 100 Other People Will Do Likewise.

Continents and oceans have no terrors for the news wings of the South baby case. The interesting account of motherly-love deception crossed to foggy London for publication in the staid old Times without even stopping at the Azores; now comes Los Angeles, smack-dab across a continent, with proof that westerners, movie stars and all, have again been confronted with the fact that the Gate City of the South is the international distributing center for interesting baby yarns.

Reading a full-page account of how Mrs. F. E. A. South, of this city, duped husband, friends and relatives by adopting eleven children for years, calling them her own, a manufacturer of old Los Angeles has written the chamber of commerce, offering a check for $100 to the South family, adding the rather material condition if a hundred others will do likewise."

The letter comes from the Wood Manufacturing company, attached to a clipping from The Los Angeles Examiner, asking if the facts in the article are authentic and requesting investigation of the fact by the Associated Charities or similar organization.

"You will find inclosed," says the letter, "an article on Mrs. South which we have clipped from a Los Angeles paper. If the contents of the article are authentic, we would be willing to encourage a subscription for Mrs. South, donating $100 to the cause, provided a hundred others would donate a like amount. Believing Mrs. South to be worthy, we simply make this offer by way of encouragement of a subscription for her.

"Our idea in sending the clipping to you is because you are in a position to refer the article to your Associated Charities, or similar organization, for investigation of the facts as given, and to determine whether or not Mrs. South merits the proposed assistance."

CONGRESS PASSES TEN SUPPLY BILLS

Hope for Army and Sundry Civil Measures, But None for Navy, Bonus and Packers' Bills.

Washington, March 2.—Congress, within a day and a half of adjournment, had cleared its calendar tonight of ten of the thirteen annual supply measures and leaders still were hopeful of getting two others—the army and sundry civil—through at the last minute.

The fight on the naval bill was continued in the senate and indications were that it finally would take its place with the great mass of bills which were regarded as certain to die with this congress.

Among the measures for which hope had been abandoned were those proposing compensation for former service men, regulation of cold storage and the meat and coal industries, $100,000,000 for state road aid, a federal budget system, reapportionment in the house, reorganization of the patent office and many others regarded as of less importance.

Wilson Signs Bills.

President Wilson has signed six of the supply measures passed.

Bond Commission Confident That Decision at the Polls Will Be in Favor of Issue

"Every objection raised against the bond issue has been met and overcome," says a statement issued Wednesday by the bond commission. "Dealing in facts, and only in facts, we have gone to the public openly and fairly, presenting to them the needs of their city and leaving the verdict in their hands. We feel abundantly justified in the expectation that their decision next Tuesday, March 8, will be overwhelmingly in favor of the bonds.

"Every organization and every meeting, large or small, which was addressed by the chairman of the bond campaign committee, who presented the facts and answered the questions put to him, has indorsed the bond issue without a qualification, expressed or implied.

"At the meeting Wednesday of the chamber of commerce open forum, the chairman took the negative side of the question and presented every objection which has been raised against the bond issue, and gave the facts in answer to it, and threw the meeting open to any and all questions which anyone might desire to ask, and the result was the same which has come from all other meetings of citizens honestly desirous of informing themselves concerning municipal needs, and doing what was right for their city.

Report Is Presented.

"On Wednesday afternoon there was presented to Mayor Key and the chairman of the bond campaign committee a report by a committee appointed from the Affiliated Technical Societies to make a further and complete and exhaustive investigation of each of the four sub-divisions of the bond issue. Ten days ago the Affiliated Technical Societies had indorsed the bond issue, after hearing the facts presented to them by Chairman Inman and the heads of city departments, but in order to sift the matter down to the finest grains of detail they appointed a special investigating committee to go to the bottom of it.

"This committee submitted a report, on Wednesday afternoon, indorsing the school bonds of $4.000,000; indorsing the waterworks bonds of $2.850,000. indorsing the

SOLICITOR BOYKIN BEGINS NEW PROBE OF MURDER CASE

Investigation of the slaying of Charles Dorsey, chauffeur for the Bryant Taxicab company, who was found shot through the head in his car Tuesday morning, was given a new turn yesterday afternoon, when the operatives of the solicitor general's force began an independent inquiry after the detective investigation had failed to reveal anything at a brief inquest held by Coroner Paul Donehoo during the morning.

P. L. "Slim" Haslett, driver for the Carson Taxicab company, who was arrested Tuesday along with Claudie Bell and Alberta Scott, two girls who admitted that they had been out on a wild party in an automobile that culminated in a free-for-all fight, was brought before Solicitor General Boykin and grilled by him for several hours.

It is understood, however, that he didn't change his original story that he was driving his car on the other side of Fulton county, while Dorsey was being slain on South Boulevard, near the federal prison.

Another New Twist.

Another new twist was given the inquiry in the afternoon when John Highsmith, attorney for the two girls who are being held on suspicion at police station, applied for a writ of habeas corpus for them. The writ was made returnable at 8:45 o'clock Friday morning, before Judge John D. Humphries, of the superior court, but the hearing will not be necessary since the girls were released last night on $500 bonds.

Evidence adduced before the coroner's inquest did little towards clarifying the mystery. In fact, it largely tended toward deepening it. So little progress was being made that Coroner Donehoo ordered a recess until Tuesday afternoon, when the hearing will be resumed and when it is expected that new evidence will be introduced.

Haslett and the two girls both testified at the inquest. They told practically the same story and told it in a straightforward way that caused the detectives to doubt seriously their implication in the slaying.

Story Told Jury.

According to this story Haslett picked up the girls and their companions, who were named as Harry Stevens and Bill Thompson, at Trinity avenue and Forsyth street about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. The whole party had evidently been indulging freely in corn whisky, it was stated.

On their order he drove them through West End out the Cascade road. The car was halted for further liquid refreshment, and a bit later the girls got in a wordy argument that developed into a physical combat. During this engagement, Haslett said he was attempting to act as peacemaker when he was struck with a blackjack by one of the male occupants of his car.

Despite this unpleasantness he drove the party back to Atlanta, arriving at his stand about 8 o'clock, when he made the remark that he had been "on a wild party in which there was the hell of a fight," which led to his arrest.

Support was given his story by a number of persons, who had seen Dorsey's car on South Boulevard as early as 7:40 o'clock Monday night, while Haslett is declared to have left his station at a later hour. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stoddard saw the Bryant taxicab with lights burning and apparently deserted, at that hour.

Car Is Observed.

It was observed there at 9:20 p. m. by Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Doughtry, of 245 Lucile avenue, who were so mystified by the appearance of the car that Mrs. Doughtry took its license number. It was further seen by J. M. Anderson, of 1004 DeKalb avenue, the driver of the Studebaker car that was burned about 200 feet from the death car. Anderson remembered seeing the apparently empty automobile with lights burning as he went to get aid in putting out the fire.

Absolutely nothing else new was developed at the hearing. The good character of Dorsey was proven by a number of witnesses and the fact that he did not drink liquor or handle it in any way.

E. C. Bryant, the proprietor of the taxicab service, testified as to the condition of the car, the batteries and the gas, practically as he had informed the press previously, while officers testified as to the condition of the body, the finding of the cartridge casing in the car, but absolutely nothing new was developed.

The coroner then adjourned the inquest.

It was announced that the taxi drivers of Atlanta would raise a fund for the mother of the victim and that more than $200 was subscribed Wednesday. Subscriptions will be received at the office of the Bryant service in the Ansley hotel.

WORRY OVER COAL SUPPLY BANISHED FOR 3,000 YEARS

Chicago, March 2.—Worry over the exhaustion of coal supplies may be put off for 3,000 years, it was said here by George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholasale Coal Association, Washington, D. C.

"We have four trillion tons of coal under our soil," he said. "Half of this will supply this country and support our export trade for at least 3,000. Existing bituminous coal mines can produce 982,000,000 tons a year, whereas the production in 1920 was but 557,000,000 tons."

Flaying Critics, Williams Resigns As Currency Head

Senate Banking Committee Scored by Wilson for Way It Handled Matter of Reconfirmation.

WILLIAMS TAKES SHOT AT SENATOR M'LEAN

Present Deputy Comptroller Will Fill Vacancy Until Harding Appoints New Man to Post.

Washington, March 2.—John Skelton Williams retired tonight as comptroller of the currency. In accepting his resignation "with deep and genuine reluctance," President Wilson wrote Mr. Willaims that he had been done a "gross injustice" by the way in which the senate banking committee had handled the question of his reconfirmation.

"I can only believe, however," said the president, "that time will disclose the injustice to everybody and that the right verdict will be rendered by opinion, if not by one of the houses of congress.

"I have had the pleasure upon more than one occasion of expressing to you the approval not only of myself, but the admiration with which I have followed the administration of your office. You can carry away with you into private life the satisfatcion of having performed the duties of comptroller of the currency in a way which has redounded not only to the credit of this administration, but to the material benefit of the financial interests of the country."

Scores Congress Critics.

The president was writing in reply to a letter from Mr. Williams on February 28 tendering his resignation, effective tonight, and in which he took a parting shot at some of his critics in congress. The retiring comptroller charged that "certain senators" who had the power to bring his nomination before the senate had "dodged and evaded ignominously."

Mr. Williams also wrote that since "the expressed opposition" to his confirmation and prolonged hearings before two senate banking committees virtually had put him "by implication" under charges, he had felt that he was "entitled to a verdict."

"I have urged and pleaded in vain," he said, "discussion in the open senate or executive session of any objeyction to my confirmation. My information is that Senator McLean, of Connecticut, chairman of the banking and currency committee, refused to report my case because he promised a certain partisan politician not a member of the senate, that he would not report it.

Attacks McLean.

"Unfortunately I was compelled to put in the record of the hearings an incident seriously involving the veracity of the man whose favor Senator MacLean sought to obtain at the cost of justice and fair dealing. I am informed, however, that the person to whom the promise was made recently consented to release Senator MacLean from the obligations referred to, but the senator refused to submit the matter of my confirmation to a senate containing a majority of his own party.

"He had probably learned that a considerable number of fair-minded republican senators had been disapproving the rank injustice of his course and his petty politics, and would have voted to confirm my nomination even though he had reported adversely. But as chairman, Senator McLean chose to smother the confirmation in the committee. I am compelled to conclude that this senator lacks both the moral and mental caliber to uphold the duties and dignities of his office, and that the consideration due to those, as well as the most sacred rights must, therefore, be subordinated to his sordid and small political and personal purposes."

Brands Statement False.

Mr. Williams said the wide publication of a statement that the banking comittee reported against his nomination was "false," and that he would have "welcomed such a report if it had resulted in se-

Detectives Terry And Howell Fired By Police Board

The board of police commissioners, meeting in executive session last night, dropped O. M. Howell and Lon Terry, two city detectives convited in Fulton superior court last week for possessing a large quantity of rye whisky from the rolls of the department.

This action was taken on the motion of W. C. Stradley, commissioner from the sixth ward, who declared that the men should be dismissed from the force for the good of the service, and in justice to the other members of the department.

Prior to their conviction in superior court, where they were fined $1,000 and sentenced to 12 months each on the chaingang, Howell and Terry had been exonerated of the whisky charge by the police board, and under the civil service rules governing the department, the same charge cannot be preferred against a member of the force after he has once been cleared. It had appeared therefore, that a complex legal question had been raised by the developments in the case.

For Good of Service.

Under the rules, however, a member may be dropped by vote of the board "for the good of the service," and it was under that authority that the board voted unanimously to discharge the men.

The special meeting was the last session of the present board. At the council meeting next Monday a new board will be formed, and its organization meeting will be held the following Tuesday night, preceded by a dinner.

James W. Maddox, commissioner from the fifth ward, and chairman of the board, called the meeting especially to consider the cases of Terry and Howell. Upon calling the meeting to order he surrenderd the gavel to Vice Chairman Vaughan and moved that the matter be considered in executive session. The motion was carried, and everyone except board members and the two department chiefs were excluded, and the doors shut.

Maddox Sought Postponement.

Mr. Maddox immediately sought to have a consideration of the matter postponed owing to reported illness in Detective Howell's family. Commissioner Stradley at this point arose and stated that he had talked with Howell in the corridor just previous to the meeting, and that Howell was anxious that some disposition be made of his case at once.

After only a short discussion Mr. Stradley moved to discharge the convicted sleuths. Several seconds to the motion were made simultaneously, and the affirmative vote on the motion was unanimous.

Howell was waiting in the corridor when the decesion was disclosed. He appeared much affected, and declared that "it is just a case of a good man gone." He continued to maintain his innocence, and declared that the entire affair had been framed up by Atlanta liquor men in a spirit of revenge.

Both Howell and Terry have filed motions for new trials in the superior court. In the event that a second trial should exonerate the men, it was intimated by board members that their applications for readmission to the force would be considered.

Fall From Window Seriously Injures Agnes Scott Girl

Miss Elizabeth Carson, Bristol, Tenn., in Critical Condition, After Accident.

Miss Elizabeth Carson, of Bristol, Tenn., 16-year-old student in the freshman class at Agnes Scott college, is in a critical condition at St. Joseph's infirmary following a fall from the window of her room in the second story of the dormitory Wednesday morning. Miss Carson suffered a compound fracture of her hip, with possibly internal injuries.

She was found at 10 o'clock this morning lying upon the ground beneath her window, suffering intense agony. It is stated that she had fallen only a few moments before she was discovered. First aid treatment was at once administered by Dr. Mary Sweet, the college physician, and the injured girl was afterward rushed to St. Joseph's, in this city. She was unable to describe the manner in which she met the accident.

Her father is Dr. Charles Carson, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Bristol. She is a niece of E. E. Carson, a well-known insurance man of Atlanta, and has other relatives living in the city. It is said that her parents in Bristol were notified by telegraph immediately following the accident.

Physicians at St. Joseph's stated Wednesday night that they were then unable to determine the full extent of Miss Carson's injuries. They asserted, however, that her condition is considered grave.

EXPERT ENGINEERS INDORSE PROGRAM OF BOND CAMPAIGN

Declare Atlanta Needs Badly Improvements and Enlargements Outlined by Departments.

REPORTS PROVE BOOST FOR BOND MOVEMENT

Great Enthusiasm Shown at Gatherings Held in Interest of Issue During Wednesday.

Special committees composed of expert engineers of the Affiliated Technical societies appointed to investigate the separate items of the proposed bond issue, rendered their reports last night at a meeting of the organization held at the chamber of commerce, and indorsed and substantiated in virtually every detail the programs of enlargement and improvement which have been outlined by the departments directly affected by the bond issue.

The report of these experts and the enthusiasm and promise manifested at the community meetings in various wards, marked Wednesday as one of the most favorable days in the progress of the bond campaign.

P. Thornton Marye was chairman of the Societies' committee on school investigation; P. H. Norcross was chairman of the committee on sewers; H. E. Bussey was chairman on waterworks, and W. C. Spiker headed the viaduct committee.

Report on Schools.

The school committee, after carefully considering the conditions of the present school system, declared in its report that "we are firmly convinced that the board of education has not overestimated the urgent needs of the additional buildings and facilities outlined in their program. The estimate given us of the cost of construction required to take care of the five-year increase in the schools, is ultra-conservative, and we find that the cost of an adequate program of construction will greatly exceed $4,000,000."

The waterworks committee made an inspection of the pumping stations, the filter plant, raw water reservoirs, coagulating basins, clear water basins and other features of the water system, and also in the study of the situation had access to the data which has been prepared following a survey of months duration by Paul Norcross, consulting engineer of the water board, and W. Zode Smith, manager of the waterworks.

Plans of improvement and expenditure proposed in this survey were declared in the belief of the committee to have been made on a sound engineering basis, and must be carried out if Atlanta is to maintain a water supply of adequate quality and quantity.

Irreducible Minimum.

Relative to the planned expenditure of $1,250,000 for improvement and extension of the sewer system, the special committee named to investigate this phase of the bond issue, asserted that "we are impressed with the fact that the total amount of bonds to be provided is the irreducible minimum necessary to provide relief for the insanitary, unsightly and menacing conditions existing in Atlanta's drainage system."

As an illustration, the report showed a personal visit of the committee to the Peachtree disposal plant, where it was discovered that the plant receives approximately 12,500,000 gallons of sewage daily, but has only sufficient filter bed area for about half of this amount of sewage. "This means," said the report, "that the remaining 50 per cent is discharged directly from the Imhoff tanks into a tributary of Peachtree creek, without oxidation in filters."

Building of the Spring street bridge was recommended by the viaduct committee, subject only to additional study of location. "As to the advisability of building an additional viaduct connecting the north and south sides there can be no question," its members agreed. "We have estimated conservatively on the basis of such information as we have been able to obtain in the limited time at our disposal that such a viaduct will pay for itself in the saving of time, transportation power and wear and tear on vehicles, in from three to five years."

Rendered to Schoen.

The reports are rendered to A. M. Schoen, chairman of the board of consulting engineers of Atlanta, and Mr. Schoen will in turn transmit them to Mayor Key. The mayor was acquainted with their contents Wednesday afternoon when the committees and Mr. Schoen called on him at his office. He expressed himself as much impressed.

Without a dissenting vote the reports of the committees were approved at the meeting last night.

Frank M. Inman, chairman of the bond campaign, addressed the en-

AUTO OWNERS WARNED.

County officers acting under orders of Secretary of State Guyt McLendon Wednesday took the numbers of all cars seen on the streets bearing 1920 license tags and notified the owners that they must secure 1921 tags and present them to Sheriff James I. Lowry in his office at the courthouse within twenty-four hours. In the event that the new license is not shown to the sheriff, a warrant will be sworn out against the offenders. The number of notifications is not known.

Union Heads Will Discuss Wage Cut At Meeting Today

MEN DEMAND DECISION FROM U. S. WAGE BOARD

"Will Not Accept Cut Until We Have Exhausted Every Available Means in Power," Say Clerks.

BY PAUL JONES.

The first direct action on the part of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad employees looking to a stand against the acceptance of a wage reduction, despite the order of Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the United States district court, came Wednesday afternon when 200 employees of the road, meeting in Fitzgerald, voted to instruct a joint committee now in Atlanta to refuse to accept a cut until such reduction is ordered by the United States railroad labor board. The reduction ordered by the court amounts to 50 per cent of all increases granted the men since 1917.

This action, taken despite the court order comes as an advance decision by many of the employees prior to a meeting here today of the international representatives of the sixteen standard railroad unions involved in the wage cut order for A., B. & A. railroad by Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the United States district court. It also repudiated the action of W. M. Martin, of the locomotive engineers, who accepted the cut Tuesday under protest.

Jurisdiction Undecided.

The decision of the Fitzgerald men in definitely instructing their representatives to refuse to accept the cut in wages unless such an order should be issued by the federal wage board, which, they claim, has jurisdiction still over the matter, is looked upon as an effort on the part of the unions to force a decision between the two tribunals, the federal wage board and the federal district court, upon the question of jurisdiction.

Will Determine Action.

The gathering of the important union chiefs to be held today in Atlanta, will be for the purpose of getting a line upon the wage reduction situation as announced by the court through Colonel B. L. Bugg, receiver for the property, and to determine what action should be taken in the matter. The announcement has been made that a meeting will be held by the unions' officials during the day, but no indication as to the time or place was given out.

Present in the city Wednesday night were J. B. Hogshed, grand vice president of the Railway and Steamship Clerks; Vice President Parisey, of the Order of the Railway Conductors; Vice President Fitzpatrick, of the Order of Railroad Trainmen; Vice President George W. Marshall, of the International Association of Machinists; T. P. Denham, grand vice president of the maintenance of way men; C. J. Goff, grand vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; general chairman of Locomotive Engineers for the A., B. & A. railroad, and chairman of a joint committee of thirteen of the railroad unions, W. M. Martin, of Fitzgerald. Others will arrive in the city during the night and this morning, and the conference is expected to be one of the most important ever held in Atlanta from the standpoint of personnel and importance of the labor chiefs.

Other Unions to "Protest."

Crowds Flocking Into Washington For Inauguration

Harding Arrives Thursday. Coolidge and New Cabinet Officers Present.

Washington, March 2.—The influx of visitors to Washington to attend the inauguration Friday, has started. Despite the abandonment of plans for an elaborate ceremony, hundreds of people arrived today, and tomorrow the number is expected to run into the thousands with other thousands to arrive Friday morning.

The special forecast of cold and probably fair weather for inauguration day which went out today from the weather bureau may result in materially increasing the out-of-town crowd as some folks who have wished to come probably have hesitated because of memories of bad weather at some previous inaugurations.

President-elect Harding with Mrs. Harding and a number of friends will arrive tomorrow afternoon from Marion. He will go direct to the New Willard hotel, where he will make his headquarters until he starts for the capitol Friday. Vice President-elect Coolidge and several members of the new cabinet already are on the ground. The cabinet officers designate here include Will H. Hays, to be postmaster-general; Edwin Denby, to be secretary of the navy; former Senator John W. Weeks, to be secretary of war, and Senator Fall, to be secretary of the interior.

Conferences Held.

Other members of the cabinet are expected to arrive here tomorrow or early Friday. Most of them will not actually take over direction of the various government departments to which they have been assigned until Saturday. Meantime some of them are conferring with present cabinet members to familiarize themselves with the work ahead of them.

Mr. Denby had a long conference today with Secretary Daniels, discussing naval policies and the naval appropriation bill now before the senate. He reiterated his statement that he would aim to have a navy "ready for battle at all times," and also said he believed in giving every opportunity to the enlisted man

BAKER TO BECOME OFFICER IN ARMY

Present Secretary of War Will Accept Rank of Captain or Major in Legal Department.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

Washington, March 2.—Secretary of War Baker, who will retire on Friday as the civilian head of the great land wing of the national defense, will become a military man in fact, and will at once join the judge advocate general's department of the army with a commission as "captain" or perhaps "major," this determination being conditioned only upon his being able to stand the required physical examination, which he will take Thursday.

The announcement came Wednesday afternoon in a valedictory address delivered at a luncheon tendered him by Major General Peter C. Harris, of Georgia, adjutant general of the army, at which there were Generals Pershing, March, Wright, Conner, the military attaches attached to the legations here of all the allied nations, the members of the Georgia delegation in congress and the host's civilian brother, Professor Harris, of Cave Springs, Ga.

The announcement was a surprise though it has been known that the retiring secretary had on numberless occasions expressed his desire to remain with the army in some capacity, declaring that his years of experience as secretary of war had endeared him to this branch of service in a way that he could not get the consent of his mind to sever his connection—even though of a modest nature—with the great branch of government that he had functioned during the most stirring and perilous days of American history.

At the luncheon strong and forceful addresses were made by all of the military men, that of General Pershing being especially warm in its commendation of the Baker administration of the war department, and for ten minutes the retiring secretary responded in what is termed by those who heard him as the most masterly address ever made by him. He placed particular stress upon the coordination of his aides and assistants in the trying days of stress, and declared that to them belonged the honor for the potential achievements on his administration.

That Secretary Baker will remain with the service as an under officer, content to fit-in where he may be most useful without regard to the emoluments of office the partisanship of politics, or the glitter of regalia is one of the most unselfish acts of any retiring cabinet official in history, and will become the subject of favorable comment throughout the nation, regardless of party.

Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

the 200 Fitzgerald employees is looked upon as extremely likely by many individuals among the labor unions. It was also implied that, as the reduction on the A., B. & A. might be considered as the entering wedge for a national movement upon the parts of various railroads to reduce wages, the possibility of railroad unions on other systems joining in the A., B. & A. protest is more than likely.

This possibility of concerted action against the order handed down by Judge Samuel H. Sibley, was given emphasis last night by a statement given out by J. B. Hogshed, grand vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship clerks, 300,000 strong, which definitely denied that the members of his organization had accepted, or would accept, the wage reductions, under protest, or otherwise, unless such cut is made by the federal wage board.

Board Asked to Decide.

The attitude of the United States district court over which Judge Samuel H. Sibley presides, toward the effort of the unions to force the settlement of the wage issue by the federal wage board could not be learned. Judge Sibley has several times stated that he could not rule upon the question of the comparative jurisdiction of his court and the wage board until such question came officially before him. Neither could it be learned to what event the federal court is prepared to go, or would go, toward enforcing the wage order handed down by Judge Sibley. It could not be ascertained whether or not the original order placing the road in the hands of a receiver, in which the officers, agents and employees were commanded to obey the orders of the receiver and refrain from preventing his operation of the road, could be construed as an injunction against the men quitting their posts of duty.

Prominent attorneys, however, have given statements to the effect that the jurisdiction of the Atlanta federal court is unquestionably superior to that of the Chicago wage tribunal.

An effort to reach Colonel B. L. Bugg for a statement with reference to the action of the 200 A., B. & A. employees was not successful.

Have Not Accepted.

Evidence that all the employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad have not accepted the wage cut announced by Colonel B. L. Bugg, receiver, was given in a denial sent to the press Wednesday afternoon by J. B. Hogshed, vice grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees.

Mr. Hogshed's statement follows an announcement given out jointly Tuesday night by Receiver Bugg and W. M. Martin, representative of thirteen of the standard railroad unions, who that day conferred with the railroad receiver. This announcement was to the effect that the employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, continuing at work under the wage cut did so only under protest.

In his order handed down Monday, cutting the wages of the 2,000 employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, Judge Sibley announced that the employees would have the right to present their side of the wage question to the court. It has not been stated, however, whether the men will avail themselves of this privilege, or seek to bring before the court the question of which tribunal, the district court or the United States railroad labor board has superior jurisdiction in the wage issue.

In his statement to the press given out Wednesday afternoon, Vice President Hogshed denies that the railway and steamship clerks have accepted the wage cut ordered by the court, under protest, or otherwise, and it is distinctly declared that the question of jurisdiction, as between the federal court of Atlanta and the wage board in Chicago will be brought before the local federal court for a ruling.

Several meetings have been planned by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic employees, and it was stated that an effort will be made to assemble the Atlanta Federation of Railway Employees for a meeting in the near future to consider the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic wage dispute. This body, it will be remembered, shortly after the wage cut was announced by Colonel Bugg, as president of the railroad, held a meeting on the first of the year, at which vigorous protests were made against any cut in wages at this time.

In stating the attitude of the railway and steamship clerks regarding the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic wage reduction, Vice President Hogshed spoke for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic representatives of an organization that has several hundred thousand members, and is looked upon as one of the strongest railway unions, from the standpoint of numbers.

In the statement given out by Mr. Hogshed the charge is made that the employees have been opposed in every way to have the justness of their wage claims established by the board, and the declaration is made that the road induced a debtor, whose debt is not yet due, to bring a petition for receivership.

Hogshed's Statement.

Mr. Hogshed states that the employees have never admitted nor do they at this time admit that the federal court has superior jurisdiction over the United States railroad labor board. They have not accepted the wage cut even under protest, he declares.

"The employees all through this controversy have contended that the scale of wages as established by decision No. 2 of the United States railroad labor board are just and reasonable, and that 'the financial inability of the carrier to meet the expense of operaation' is not sufficient reason, nor can such reason be used in determining what are just and reasonable wages.

"Colonel Bugg admitted at the several conferences, also to the labor board that the rates of pay as fixed by decision No. 2 were just and reasonable and stated the only reason why he desired to reduce the rates of pay was on account of the inability of the carrier to earn sufficient money to continue paying the prevailing rates.

"The labor board sustained our contention in their decision, No. 89, rendered February 21, reading in part as follows: 'In view of the fact that the record clearly shows that no conference has been had between the parties with reference to the justness or reasonableness of the wages fixed by decision No. 2, of this board, the board does not deem it necessary to decide to what extent, if at all, a carrier's financial condition is a factor in the determination of just and reasonable wage[illegible] paid by such carrier.

"'The board further decides that further consideration of this dispute be deferred until it shall be made to appear that the parties have conferred and disagreed on the question of whether present wages are just and reasonable.'

"The employees and their representatives ask only for a square deal. No one can accuse the employees of the railroads for the enactment of the transportation act, 1920, but instead said act was passed over their protest. However, they being law-abiding citizens, agreed to give th eact a fair trial and if not satisfied, they would endeavor to have amended.

Ask for Fairness.

"The act was expressly passed at the request of the railroad managements, and the employees all through this controversy, believing in fairness and justness, have insisted that the railway management comply with their own law. The employees desire and insist that the controversy be handled in accordance with the law on its merits and established precedents, they have, however, been opposed in every conceivable manner by the management, they even going so far as to have a debtor file petition asking that a receiver be appointed because the railway company could not pay a debt that was not yet due.

"After this property had been placed in the hands of the court, the receiver immediately filed petition and recommendations for a reduction in the wages, and the court acted without even giving past precedents very much consideration and did not even notify the employees so that they could come before that court and give their side of the controversy. To say the least, the order of Judge Sibley, ordering Receiver Bugg to put into effect the reduction, is extraordinary, and the employees do not feel that they have been given a square deal and are not going to accept the reduction as final until they have exhausted every available means in their power."

Vote Not to Accept.

Fitzgerald, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—An unexpected turn in the A., B. & A. wage controversy came this afternoon when about 200 employees of the road, at a mass meeting, voted unanimously to authorize a special committee of ten to instruct the joint federation committee, which is now in Atlanta, to insist on immediate action and to accept no wage reduction until the same is ordered by the United States railway labor board.

"We want the joint committee to stand pat on the provisions of the transportation act, and accept no settlement which is not made in accordance with the act," declared one of the special committee after the meeting. "The railway labor opposed the passage of the law, but now that it is passed, we want it enforced in its spirit and to the letter."

The telegram which was sent to W. M. Martin, chairman of the joint committee, follows: "At a meeting of employees, representing all crafts employed by the A., B. & A. Railway company held here today, a committee was appointed to wire the joint federated committee that the employees insist on immediate action in the present wage controversy, and that we do not propose to accept any wage reduction until it is ordered by the United States railway labor board, which was empowered by congress to handle our wage disputes."

The special committee, whose names were signed to the wire to Martin, follow:

A. K. Hall, engineer, chairman; P. C. Collins, conductor, secretary; F. Stubbs, L. Meeks, G. Zorn, I. M. Hayde, T. H. Pigue, P. J. R. Kendricks, R. J. Funderburk.

Big Roads to Cut Pay.

New York, Mrach 2.—Two large trunk line railroads served notice today that they intend to reduce wages paid their unskilled or common labor, and officials of the Association of Railway Executives declared they had do doubt other carriers soon would take similar steps throughout the country.

This action was started today by the New York Central and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroads. Both called representatives of their common labor for conferences on the subject. Should they fail to agree, the matter would be referred to the railroad labor board.

Adjustment to lower levels of the pay of common labor employed by carriers was put up to the individual companies in a letter from the Association of Railway Executives February 22.

to follow may be judged by the long and earnest consideration the allies gave to it.

Briand for Force.

The French premier, M. Briand, favors immediate action an the ground that the Germans are evading the terms of the treaty, while the British and Italians have advised against precipitate movements. After a long conference on the proposed economic and military measures, in which Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Wilson and Italian and Belgian experts participated, a unanimous decision was reached. This conference was held in Downing street, the scene of so many history-making events.

The Germans, who remained in their hotel throughout the day, eagerly scanning the tickers, questioning callers regarding the happenings at St. James' palace and communicating what they could gather to Berlin, were despondent tonight, when their hopes that difference might arise between the allies to lighten their country's burden were dashed by the finding of the conference. One of them remarked:

"Well, perhaps that is the only way out. If Briand yielded, his government would fall; if we yielded our government would fall. Therefore, the only course is for the allies to impose their terms."

Wages of 9,000 Cut.

Newport News, Va., March 2.—The Newport News Ship Building and Dry Dock company today announced a general wage reduction averaging between 12 and 15 per cent., efective March 15. The reduction affects approximately 9,000 workmen and is said by officials to be in proportion to the drop in the cost of living in this city.

MANDATE MATTER LEFT TO HARDING

BY JOHN GLEISSNER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, March 2.—With the arrival here of notes from the council of the league of nations and Great Britain, replying to American protests, it was stated by Norman Davis, under-secretary of state, that the disputes over the Island of Yap and the Mesopotamian oil fields are now matters for the new administration to handle. It appears, therefore, that the present administration has played its last definite card in international affairs.

"We have taken steps to protect the position of the United States government, and the matters are now in a position for the new administration to deal with effectively in any manner it sees fit," said Davis.

President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes, it is known, will uphold the position of the retiring administration in both instances when they take office. There will be no important change in American policy as regards either Yap or Mesopotamia.

Conciliatory Reply.

The reply of the council to the American protest on mandates is concilatory in tone, and is regarded as a virtual recognition of American contentions.

The council, directly or by inference, does these things:

Admits the validity of the American contention that "approval of the United States is essential to the validity of any determination which may be reached" on the award of mandates.

Invites American participation in discussions about the British mandate over Mesopotamia, and agrees not to reach a final decision on it or other mandates until American views are presented.

Disclaims responsibility for giving Japan a mandate over the Island of Yap, and blames the supreme council for the misunderstanding that has arisen.

Declines to Comment.

Davis declined to comment on the British reply to the American note protesting the exclusion of Americans from participating in the exploitation of the oil resources of Mesopotamia. This note was received at the same time as the one from the league. It will be made public later.

The league note informs this government decision already had been reached to postpone consideration of the mandate over Mesopotamia, and others of the same class.

"No conclusions will, therefore, be reached with regard to "A" mandates (former Turkish possessions) until the United States government has had an opportunity to express its views," said the note.

The note went on to explain that the council had expected finally to approve "C" mandates—former German colonies in central Afirca—but that in view of the American expressions, consideration will be deferred until May or June.

Invites Discussion.

"The council invites the United States to take part in the discussions at its forthcoming meeting, it says, "when the final decisions as to 'A' and 'B' mandates, it is hoped, will be taken. A problem so intricate and involved as that of the mandates can hardly be handled by the interchange of formal notes. It can only be satisfactorily solved by personal contact and by direct exchange of opinion."

Harding and Hughes, of course, will decide whether or not to accept this invitation. Speculation arose in some quarters as to whether or not objection might arise to American participation in league deliberations, on the grounds that this might involve a partial entrance to the league.

The council explained it simply acted on information furnished it when it considered Yap, explaining that its function was not to distribute former German colonies in the Pacific and South Africa, but to concern itself with their administration. The American position is that the supreme council, in informing the league that the "principal allied and associated powers" had agreed to award Yap to Japan, misstated the facts. America, it was argued, is one of this group, and did not agree.

Third Type.

"Regarding the third type of mandates, the "C" group of former German possessions in South Africa and the Pacific, the council has not the advantage of the same liberty of action as in the 'A' and 'B' types.," the note explained. The 'C' mandates were defined by the council at its meeting in Geneva on December 17, 1920. The main American objection in this case it is understood from your excellency's note, is to the effect that the island of Yap was included by the council in the mandate given to Japan, whereas your excellency states that the United States has on several occasions refused to agree to the allocation of this island to any one state.

"The league of nations council would remind your excellency that the allocation of all the mandated territories is a function of the supreme council and not of the council of the league. The league is concerned not with the allocation but with the administration of these territories. Having been notified in the name of the allied and associated powers that all the islands north of the equator had been allocated to Japan the council of the league merely fulfilled its responsibility of defininining the terms of the mandate.

"Consequently, if a misunderstanding exists as to the allocation of the island of Yap, that misunderstanding would seem to be between the principal allied powers rather than between the United States and the league. However, in view of the American contention, the council of the league has hastened to forward the American note to the governments of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan."

COMMERCE CONGRESS IN TRADE DISCUSSION

Washington, March 2.—Discussion urging the development of an American merchant marine and the establishment of the best possible trade relations with the Latin-American countries featured today's sessions of the Southern Commercial congress. Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board, spoke during the forenoon meeting and the congress adjourned to the national museum for the afternoon session where a replica of the painting by Szoldatics, of David Lubin, late head and American member of the International Institute of Agriculture, was presented to the department of agriculture.

Admiral Benson told the delegates he favored the Jones shipping act of 1920 as it would enable both the government and private shipping concerns to operate without fear of their driving each other out of business. Matthew Hale, president of the South Atlantic Maritime corporation, and Dr. L. S. Rowe, director of the Pan-American union, also urged bettering of trade conditions with South America.

Woman Speaker.

Madame Olivia R. Agresti delivered to the congress a message in behalf of Edoardo Pantano, president of the International Institute of Agriculture, telling of Lubin's work. The painting was given to the department of agriculture, on the behalf of the congress by its director, Clarence J. Owens. Secretary Meredith accepted the painting for the government.

Other speakers were the Italian ambassador, Vittorio Rolandi Ricci, Secretary of Commerce Alexander, Senators Fletcher, of Floirda, and Phelan, of California, and Representative Kahn, of California.

Delay of the United States senate in ratifying the treaty with Colombia has been "most unfortunate," and in all countries where Spanish is spoken "has cost us friends, confidence and commercial opportunity,' Secretary of State Colby told delegates to the Southern Commercial congress at a dinner tonight in honor of the Latin-American diplomatic corps.

Benefits Competitors.

Failure to act on the treaty, the secretary declared, has worked to the benefit of commercial competitors of the United States by representing Americans as "indifferent to justice," willing to be ruthless, aspiring to physical domination and therefore, to be shunned, cursed and resisted."

Judged by the standard of the United States' commercial standing in South America, he said, the proposed indemnification of Colombia would seem like an "inconsiderable sum."

The secretary scored American business men who employed unscrupulous methods in amassing fortunes during the the war. This class of profiteer, he said, injured American standing in Latin-America by "taking chances, not alone with his money, but with his credit, with his reputation and with his customers' confidence."

Responding to Secretary Colbys' address, Ambassador Aleican, of Brazil, warned against the enactment of legislation which might tend to destroy commerce between America and other countries. America, he declared, is in imminent danger of losing all the advantage gained during the war when European competition was removed.

HOUSING SITUATION DISCUSSED BY MEN OF CHURCH CLUB

The housing situation was discussed and several remedies suggested, at the monthly meeting of the Men's club of the Church of the Holy Comforter Wednesday evening. Bernard Sutler, for 30 years secretary of the building association of Little Rock, Ark., told of the work accomplished by that organization.

The building organization, he said, is owned by the people, and is not permitted to earn more than 12 per cent on its investments. It erects houses for its members, and has been in successful operation in Little Rock for the past 30 years.

City Attorney James L. Mayson suggested a legal remedy, making it unlawful to earn more than a fair interest through rents on the landlord's investment.

Jerome Jones dwelt on the perils of over crowding, particularly regarding disease and standards. He proposed a state or city housing commission to end the evil.

FARMER VICTIM GOES TO IDENTIFY TILLERY

WINCHESTER ARMS TO BE DISTRIBUTED HERE OVER SOUTH

This city will become the southern distributing center for the Winchester Arms company of New Haven, Conn., and a large warehouse has just been opened by that concern at 18 South Butler street to handle shipments to southeastern dealers. The warehouse will be inspected today by John E. Otterson, president of the Winchester Arms company, who is in the city to attend a two-day conference of agents and dealers of his company.

The first session will be held this morning at the Piedmont hotel, and nearly 100 dealers from this state, Florida and Alabama are expected to be present. They represent the Winchester clubs of those states, composed of stockholding hardware dealers. A banquet will be held this evening at the Piedmont hotel, at which Mr. Otterson and F. A. Maycumber, general sales manager, and J. K. Ottley, president of the Fourth National bank, will speak. W. J. E. Stockney, secretary of the National Association of Winchester Clubs, will preside.

"The coming year promises to be a good one for dealers in small and inexpensive articles," said Mr. Otterson, in discussing the business outlook, "while the makers of more expensive goods will be slower to recover. It is an interesting fact that business in firearms and ammunition is often better when other lines of business are quiet. People have more time for outdoor sports."

LIQUOR RUNNERS AND POLICE WAGE LIVELY GUN FIGHT

County police, with the aid of city detectives, were Wednesday searching for three men who were occupants of an automobile that Tuesday afternoon furnished Lieutenant Oliver, of the county police force, an exciting and thrilling chase over and across embankments and ditches while trying to escape arrest and the confiscation of their machine, which is said to have contained several gallons of corn whisky.

Many shots were exchanged with the alleged whisky peddlers by Lieutenant Oliver, the officer shooting at first to break the tires on their car; but when they returned the fire, he directed his aim toward the occupants. The machine was finally abandoned by the trio, who escaped arrest.

COMPETITION PLANNED FOR SEAL OF DECATUR

Beginning with today, the city manager of Decatur, Ga., will hold a competition for a city emblem or city seal, to use on letterheads and city publications. The competition will close March 15, and award will be made by the board of commissioners of Decatur not before March 21. A prize of $10 will be given to the person submitting the design which is accepted for use. All residents of Decatur and vicinity are at liberty to enter the competition.

DR. J. F. NEVILLE DIES OF INJURIES

R. H. Hambrick Placed Under Arrest—Shooting Accidental, According to Victim's Statement.

Dr. J. F. Neville, dentist of Rome, Ga., who was shot in an apartment at 256 North Jackson street Sunday evening, died from his injuries early Wednesday morning at the Grady hospital, where he was taken for treatment.

R. H. Hambrick, a bookkeeper, was arrested by City Detectives Arthur and Whatley, charged with the shooting. He was held at police station under a blanket charge of suspicion pending a further probe into the affair.

It is claimed by the officers that Hambrick does not deny shooting Dr. Neville, but states it was accidental. Dr. Neville is also said to have stated to City Detective L. D. Cody at the Grady hospital Sunday night that he was shot through the accidental discharge of Hambrick's pistol.

Both Dr. Neville and Hambrick were under the influence of whisky at the time, it is said, and Hamrick was playing with his gun. Others who were in the room with Dr. Neville and Hambrick left before the shooting, it is claimed.

C. M. CANDLER ARRIVES FROM FLORIDA TODAY

C. Murphey Candler, chairman of the Georgia railroad commission, who has been on a protracted visit to Florida points, will return to Atlanta and be in his office today. Mr. Candler, who has been ill for several weeks, went to Florida with the hope that his condition would improve. But, according to information given out by Albert Collier, secretary of the railroad commission, there has been but a slight improvement in Mr. Candler's health.

A message received Wednesday by Mr. Collier was to the effect that Chairman Candler left Clearwater, Fla., Wednesday morning, and he is expected to arrive in Atlanta today.

HEARING IS CONTINUED IN KIDNAPING CASE

Hearing on the kidnaping charge against George H. Karr, of 335 Angier avenue, for whom a warrant was sworn out by George N. Davison, of 8½ North Forsyth street, Wednesday was continued until Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Judge L. Z. Rosser, Jr., of the municipal court.

The continuance was granted on motion of Walter Sims, counsel for Karr, who said he had just been employed and had not had an opportunity to get together all the witnesses for the defense.

Attorney Sims told the court that the whole case was framed and that the hearing would completely vindicate Karr. He said that Davison, in charging Karr with kidnaping Elaine Davison, his daughter, was endeavoring to blackmail him.

GOODS IN STORE ON PEACHTREE ST. DAMAGED BY FIRE

The stock of goods and fixtures in the store of the U-Save-It company, at 823 Peachtree street, amounting to approximately $10,000, were damaged by fire of unknown origin about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The blaze is believed to have started in the lunch stand conducted by a negro in the basement of the building. It had gained considerable headway when noticed.

The damage to the building, which is owned by W. H. Griffin, was very slight. All loss is said to be covered by insurance.

The melting of a sprinkler plug in the oven of the Atlanta Baking company, 32 Bailey street, was the cause for the fire department being summoned about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. No damage was done.

Small roof damage was done by fire Wednesday to the residence of Charles Schultz, 150 Jett street, which was said to have been caused by sparks from a chimney.

Bank Is Robbed.

Wiggins, Miss., March 2.—The Bank of Wiggins was robbed of $3,000 in cash and $4,500 in liberty bonds by two masked men today. Cashier M. E. Cooper was locked in the vault.

Rub Backache Away

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—(adv.)

CORK LORD MAYOR WILL SPEAK HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who reached this country as a stowaway aboard ship, will speak in this city Saturday night. He will hold a public reception at the Imperial hotel Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock, and will be the guest of the Atlanta branch of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic at a banquet at the Imperial hotel Saturday evening. He will speak at 7:30 o'clock at the auditorium of the Kimball House.

DONAL O'CALLAGHAN,
Lord Mayor of Cork, who speaks here Saturday night.

Lord Mayor O'Callaghan has attracted great crowds on his tour of this country, and has frequently presented his claim that the world has been deceived regarding Irish conditions by the propaganda of the English government.

He came to this country at the request of the Committee of One Hundred, named to investigate Irish conditions, and he testified before the committee at Washington, D. C. He had to smuggle himself into the country, and the question of his right to remain is now pending before the state department. He was accompanied by the brother of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, who died of hunger strike in Brixton prison.

Thousands of Tags Issued Wednesday To Owners of Cars

With a long string of applicnts still stnding in line Wednesday awaiting their turns to purchase automobile license tags, the rush of business at the office of Secretary of State S. Guyt McLendon, continued unabated.

The office force, however, seemed to have the situation well in hand, and the total number of licenses issued up to date has been raised to about 78,000. This includes the tags issued to applicants who appeared in person, and those who sent checks and money orders with applications from other parts of the state. With the close of Wednesday's business it is expected that the big rush will gradually diminish.

The fact that the secretary of state gave it out that there would positively be no extension of the time allowance on automobile tags caused perhaps the biggest rush that has ever been experienced by the office of the secretary of state since the enactment of the automobile law.

LEGIONNAIRES TO HOLD DINNER NEXT FRIDAY

The regular weekly luncheon of the American Legion will be held Friday at Peacock's cafe, from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock. The ladies of the woman's auxiliary are requested to attend.

WEDDING GUESTS EXTINGUISH FIRE BEFORE CEREMONY

Guests extinguished a fire at the Ingleside Presbyterian church Tuesday night half an hour before the wedding for which they had assembled was to take place. Sparks from a stove ignited the roof, and the guests first discovered the fire when dense smoke poured into the church. Quick work by the men present put out the flames before the Decatur fire department arrived at the scene, and when the bridal party reached the church there was no sign of the fire, which might have prevented the marriage.

The guests had assembled for the wedding of Miss Corinne Hunt and Willard Parr. Miss Hunt is a member of a well-known family of DeKalb county, and Mr. Parr's home is in this city. Rev. J. W. Allen, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Stockholders to Meet.

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the stockholders of both the Central of Georgia Railway company and of the Ocean Steamship company are scheduled for Saturday in Savannah, the railroad stockholders to meet at noon and the steamship stockholders to meet at 1 o'clock. C. H. Markham, chairman of the board of directors, and Chas. A. Peabody, one of the directors, will be present at the meetings.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

Medical scientists differ as to the causes of every form of rheumatism, but agree that when caused by a tiny disease germ, the only effective method of treatment is to attack the disease at its source, and cleanse the blood of its cause.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier, is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 826 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic Coughs and Persistent Colds Lead to Serious Lung Trouble. You Can Stop Them Now With Creomulsion, an Emulsified Creosote That Is Pleasant to Take.

A New Medical Discovery With Twofold Action. Soothes and Heals the Inflamed Surface and Kills the Germ. Endorsed by Highest Authorities.

Money Refunded if Any Cough or Cold, No Matter of How Long Standing, Is Not Relieved After Taking According to Directions.

FINE FOR BUILDING UP THE SYSTEM AFTER COLDS OR THE FLU.

Of all known drugs, Creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Increases appetite and body-weight. Ask your druggist.—(adv.)

CALOMEL LOSING OUT IN SOUTH

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it." Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.—(adv.)

REVOLT ON SOVIET FAILS, IS REPORT

British Officials Hear That Serious Conditions Prevail in Russia—Fierce Fighting Reported.

Stockholm, March 2.—The Russian soviet authorities have quelled the revolt in Petrograd after bringing troops from the front, according to a special dispatch from Helsingfors.

British Report.

London, March 2.—Reports received in official British circles today confirm dispatches telling of an anti-soviet rising in Russia. They state that the situation in Russia is serious. The latest official news received, however, did not indicate that the soviet government had lost control.

Reports from Russia received this morning in Helsingfors, Finland, by way of Reval, Esthonia, disclose a situation "which may result shortly in the complete overthrow of soviet rule," says the Central News' Helsingfors correspondent. Fighting is proceeding in many parts of Russia, with Petrograd and Moscow as the centers of the revolutionary movement, the reports add.

The fighting in Petrograd is of gigantic proportions, according to the reports, for 300,000 strikers are declared to be arrayed against the soviet troops, whose exact number it is impossible to estimate.

"It is reliably reported," the dispatch says, "that very many have been killed or wounded on both sides in street fighting and there has been considerable property damage. The naval garrison at Kronstadt has joined the rebels."

Revolution Denied.

London, March 2.—The Russian trade delegation here announced today that it was communicating direct with Moscow and that it was authorized to deny the rumors of a revolution in Russia. These, it was declared, were absolutely false and were "started for political purposes or in the interest of stock exchanges."

FLAYING CRITICS, WILLIAMS RESIGNS

curing for me a hearing before the senate or the public." He added that "if there was a will to make it ,the nerve was lacking."

The retiring comptroller told the president that his resignation "under the circumstances and before expiration of the time I might have occupied this office under my present tenure, and pending action by the senate on my nomination," required him to present "this very brief compilation of the facts and of the reasons for my action."

The president, in replying, said he had read the letter "with the greatest sympathy."

Returns to Richmond.

Mr. Williams is returning to his home in Richmond to become chairman of the board of directors of the Richmond Trust company. He was appointed comptroller of the currency by President Wilson in January, 1914, after serving nearly a year as an assistant secretary of the treasury, and was renominated in successive sessions of the senate in January, 1919, June, 1919, December, 1919, and again in December, 1920, but action on these nominations never was had. Between some of the sessions he was continued in office by recess appointment.

The retiring comptroller first came prominently before the country in 1915, when the Riggs National bank, of Washington, D. C., sought temporary and permanent injunctions to prevent him from making what the bank charged were unlawful demands for special reports of various kinds. The bank alleged that Mr. Williams and then Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo had combined and conspired to wreck the bank.

Since that time Mr. Williams has been engaged in a number of controversies with various banks and individuals, including New York banks, which he accused of charging usurious rates of interest, the New York stock exchange, and Representative McFadden, of Pennsylvania, who unsuccessfully sought to obtain an injunction in Pennsylvania restraining the comptroller from making persistent demands on the First National Bank of Canton for statements on its condition.

Urged Reduction.

In the last few days of his term of office Mr. Williams took exception to a statement by Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, that the corporation had always adopted a reasonable attitude toward prices and costs and urged the reduction of steel prices in the interest of general business in the country. Judge Gary is understood to have replied to Mr. Williams' letter, but it has not yet been made public.

Thomas P. Kane, first deputy comptroller of the currency, will act as comptroller until Mr. Williams' successor has been appointed by President Harding.

Mr. Williams' term of office would have ended automatically with the close of the Wilson administration Friday.

Entire Country Mourns Death Of Champ Clark

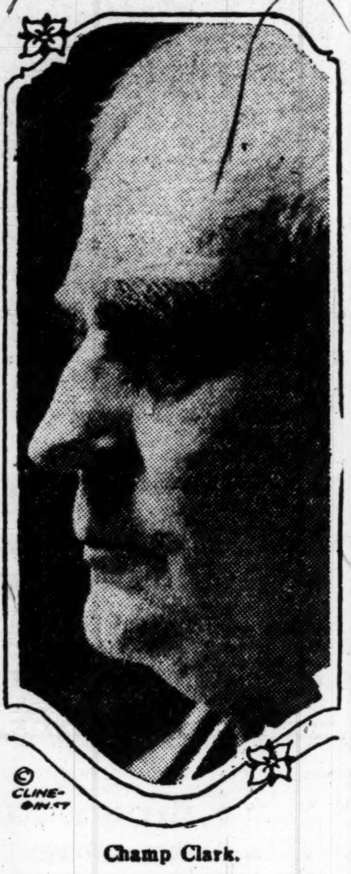
BY ROBERT J. BENDER.

United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, March 2.—Death has reached out and claimed Champ Clark, veteran democratic leader and idol of congress, on the eve of his own and his party's passing from power.

Several days ago William F. McCombs died after a long illness in New York.

President Wilson, now broken by a stroke which brought the shadow of death to his bedside for many days, remains the only one of these three men, who stood in bold relief eight years ago as the striking figures in the birth of a "new democracy."



Champ Clark.

Clark, who succumbed Wednesday afternoon after a futile struggle with a complication of ills for sixteen days, was spared the bitterness, in a life unique for its political blessings and adversities, of attending the ceremonies marking the end of an administration which eight and one-half years ago it seemed likely he himself would lead.

Passing of Idol.

His death not only marks the passing of one of the most picturesque and best loved figures in congress, but it strikingly adds to the misfortunes which have befallen those who in 1912 re-established the democratic party in power.

"Billy" McCombs, who "made Woodrow Wilson," came out of the Baltimore convention with a political luster that shone into every nook and cranny of democracy. He died last week, bitterly disappointed and after long-broken health, resulting indirectly from political adversity.

Champ Clark, leading opponent of Wilson at the Baltimore convention, came out of that historic political arena with all the glory of a man who had made a great fight and lost. He continued one of the most popular men in congress and picturesque politicians in American history.

To his last conscious moments, the former speaker's mind was engrossed with memories of his long legislative career. Just before he lapsed into final unconsciousness early today those at his bedside heard him whisper "the question is on the adoption of the conference report."

Presided Over House.

Mr. Clark presided over the house throughout the world war, relinquishing the speakership after eight years when the republicans gained control last year as a result of their victory in the 1918 congressional elections. He then was chosen as democratic leader in the house.

During the present session it was apparent that the former speaker's health was failing. He walked slowly with a dragging step. While he usually was on the floor and followed proceedings closely, he rarely engaged in debate. On one or two occasions, however, he spoke at some length on important questions.

Close friends believe his death was hastened by the death a year ago of his only grand-child, Champ Clark Thomson, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thomson, of New Orleans. He was passionately fond of his grandson and associates say that after the child's death they noticed a perceptible change in his condition, which in the spring of 1920 alarmed his family.

Regained Vigor.

During the summer and fall, however, he regained vigor and took an active part in his campaign for re-election in Missouri. Although he ran ahead of his ticket, Mr. Clark was defeated by approximately 3,000 votes, Judge T. W. Hukriede, of Warrenton, Missouri, being elected.

Both houses of congress Saturday will pay respect to the dead leader in a manner which has been duplicated only a few times in the history of the nation's lawmaking body. Tentative arrangements for the funeral provide for services at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning in the house chamber. Before the services the body will lie in state in the halls in which Mr. Clark fought for the right as he saw it. Not since 1914, when services were held for the late Sereno E. Payne, for more than thirty years a representative from New York, has the house chamber been used for such a purpose.

Immedidately after the funeral services a special funeral train bearing the body, members of the Clark family, the sergeant-at-arms of the senate and the house, and the special house and senate committees named to attend the final services, will start on its way to the home state of the former speaker. Arriving in St. Louis about 4 p. m. Sunday, the body will be taken to a place yet to be designated and there lie in state. The next morning the last lap of the long and final journey to Bowling Green will be made, and in the midst of home scenes and surrounded by those he so long represented, Champ Clark will be laid to rest.

Individual Tributes.

Individual tributes to the memory of Mr. Clark quickly followed announcement of his death. Republicans as well as his own party members joined in paying respect to him and Wednesday night a table at the hotel where he lived was covered with telegrams of sympathy to the family.

The former speaker first was sent to congress in 1892 and after serving one term he was defeated for re-election. Two years later, however, he was again returned to congress and had served continuously since that time. He soon became a national figure and was chosen speaker when the democrats gained control of the house during the last year of President Taft's administration.

Clark died as he had hoped to, a member of the lower branch of congress. And, as if still conducting the procedure of the house as had been his wont for so many years, he indicated, when he realized he was going to die, that he wished his colleagues to continue in session instead of adjourning in accordance with long custom at the death of a member. This wish, when communicated by his son, Bennett Clark, after death had been announced, was complied with, though the house stunned and grieved, recessed for 30 minutes in tribute to the former speaker.

Immediately afterward a speed record was established when the house passed a resolution awarding a $7,500 annual payment from the government to Mrs. Clark. The haste in this action was necessary because such bills have to be passed two days before the adjournment of a session.

Clark, who would have been 71 years old next Monday, had planned to return to his home in Bowling Green, Missouri, for a rest after March 4, following which he was going on a lecture tour.

HARDING EXPRESSES DEEPEST REGRET.

Marion, Ohio, March 2.—Deep regreat at the death of Champ Clark was expressed by President-elect Harding tonight on the eve of his departure for Washington. The two men had been friends for many years, having been associated together both in affairs at Washington and in their rounds of the chautauqua circuits.

Their last meeting was in New Orleans, November 18, last, when both were guests at a chamber of commerce luncheon just preceding Mr. Harding's departure for Panama. They talked of election results, the president-elect speaking regretfully of Mr. Clark's defeat for re-election, and assuring him if he desired to remain in public service a place would be found for him under the new republican administration.

As soon as word of the veteran democratic leader's death reached Marion today, Mr. Harding sent this telegram to Mrs. Clark at Washington:

"I am deeply grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Clark. I deeply respected his marked ability and his splendid public service, and had come to hold him in very affectionate personal regard. I know that all who knew him will join me in wishing that your sorrow may be tempered in the consciousness of the country grieving with you."

OUTRAGE LAID TO MOONSHINERS IN ALABAMA PROBE

Huntsville, Ala., March 2.—That moonshiners and not the "farm tenants" are responsible for the night riding outrages committed on several Jackson county citizens during the last two weeks is the conviction of Deputy United States Marshal John A. Hackworth, who has just conducted an investigation in Jackson county, to determine what federal officials can do to check the night riders.

According to Mr. Hackworth, some of the outrages apparently have been committed against government witnesses. If this can be proved, he says, the government may take a hand in suppressing the night riders.

FRANCO-TURKISH PEACE ASSURED

London, March 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Peace will be signed, probably tomorrow, but at any rate before the week-end, between France and the Turkish nationalists, it was learned here today. The signing will take place in Paris.

Instructions already have been telegraphed by the delegates here of the Angora government of Mustapha Kemal Pasha, and by the French government for the cessation of hostilities.

The terms of the treaty are not as yet known, but an important point is French evacuation of Cilicia, Asia Minor (the Adana district).

The Turkish delegations, both of the Angora and Constantinople government, have received instructions to accept the allied proposal for a commission to investigate the population claims of the Greeks and the Turks in the Smyrna district and in Thrace.

COLOSSAL WASTE CHARGE OF G. O. P.'S

Democratic Committeemen Declare Majority Report on War Finances Based on Partisanship.

Washington, March 2.—In a 50,000-word report submitted today to the house, Chairman Graham, of the subcommittee on war investigation, gave a detailed review of testimony relating to war department expenditures for ordnance and supplies.

Democratic members filed a minority report, dissenting from the republican views. Most of the findings have been previously published or discussed in house debate.

"Facts reported and recorded in the evidence speak for themselves," said the Graham report, "and, in the main, have not been denied or disputed by the gloss of rhetoric and a profusion of words intended to cover up the administration of the business affairs of the war department. Records of this administration will be most enduring for a half century at least, during which time the people will be compelled to work and save and pay the debts of the government, much of which was incurred through colossal waste and inefficiency.

National Resources Wasted.

"The American soldiers fought nobly and well, and while they fought, negligence and inefficiency at home wasted the national resources and fattened the profiteer."

Representative Garrett, Tennessee, in a minority report, declared the majority report, like others that had preceded it, was predicated entirely upon "the determination to criticise and find fault with practically all that was accomplished by the war department of the government in the greatest trial of its history."

Garrett's Statement.

Declaring that individuals had been attacked without warrant and their characters aspersed, Mr. Garrett added:

"All testimony which has been given in disproof of the evidence that the majority have chosen to use, has been not only disregarded, but deliberately thrown aside, and throughout the whole of the report dealing with all classes and kinds of subjects there runs the same thread of sinister sugestions which have marked both formal reports of the committee and speeches of members on the floor."

Moultrie People Firm in Battle On Phone Rates

Moultrie, Ga., March 2.—(Special.) The situation growing out of the refusal by a large number of people to pay the increase in rate put into effect in Moultrie Tuesday by the Consolidated Telephone & Telegraph company has overshadowed everything else in the public mind here.

Apparently both sides of the controversy are holding firm in the position they have taken. The collective order to the telephone company asking cancellation of service was presented at the manager's office today. It contained 275 names, included among which were the names of a large number of business houses, such as drug stores, grocery stores, meat markets, dairies, department stores, etc. Several physicians signed the paper also.

Committees at Work.

In the meantime committees are continuing their work in the hope of enlisting others to take out their telephones rather than pay the increase in rates. All told, there are something like six hundred residence phones and two hundred business phones in the city of Moultrie. A large number of the subscribers living on farm lines have joined in the fight also and similar petitions are being circulated in other towns served by the Consolidated Telephone and Telegraph company.

The telephone company has men on the job taking out telephones. It is understood, however, that this action is being taken only on request from individual subscribers. It was stated that the collective order calling for the cancellation of service would not be heeded. The telephone company is taking the position that it was up to individual subscribers who wanted their service discontinued to so notify the company.

Thousands Are Nervous Wrecks

Cross, Crabbed and Care-worn

From Weak, Thin Watery Blood

without ever suspecting the real cause of their trouble—Iron-starvation.

A New York Physician says that MORE THAN ONE-HALF THE POPULATION OF AMERICA PERISHES BEFORE MIDDLE AGE, and that one of the chief contributary causes of this terrible waste of human life is the devitalizing weakness brought on by lack of iron in the blood.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nerves; headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., when the real cause of all their suffering is IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD.

The proof of this is shown by the fact that when organic iron is supplied to their blood that all their multitude of symptoms often quickly disappear and the very men and women who were formerly so complaining now become strong, healthy and vigorous, with even dispositions and a sunny, cheerful nature.

Nature put plenty of iron in the husks of grains and the skin and peels of vegetables and fruits to enrich your blood, but modern methods of cookery throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase, in recent years, in anaemia—iron starvation of the blood, with all its attendant ills.

If you are not willing to go back to nature then you should eat more such iron-containing vegetables as spinach and carrots and reinforce them by taking a little organic iron from time to time. But be sure the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron, and is, therefore, an entirely different thing from organic iron. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. It may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly condensed form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It's like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your wornout, exhausted nerves. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. At all druggists.

WAGE REDUCTIONS PAST LABOR BOARD

Railways Can Brave Strikers If Public Is Behind Them—Erie Ruling Expected This Week.

BY ALEXANDER R. JONES,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, March 2.—Should the wages of unskilled railroad labor be cut?

The question is asked because the answer is up to the public.

The railroads can cut current wages if they so desire—and if they believe the public is back of them, and are willing to brave possible strikes.

They can do it with, or without, permission of the United States labor board, as, it is expected, will be graphically illustrated within the week, when the board is expected to announce a decision in the Erie railroad case.

The board yesterday resumed hearings on the rules controversy after a two weeks' recess.

The Erie road cut the wages of its maintenance of way employees to 30 cents an hour and, in addition withheld one day's pay each week.

Appealed to Board.

The employees appealed to the board, and that body declared that it held the Erie in violation of decision No. 2—which was the big wage boost last July. It also ordered the Erie to put wages back where they were and to appear to show why the railroad should not be held in violation of the board's order.

The Erie representatives appeared and declared that they did not understand the board's decision to mean that the former wage scales were to be restored—and walked out.

There it is.

The board can do one thing. It can make another decision under section 313 of the transportation act, and this it will do this week.

Section 313 has no teeth. There is no penalty attached to violation of an order of the railroad board.

This section reads: "The labor board, in case it has reason to believe that any decision of the labor board or of an adjustment board is violated by any carrier, or employee or subordinate official, or organization thereof, may upon its own motion after due notice and hearing to all persons directly interested in such violation, determine whether in its opinion such violation has occurred and make public its decision in such manner as it may determine."

No Place to Go.

The board, as was declared by one member Tuesday, is "all dressed up and no place to go."

The fact that its decisions, since it was formed, have been in most cases religiously observed, is a credit to both the railroads and the employees. It was declared, and shows a sincere desire to avoid strikes on both sides.

Now the Erie has thrown down the gauntlet, followed by the defunct Missouri and North Arkansas railroad. The M. & N. A. cut its employees' wages, but the board, for "an involved reason," as a board member said, did not order the wages brought back to the standard of the July wage boost. Now the employees are on strike and the system is closed. In the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic case, the board voided the proposal to cut wages before it was put into effect. The road observed the order and is now in the hands of the receiver.

Erie Case Significant.

The Erie case is of special significance because it is the first big carrier to start the wage cutting proposition. It is not arguing "inability to pay" or holding conference with employees on whether wages are "just and reasonable," as the transportation act directs.

"The Erie decision will be of great public interest," it was stated at the board offices.

One of the big reasons that railroads have not arbitrarily cut wages is that important railroad legislation will be forthcoming in the next session of congress, when Senator Cummins intends to introduce a bill calling for the consolidation of all railroads under from 14 to 18 systems.

AMERICAN LABOR SLATED TO BREAK WITH WORLD UNION

Washington, March 2.—Severance of all relationship with the International Federation of Trade unions was practically decided on today by the American Federation of Labor's executive council, but final action on the matter was withheld until tomorrow.

The declaration of the American Federation on the proposed separation as considerad by the executive council is understood to assert that American labor cannot remain affiliated with the European organization because of its "revolutionary activities" and because it had failed "to recognize the national autonomy of each trade union center." The system of dues of the international also is declared to place an excessive burden upon the American Federation.

The council in its discussions today is understood to have agreed that the federation cannot be brought under the domination of an organization that advocates the use of "revolutionary violence."

U. S. Loan to Seaboard.

Washington, March 2.—The interstate commerce commission announced today that it had authorized a government loan of $1,173,500 to the Seaboard Air Line railway to enable the road to meet maturing indebtedness.

Long Grand Opera Line Waits Night For Sale Opening

Negroes Reap Harvest by Keeping Places for Guarantors of Season.

Midnight Wednesday found a line of at least three-score people waiting for the opening of the guarantors' sale of season tickets to the 1921 season of Metropolitan grand opera, a line that had been forming since noon Tuesday, almost twenty-four hours before the commencement of the sale at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

The people came steadily, adding themselves to the line one by one until the time for opening the sale. Those in the line were not guarantors, but were mostly negroes who had been employed by the guarantors to come down just before 9 o'clock Thursday and take their places in line, so as to abide by the rule, "first come, first served."

Those in charge said that the real rush would begin at about 4 o'clock Thursday morning and that the line by daylight would be an extensive affair.

The large response of guarantors this year, who oversubscribed the $110,000 fund necessary to assurance of opera here in April, within the first week the books were opened and the large number of orders which have already been received by the Atlanta Music Festival association officers for tickets from out-of-town patrons of the season, indicate that this year will see a record attendance on the seven operas of the series which begins with Ummerto Giordano's "Andrea Chenier" the night of April 25.

Posts for Overseas Commanders Refused By House Wednesday

Washington, March 2.—The house refused today to agree to the senate amendment to the army appropriation bill providing for the creation of the grade of lieutenant general and the appointment of two overseas commanders to the places provided. It had been planned to name to the grades Major Generals Liggett and Bullard, who commanded army corps overseas during the world war.

SHIP BOARD EXTENDS WORKING AGREEMENT

Washington, March 2.—Extension of the present working agreement between the shipping board and all longshoremen employees on its vessels until October 1, was announced today by Chairman Benson, of the board.

The working agreement for a wage of 80 cents an hour between the board and the longshoremen expired last October, the chairman said, but a new agreement was negotiated with representatives of the longeshoremen to continue in effect the same wages, hours and working conditions for another year. This agreement has just been ratified.

NEGRO LEADER PASSES AT CUTHBERT TUESDAY

Cuthbert, Ga., March 2.—(Special.) Rev. S. B. Roseborough, presiding elder of the Albany district of the A. M. E. church, died here Tuesday night at the age of 72. He was known as a wise and conservative leader of both his race, and had the respect of both white and colored people. For the greater part of his life he lived in the southern and eastern sections of Georgia.

He had been a pastor and served as presiding elder from Rome, Ga., to Savannah, and at Columbus. He held that his race was best off when they were making the most of their circumstances at their doors. He leaves a large family of children. Bishop J. S. Flipper and President J. H. Lewis, of Morris Brown college; Bishop William B. Johnson and others will conduct the funeral services at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

HIGHWAY MEN INVITED TO OPENING OF ROAD

Griffin, Ga., March 2.—(Special.) Invitations to celebrations at the formal opening of the concrete road through Spalding county, on Tuesday, March 8, have been sent to Dixie highway and state highway department officials. The invitations were sent by the Griffin and Spalding county board of trade at the instance of the commissioners of Spalding county.

Guests will be driven over the highway, to the county rock quarry, and to the scene of construction work now being done on the Jackson-Newnan road. They will afterward be entertained at a special luncheon to be served at the Griffin hotel.

GRAYSON TO CONTINUE AS WILSON PHYSICIAN

Washington, March 2.—Arrangements were understood today to have been made whereby Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson will continue as physician to President Wilson. Dr. Grayson's intimate and expert knowledge of Mr. Wilson's ailment, it was said, made it advisable to continue his services that his work of the naval dispensary here, to which he was recently assigned, will not interfere with such an arrangement.

CAMPAIGN DEFICIT PROBLEM OF G. O. P.'S

Thursday Meeting Will Also Consider Reorganization of Party in South.

Washington, March 2.—How to raise $1,500,000. This is the big question before the Thursday meeting of the republican national committee here. It takes precedence over the question of an eventual successor to Will Hays as chairman and to the reorganization of the republican party of the south.

The fact is that an intensive campaign recently started to wipe out the $1,600,000 deficit standing on the national committee's books after the election, netted only $100,000. What with the slump in business, payments due on income taxes and decline in prices of commodities and stocks, men who had been counted on to help raise the money were unable to help as expected.

Money borrowed from banks on notes is coming due. Chairman Hays is anxious to relieve President-Elect Harding of any embarrassment that might come from indefinite prolongation of the deficit. Within sixty days from Thursday's meeting there will be another meeting of the national committee. Hays wishes to be relieved of the chairmanship on or before the occasion of that next meeting. Before he gets out he wishes to wipe out the existing deficit. Hence the importance of this meeting of the national committee, which will be attended by almost every national committeeman.

ASK REALIGNMENT OF G. O. P. DELEGATES

White Wing Seeks to Secure Increased Representation for Stronger Districts.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Washington, March 2.—The Slemp subcommittee of the republican national committee, charged with reorganizing convention representation from the southern states, gave formal hearing this afternoon to the representatives of the white wing of the party in Georgia. Among those who appeared were Joseph Tilson, of Atlanta; Charles Adamson, of Cedartown; Jack Spence, of Cave Springs; D. C. Cole, of Marietta; Clark Greer, of Augusta, and Harry Stillwell Edwards, of Macon.

This delegation contended the convention representation should be based upon the last republican vote by congressional districts, giving to the seventh and ninth, for instance, two deleagtes; from the state-at-large two, and from other districts one vote each. For the remainder of the districts no vote would be given, by reason of the negligible republican strength shown in the last election.

This proposition will be fought by the Henry Lincoln Johnson or the black and tan wing of the party as it eliminates non-voting negroes from controlling the state delegation to the national convention through church-basement mass meetings.

The Slemp subcommittee will report progress at the meeting of the full national republican committee tomorrow but it will not at tomorrow's meeting determine definitely upon a plan as proposed by the resolution creating it at the Chicago convention. The subsommittee, by provisions of that resolution, has a year to make a definite program. In the meantime, the question of republican primaries in the south is being given serious consideration by the sub-committee.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENING EXERCISES ON MONDAY

Amricus, Ga., March 2.—(Special.) Formal exercises for the opening of the Union High school building, located halfway betwen Leslie and DeSoto, and which was occupied for the first time Monday, will be held by its patrons March 7, when the first of the liceum numbers to be produced in the auditorium, will be heard. The auditorium of the school has a seating capacity of 1,000. The building itself is provided with ample classrooms, steam-heated throughout.

Schools formerly located at Huntington, DeSoto, Cobb, Johnson and Leslie are housed in the building. Included in the school equipment is a grand piano, which cost $1,100. The home of the principal, situated nearby, is heated with steam by the same system which supplies warmth to the school building.

Highway Contract Given.

Anniston, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—A contract to gravel a 20-mile stretch of the Louisiana state highway on each side of Lake Providence, has been awarded to the Nixon Transfer company, of Anniston. Equipment, men, teams and supplies are being shipped this week to Louisiana. A. D. Blakemore, of Anniston, will be in charge of the work. Included in the contract are three city blocks in the town of Lake Providence.

Old Cotton Cases Of Reconstruction Days Are Settled

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The famous old cotton cases—involving a settlement by the government for claims on cotton seized in Savannah immediately after the civil war, and pending in the courts for nearly forty years—have been wound up. Evan B. Basch, surviving co-receiver of the Importing and Exporting company, filed his final report yesterday afternoon.

He has handled all the funds paid by the government to the company for the claims made in the famous cases of M. L. Solomons et al. vs. the Importing and Exporting company: "t all." embraced scores of parties here and scattered over the state and the south. Hundreds of thousands of dollars was involved. The superior court allowed yesterday legal fees for the receiver and the attorneys in the case.

Savannah Jitneys Impede Extension Of Street Car Lines

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—That the increasing number of "jitneys" are preventing extension of street car lines here, as is effected in many other cities, is the statement of the receiver of the Savannah Electric company, who today indicated that the request for an extension of the lines of the road to the Savannah Tri-State exposition grounds may not be granted for some time to come. Jitneys have multiplied steadily along the most-traveled short lines of the city street car system.

SAVANNAH IMPORTS PEANUTS FROM CHINA

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—A whole shipload of extra large peanuts arrived last night in the port of Savannah from China, consigned to the Southern Cotton Oil company. They will be pressed here for oil and for transformation into the other peanut products.

WATSON GOES TO TAKE OATH AS SENATOR

Augusta, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Senator-elect Thomas E. Watson passed through the city Wednesday on his way to Washington to take the oath of office as senator from this state.

"I expect to return to Georgia in a week or ten days to perfect plans for my stay in Washington," Mr. Watson stated.

Mr. Watson looked the picture of health. Those accompanying him to Washington are Miss Georgia Lee, granddaughter of Mr. Watson; Dr. George H. Slappy, of Fort Valley; Grover Edmonson Thomson, O. M. Howard, of Fort Valley, and Justice Reese Thomson. John I. Kelly, who will be Mr. Watson's private secretary, has gone ahead of the party.

NEGRGO CONVICT DIES FROM BURNS ON FARM

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—John Williams, a colored convict serving a term of sixty days on the county farm, was fatally burned yesterday, after his clothing had caught fire as he sat sleeping on a fence. He died last night, and was buried this morning.

Williams is said to have perched himself on a fence while the others were at work, and remarked that he could serve the county as a scarecrow. He afterwars steadied himself on a corner of the fence and fell asleep. The fence caught ablaze from a fire burning nearby, and the sleeping negro's clothing was soon in flames. He was so badly burned that he died in spite of all that could be done for him by the county medical men.

MOLDERS IN ANNISTON RETURN TO WORK

Anniston, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—Union molders of Anniston, who have been out of work since before the holidays, due to the closing down of pipe plants, have announced through Martin Gwin, president of the union, that they will enter into an agreement with the companies to return to work at a scale that will net them $4.67 1-2 cents a day. The molders say they are offered $4.12 1-2 cents by some of the companies that plan resuming operations.

Highway Men Entertained.

Anniston, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—Fifteen officials and boosters of the Florida short route highway, will spend Friday in Anniston as guests of the Anniston chamber of commerce. The highway boosters are making an inspection trip over the new short route to Florida, headed by R. Kyle, of Columbus, Ga. In the party are leading business men from several towns along the route.

D. P. HILLYER, MACON BANKING LEADER, DEAD

After Six Weeks' Illness, Death Claims President Bibb National Bank.

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Dewellyn P. Hillyer, presdent of the Bibb National bank, and Shakesperean reader, died at the Middle Georgia sanatorium at 8 o'clock tonight, of gallstone, after an illness of six weeks.

Mr. Hillyer had been prominent in banking affairs of Georgia for many years. He was a native Georgian, and gained his first experience in banking with the Merchants' National bank, operated by R. F. Lawton & Co., in this city. Previous to that time, while still a boy, he engaged in the printing business and learned the printing trade. It was while so employed that he took up the study of Shakespeare.

In 1891, Mr. Hillyer oragnized the American National bank, and was cashier of that bank until 1908, when he became vice president. He held that position until the Citizens' and Southern bank purchased the American National in 1916.

In October, 1916, Mr. Hillyer organized the Bibb National bank, which was opened in January, 1917. He was president of the Bibb bank from the time of its organization.

Organizer of State Body.

Mr. Hillyer was one of the original organizers of the Georgia Bankers' association, and had served as secretary, and later as president, of that body. He had also represented the Georgia Bankers' association at the annual meetings of the American Bankers' association. Mr. Hillyer's wife was Miss Lela Hansell, and from the marriage two sons are still living—Hansell Hillyer, the western representative of Potter Brothers, bankers of New York, with headquarters in Chicago, and L. P. Hillyer, Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Judge Julius P. Hillyer, of Rome, is a brother, and Judge George S. Hillyer, formerly a member of the railroad commission of Georgia, is a relative.

Mr. Hillyer would have been 59 years of age had he lived six more days. He was the son of a Baptist minister, and himself was a member of the First Baptist church of this city.

Arrangements for the funeral of Mr. Hillyer had not been completed tonight.

Mr. Hillyer was one of the best-known bankers in the south. At one time he was a director of the Federal Reserve bank in Atlanta.

PHILLIPS TO BEGIN MANSLAUGHTER TERM

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—John Q. Phillips, who recently was convicted of the killing of Walter D. Fent, prominent secret order man and foreman of the Georgia, Southern and Florida railway shops in Macon, left today for the state farm to begin serving his sentence of not more than eight or less than seven years. He made the trip to the farm alone.

Phillips was tried three times, the first time getting a life sentence. Later he got a new trial. His second trial resulted in a mistrial. At the third trial the jury found him guilty of voluntary manslaughter. He claimed he killed Fent to protect Mrs. Phillips from being struck with a hammer.

Postmaster Raps Aspirants to Office With New Regime

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Postmaster Custis Nottingham, of Macon, today issued a statement in which he said that petitions and prognostications regarding the local postmastership are a bit premature, inasmuch as his term of office does not expire until February 5, 1922.

The statement was drawn out by a report that J. A. Monsees, a lawyer, is circulating a petition for indorsements for postmaster and also reports that Harry Stillwell Edwards is slated for the office under the Harding administration.

"My commission does not expire until February 5, 1922," said Mr. Nottingham, "and under the present civil service rules a postmaster performing satisfactory service is reappointed, so, as yet, there is no vacancy in the office. Should a vacancy occur, it will be filled by a civil service examination and not by circulation of a petition.

"Should our president revoke that rule there is no doubt but that he would appoint a real republican, rather than one whose sole claim is one recent vote for the party, followed the next day by a petition for reward prematurely and industriously circulated by him.

"The only effect of a name signed upon a petition is to create the impression that the signer is dissatisfied with my services and desires a change"

Freight Rates Reduced.

WATER POWER MEET PLANNED IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The water power convention for the First congressional district will be held in Savannah March 8, Tuesday of next week. John W. Greer, secretary of the Georgia Municipal league, is in Savannah today making preparations for the coming meeting. The sensational meeting at Waycross last week has stimulated more than usual interest in the First district meeting to be held here.

INCREASE IN PUBLIC DEBT IS ANNOUNCED

Washington, March 2.—An increase of $58,449,845.36 in the public debt during February was announced today by the treasury, the gross total February 28 being $24,051,684,728.28 compared with $23,993,234,882.92 January 31. Treasury officials explained that in months when income tax installments are not due, the public debt always increases owing to issues of treasury certificates, but that the debt increases with the end of each quarter.

DOCTORS DIDN'T HELP HER SICKLY CHILD

Strong and healthy now. Mother says Milks Emulsion saved its life.

"Last May my three-year-old baby was taken very ill, got so bad that we expected her to die at any time. Had four doctors but they did not know what ailed her and finally stopped coming. She had been sick about 5 months when I started giving her Milks Emulsion. I noticed results from the first and by the time she had taken 2 bottles she was absolutely strong and healthy. I am thankful to say Milks Emulsion saved her life."—Mrs. Willis S. Pitts, Nacogdoshes, Texas.

For restoring appetite, health and strength in sickly children, mothers will find Milks Emulsion the thing they have always sought. Most children like to take it, because unlike many emulsions and tonics, it really tastes good.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes apetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—(adv.)

BIG BOOST GIVEN TO BOND CAMPAIGN

Rousing Speeches Are Made and Enthusiastically Received at Chamber Forum Luncheon.

Stimulus to the campaign for $8,850,000 bonds for Atlanta's civic improvement was given Wednesday at the forum luncheon of the Atlanta chamber of commerce in the assembly hall of the chamber, when several rousing speeches were made and enthusiastically received by the large gathering.

The appeal to the meeting for the children, voiced by Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, chairman of the woman's division in the drive; the appeal for a great Atlanta and a great south through attention to her problems by Prof. W. A. Sutton; the prediction of Frank M. Inman, bond chairman, that not more than 2,000 votes could possibly be poled against the issue; and the delineation of the bond situation by James L. Mayson, city attorney, were the salient features of the session.

Prof. Sutton, in his talk, declared that it was not so much the needs of the school system, the needs of the waterworks, the necessity for a viaduct, or the sewerage problems that make the bond issue a paramount feature of Atlanta's progress, but the fact that "it is a challenge for all Atlanta to get together and stick together, to place herself in the undenied leadership of the south."

"Has Unanimous Approval."

"Some people are in favor of the school bonds," he said, "but not in favor of the four divisions of the issue. If I should take that position I should consider myself a colossal egotist, for I would be setting my judgment up against that of scores of organizations in the city who have completely indorsed the movement after mature deliberation and searching investigation. No other proposition set before the people during my eight years here has ever had such unanimous approval from Atlanta's citizenry.

"The need for bond money and development of Atlanta has ceased to be a commercial need, its a heart need.

"We can put our money into it and fail, we can put our brains into it and fail, but we can not fail if we put our hearts into it." Prof. Sutton made the keynote of his eloquent address the need for co-operation in the city and the fact that the bond campaign had proved that Atlanta can get this co-operation.

He also plead the case of the city's school system, saying that the schools were held back from phenomenal development only by the lack of facilities. He said that the only factor which kept Tech High school, the largest high school regiment of R. O. T. C. in the United States, with a personnel of 1,200, from being named an honor school by the government was that the institution was not provided with an adequate drill ground or an arsenal for the storing of equipment.

Warns of Propaganda.

Mrs. Lumpkin told of certain propaganda being encountered by the women of Atlanta, in which they were warned against registering by men who cautioned that if they should do this they would be liable for service on juries and would be subject to other inconveniences. She said that this sort of propaganda should be fought and, addressing the men in the gathering, said that the male voters and leaders in the city had this responsibility.

An appeal for the children was also voiced by Mrs. Lumpkin, who said that the children's needs were the stimuli to action which Atlanta women had felt and which actuated them to the work they are now doing for the success of the bond issue.

Mr. Inman spoke concerning the slight oposition which had been sounded against the passage of bonds, saying that only two possible reasons could be found for any opposition—ignorance or selfishness.

The forum luncheon was presided over by Alfred C. Newell, chairman of the forum committee of the chamber and entertainment was given by the Atlanta Four, a quartet composed of former Tech students: Bill Houser, C. W. Winn, L. A. Hamilton and Abel Winburn.

EXPERT ENGINEERS INDORSE BOND ISSUE

gineers, and declared in his talk that the greatest impulse yet given to the bond movement was the indorsement of the Affiliated Technical societies.

The Atlanta Automobile association, at its regular monthly meeting yesterday, went on record as indorsing the bond issue contemplated for the city, and several individual members of the association made enthusiastic talks with reference to the campaign.

Endorse Bond Issue.

The Tenth street Parent-Teachers' association, of which Mrs. Robert E. Harvey is chairman, Wednesday unanimously indorsed the bond issue at a very large and very enthusiastic meeting held at the Tenth street school.

Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin made a very stirring appeal for the bonds, following which Mrs. Shepard Bryan offered a resolution indorsing bonds. This was unanimously carried. Reports show that the women are working hard in behalf of bonds, and the talk made by Mrs. Newport, principal of the school, showed that more than 59 per cent of the parents of the children in the school are registered and ready to vote for bonds. In the few remaining days they hope to register even more.

A number of women pledged themselves to register Wednesday afternoon and several cars were offered to take the women from the school house to register.

The meeting was a full one with other things on the program besides bonds, but the enthusiastic interest shown in the bond campaign established the fact that it is "bonds first" with the women until after the lecetion.

Women Have Organized.

The first ward, as far as the women are concerned, is confidently awaiting the result of the bond election. Under their very capable chairman, Mrs. T. J. Akeridge, they have organized and worked in the ward until they feel that is is safe for bonds.

A very interesting and enthusiastic meeting was held Tuesday night at the Walker street school, this being the second held in the interest of bonds. The first, held last week, was under the direction of the Parent-Teachers' of the school. The attendance was large and good speeches were made. Professor W. A. Sutton, of the Tech High school, made a very rousing talk, after which the bond issue was unanimously indorsed.

Mrs. Charles Alverson appointed a number of committees at this meeting.

Tuesday night the speakers were Mayor Key, Mrs. C. P. Ozburn, Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, Mr. Robert E. Harvey, Mr. W. C. Caraway and Mr. Frank Inman. They presented unanswerable arguments for the bonds and the meeting was very enthusiastic. Mrs. T. J. Akeridge presided.

Still another meeting will be held at the Walker street school Friday night. A fine program of speeches is being prepared.

This will be a joint rally for men and women of the ward.

Interested in Campaign.

The large attendance at the bond rally held Tuesday night at the Calhoun school was a fine indication of the interest the school children, their mothers and the teachers are taking in the campaign for bonds.

A very large and enthusiastic audience was present to hear the speeches which were made by Mrs. Lumpkin, Mrs. Tripod, Mr. Alvin Richards and Professor W. A. Sutton.

The Calhoun school has no auditorium but there were more than 150 persons present at the rally Tuesday night. Mr. A. P. Tripod, president of the Calhoun Parent-Teachers' presided.

A number of original bond songs were sung by children of the seventh grade, the words having been written by Mrs. Maxwell Droke, seventh grade teacher.

Calhoun school is more than seventy per cent registered. A few days ago one hundred and twenty-five mothers in the school went down in a body to register and the school expects to do all in its power to put the bonds across.

Other Meetings Held.

Several other meetings were held Tuesday night. One was at the home of Mr. Buckalew at 240 Bellwood avenue; another at the Crew street school; one at the Walker street school; another at the Home Park school, and one in the ninth ward.

W. H. Johnson, Mr. Fleming, Mr. Neel, Zode Smith and Mrs. Rogers Winter spoke at the meeting at Mr. Buckalew's house. The sentiment of those present was in favor of the bonds and it is believed that bonds will carry in that ward.

Mrs. C. P. Byrd spoke at the Crew street school, her speech being a very able présentation of the bond arguments. Mayor Key, Robert E. Harvey, Frank Inman, W. C. Caraway, Mrs. C. P. Ozburn and Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin spoke at the Walker street school.

North Avenue School Meeting.

Mayor Key spoke to a mass meeting of more than 100 persons in behalf of the bond issue, at the North Avenue school Wednesday night. He laid particular emphasis on the need of registering, and of voting after registration.

A large part of the audience had registered, and he urged them to vote next Tuesday regardless of weather conditions or other engagements.

Others who spoke at the meeting were Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Prof. Willis A. Sutton, principal of Tech High school, and W. Zode Smith, general manager of the water works.

Colored Women For Bonds

Representative colored women of the city are working hard in behalf of the proposed bond issue and their reports, made Wednesday morning to Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin at the city hall, indicate that the colored women of the city are supporting the bond issue heartily.

This meeting was the final one before election day and the women present seemed to feel that they had covered the ground very satisfactorily. A number of them on the conference committee are teachers who are very familiar with the crowded conditions of their schools and they are working through the school children to reach the parents.

There is a ward chairman for each ward, and each one has a number of assistants.

Will Vote for Bonds.

Most of the 250 persons attending a bond meeting in the Tenth Street school Wednesday afternoon had registered for the election next Tuesday, and those who had not promised to do so at once. The bond issue received hearty support. Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin spoke at the meeting.

The Hoosier club promised its active help in assuring passage of the bond issue, at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. C. Adair, 67 West Ontario avenue. Another cottage meeting at the Oakland City school was well attended, and the audience pledged itself to work for the passage of the bond issue. Most of those present had already registered.

Rallies For Today.

Today a widespread series of rallies is scheduled. The meetings planned for this afternoon and tonight follow:

Moreland Avenue school at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. C. J. Maddox, principal of the school, will preside and the speakers will include F. M. Inman, general bond chairman; W. M. Hairston and Prof. W. A. Sutton.

Spring Street school at 8 p. m. Mrs. Alonzo Richardson and others.

Parent-Teacher association of Fraser Street school at 3:30 p. m. Mrs. J. K. Ottley and others.

Williams Street school at 8 p. m. Mrs. J. K. Ottley and others.

Barclay Day nursery, near the Exposition Cotton Mills. Mayor Key, Mrs. Bun Wylie, Councilman J. A. Couch, W. P. Neill and others.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BABY BORN ON PEACE DAY

After Mother Had Been Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Salisbury, Mass.—"For seven years I had a female trouble and such bearing-down pains I could hardly do my housework. The doctor said, 'If you can have another baby it might be the best thing for you but I am afraid you cannot.' I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my baby was born on 'Peace Day.' If women would only take your Vegetable Compound they would have better health. I always recommend it."—Mrs. TRACY PATTEN, 2 Lincoln Ave., Salisbury, Mass.

The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as it is impossible for a weak, sickly wife to bring healthy children into the world.

Therefore if a woman is suffering from a displacement, backache, inflammation, ulceration, bearing-down pains, headaches, nervousness or "the blues" she should profit by Mrs. Patten's experience, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be restored to health.

Program for Expenditure Of Bond Money Indorsed By Technical Societies

Following is the full text of reports rendered by special committees of the Affiliated Technical societies giving their indorsement of the programs outlined for the expenditure of bonds:

Report Made On Schools.

Mr. A. M. Schoen, Chairman, Board of Consulting Engineers: In conformance with your letter of February 24, appointing a committee to study the plans and data in the department of schools, this committee called on and was cordially received by Professor W. F. Dykes, superintendent of schools, who placed at our disposal all available data in his department relating to the program and estimates of costs of school buildings to be constructed out of the proposed $4,000,000 bond issue.

Owing to lack of funds, no experts had been employed to assist in preparing the program on estimates.

After carefully considering the conditions of the present school system as presented to us, we are firmly convinced that the board of education has not overestimated the urgent needs of the additional buildings and facilities outlined in their program. The estimate given us of the cost of construction required to take care of a five-year increase in the schools is ultra-conservative, and we find that the cost of an adequate program of construction will greatly exceed $4,000,000.

We recommend that before any contracts for construction are let a comprehensive educational, locational and architectural survey be made and a definite program of construction be adopted and adhered to. Buildings shown by this program to be most urgently needed should be constructed first. All buildings should be of fireproof construction, and should contain the most modern systems of heating, lighting and ventilation. They should be planned and their construction supervised by competent and experienced architects and engineers. To secure efficiency and due economy in construction, all work should be let on a competitive contract basis. We indorse the issue of $4,000,000 bonds.

P. THORNTON MARYE, Chairman;
W. J. SAYWARD,

WATERWORKS STATEMENT

Mr. A. M. Schoen, Chairman, Board of Consulting Engineers, City of Atlanta.

We, the undersigned committee appointed by you for the purpose of making investigation of the city water works in connection with the proposed bond issue, respectfully submit the following report:

On March 1, 1921, the committee made an inspection of the pumping station, filter plant, raw water reservoirs, coagulating basins, clear water basins and other features of the water system. We find that this system, which was built about thirty years ago, has not kept pace with the increase in population. Much of the machinery is worn out and obsolete. The filter plant and clear water storage require enlargement; the two pumping mains from the river station up to the raw water reservoirs at Hemphill Station, have a total capacity of only about one-half the present required capacity, thus making an additional main 48 inches in diameter an absolute necessity.

The method of handling coal and ashes at both the river and Hemphill pumping station by hand and wheelbarrow is very expensive, and must be supplanted by a better system, in order that increased economies may be realized.

This committee in the study of the situation, has had access to data which has been the result of a great deal of study on the part of Messrs. Paul Norcross, consulting engineer of the city water board, and Mr. Zode Smith, manager of the Atlanta water works. The committee has spent its available time in the study of these data and a personal inspection of the proposed work and the existing water system.

River Pumping Station.

New intake needed. The present one is in a deplorable condition and in danger of destruction due to undermining by Peachtree creek. It is also iadequate to take care of the volume of water needed by the pumping station. Provision should be made for rough settling basin. At present there is no settling basin, and pumps and pipe lines are being subjected to unwarranted wear and tear due to pumping sand and mud; also the filter and coagulating basins are unduly taxed to get rid of this mud. Improved coal and ash handling machinery, also stokers, are needed at this station.

The present pumping equipment is as follows:

Two 10,000,000-gallon pumps installed about thirty years ago. Antiquated and good only for junk.

One 28,000,000-gallon pump installed about fifteen years ago. In very bad condition, and in danger of shut-own, due to cracked frame, and not good for more than 12,000,000 gallons, due to bad condition.

One 10,000,000-gallon electrically driven pump installed about five years ago. In good mechanical condition, but capacity lowered somewhat on account of pumping mud and sand.

One 28,000,000-gallon DeLaval turbo-pump.

The only really dependable units in the pumping station are the 10,000,000-gallon electric and the 28,000,000-gallon DeLaval pump, making a total capacity of 38,000,000 gallons for 24 hours. As the present maximum rate of consumption is about 36,000,000 gallons and the average 25,500,000, the need for standby reserve for at least 28,000,000 to 30,000,000 gallons of additional pumping capacity is apparent, particularly as the estimated overall consumption in 1930 will be 37,000,000 gallons.

The new 48-inch main is necessary to insure service, as the present 30-inch and 36-inch mains are not large enough to take care of present requirements without excessive loss of head, and a break in one may involve the other, thus endangering the water supply. It is proposed to lay the new main on a different route to prevent communication of troubles from one main to the other.

Hemphill Station.

The present clear-water storage at Hemphill station is only 1,750,000 gallons, all of which would not be available. If anything happened to the filter plant or pipe lines vious. Under the proposed work, a 10,000,000-gallon clear-water storage is contemplated. The present filter plant is only about one-half large enough. It is proposed to add 21,000,000 gallons capacity to this. The same conditions obtain here as regards coal and ash handling. Newer and more economical methods must be adopted. The stack is utterly inadequate, as it is entirely too small for the present capacity of the station. A new stack will be built.

All of these changes will result in, first—insuring safety of water supply both in quantity and quality for at least ten years; second, improved economics of operation, which are badly needed to prevent loss of money in operating costs.

In addition to these changes, many of the city mains require extension and enlargement. All of this work is included in the estimate for the use of the bond money.

This committee, as previously stated, has carefully reviewed the estimates made, and believes that they have been made on a sound engineering basis. In order to accurately check the estimates of the amount of money required to do the work, would have required accurate surveys which there was no time to make. From our experience, however, we feel after inspection of the work, that the amounts estimated are not excessive and are adequate. We are further convinced from our investigation that work must be carried out if the city of Atlanta is to maintain a water supply of adequate quality and quantity. This committee, therefore, recommends:

That bonds to the extent of $2,850,000 be issued to cover this work, it being our understanding that theer is an addition available of $400,000.00, representing previous appropriations and labor—the latter item to be furnished by the county.

Respectfully submitted,
H. E. BUSSEY, Chairman,
B. M. HALL,
L. B. LOCKHART,
PARK A. DALLIS,
E. A. BROOKS.

Sewer Work Necessary.

Board of Consulting Engineers, City of Atlanta.

Gentlemen: Pursuant to your instructions the undersigned special engineering committee, has made preliminary investigations of the proposed sewer bond issue, for making extensions to the sewerage system and the disposal plants, of the city of Atlanta, and report as follows:

The time available was too limited to permit extensive and detail analysis. We have, however, gone far enough to be convinced of the urgent necessity for the work proposed. With the assistance of the office of the chief of construction, we have visited practically all of the sites of the proposed work and examined their maps, plans and estimates.

The work proposed consists of the following:

1. The extension of trunk outfalls and the construction of intercepting, relief and lateral sewers in various localities throughout the city.

2. Additions to the Peachtree creek sewage disposal plant, consisting principally of building of 2½ acres of adidtional trickling filter beds.

Regarding the extension of the outfalls and construction of the different sewers, we desire to comment on the necessity for this work. A large portion of these projects consists of uncompleted gaps in the trunk outfalls, where the sewage now flows in branches and open channels, creating a serious menace to health and rendering certain areas, within the city limits, absolutely unfit for habitation. This condition constantly grows worse and demands relief. The extent of large areas yet unsewered, with their incidental surface closets, presents a horrible picture.

A good illustration is found in the open sewer extending from Ponce de Leon to Angier avenue south of the ball park and running within 100 feet, or less, of residences, including a children's orphan home. This is not an isolated case, but a typical example of similar conditions existing throughout the city.

With reference to the extension and enlargement of the sewage disposal works, your committee personally visited the Peachtree creek disposal plant. This plant receives approximately 12,500,000 gallons of sewage daily, but has only sufficient filter bed area for about one-half of this amount of sewage. This means that the remaining 50 per cent is discharged directly from the Imhoff tanks into a tributary of Peachtree creek, without oxidation in filters. In order, therefore, to stop this excessive pollution, it is proposed to double the existing filter bed area. This improvement is absolutely necessary.

Due to the short time available, it was not possible to check designs for the work or make comprehensive analyses of cost estimates, but we find that the general details for the individual projects have apparently been carefully prepared and we assume that a full, comprehensive and detail study of designs will be made before any construction is started, in order to insure the work being carried out efficiently and economically.

Conclusions.

Based on this preliminary inspection and the data before us, we are impressed with the fact that the total amount of bonds to be provided is the irreducible minimum necessary to provide relief for the insanitary, unsightly and menacing conditions existing in Atlanta's drainage system.

We, therefore, indorse the issue of bonds amounting to $1,250,000, and recommend that the city secure the services of disinterested engineers to study and approve the details, plans and specifications, before undertaking construction.

The proposed bond issue will provide funds for these improvements in every ward in the city.

Proposed Viaduct.

Board of Consulting Engineers of City of Atlanta—Gentlemen: Complying with your request of February 24, 1921, that the undersigned committee submit to you a report on the proposed Spring street bridge, your committee wishes to submit the following:

First. An "ordinance" adopted by the mayor and council January 21, 1921, reads as follows: "Whereas, . . . it is to the interests of the people of the city of Atlanta that said mayor and general council issue and sell $750,000 of bonds, the proceeds of which shall be used for the 'building of Spring street bridge.' "

(2nd.) As to the advisability of building an additional viaduct connecting the north and south sides there can be no question. We have estimated conservatively on the basis of such information as we have been able to obtain in the limited time at our disposal that such a viaduct will pay for itself in the saving of time, transportation, power and wear and tear on vehicles in from three to five years.

(3rd.) We have checked the estimated cost of the proposed viaduct and find that as near as can be foretold at the present time the cost of the proposed bridge or viaduct will be close to the amount of the proposed bonds; namely, $750,000.00.

(4th.) Although we have had little time to study this problem, we wish to suggest in the interest of the general planning of the city and the possible future plaza scheme in particular, which we feel must eventually come in some form or other, that if it later be found to be possible to open a new street from Marietta street to the railroads an build the viaduct from the south end of it rather than from the south end of Spring street proper as at present contemplated, such a slight variation would not conflict with the general plan to provide for through traffic and would result in a material improvement in local traffic conditions, beside presenting a more pleasing appearance from end of the viaduct.

(5th.) In conclusion, we recommend the "building of Spring street viaduct" subject only to additional study of location.

Respectfully submitted,
W. C. SPIKER, Chairman.
V. H. KRIEGSHABER,
HAL HENTZ,
HARALSON BLECKLEY.

BOND COMMISSION CONFIDENT OF VERDICT

sewer bonds of $1,250,000, and indorsing the viaduct bonds of $750,0[illegible]

"The text of this report will be given to the public, in full, in the next few days. The Affiliated Technical Societies is composed of the engineering profession of Atlanta—civil engineers, mechanical electrical engineers, mechanical engineers, chemical engineers, and architects. Their training renders them judicial and impersonal. They subject a proposition to a searching analysis to find out the facts, and nothing but the facts. They act without sentiment or preconceived opinion. The report they have made on the pending bond issue, for the information and guidance of the people of Atlanta, is something the city would have paid many thousands of dollars to obtain, if it had employed them to make their investigation in a professional capacity. They acted as citizens, interested in the public welfare, without any fee or compensation whatever.

Need of Viaduct.

"Their report removes any shred of doubt which might exist in the mind of any citizen concerning the advisability and necessity of the proposed issuance of $8,850,000 of bonds.

"A particularly notable feature of their report, as it will later be published in full, was in regard to the bond issue of $750,000 to build across the railroad tracks, at Spring street, a viaduct connecting the north and south sides.

"Their opinion was that the cost of this viaduct will be more than repaid within five years by the increased facilities for handling traffic. In other words, they estimate that the people of Atlanta are losing each year $150,000 worth of time in traffic delays.

"This estimate confirms the figures worked out by Professor W. A. Sutton, principal of Tech High school, who took the trouble to make an actual count of the persons and vehicles delayed by traffic congestion at the principal points of congestion in the downtown district. Making an average valuation of the time of all persons, from boys carrying soft drinks on trays to bankers paid high salaries for their services, and of the time of all vehicles, Professor Sutton estimated that a minimum of $150,000 worth of time was being lost every year.

"This congestion will be enormously relieved by the Spring viaduct. It will create a new and unique crossing over the railroad gulch. It will give a straight shoot, in an almost direct line, from the Peachtree station to the Terminal station, and will empty its traffic at both ends of the viaduct into streets which can carry large volumes of traffic.

"A viaduct across the tracks at Pryor street would not do this. It would empty traffic into North Pryor street to further increase congestion in the 'bottle neck' of Peachtree between the Grand theater and Ellis street. It would draw away traffic from the Washington Street viaduct and pour it into the 'bottle neck.'

Will Prevent Congestion.

"The Spring viaduct will enable teams and vehicles to make the journey from north to south side, and vice versa, without ever touching the congested area in the downtown district. A very prominent and successful Atlanta business man on yesterday informed the bond campaign committee that he would willingly make a cash contribution of a substantial amount to get the Spring Street viaduct built, if it were proposed to be built by subscription.

"There is not a weak point in the whole bond issue. The opposition have sought to attack it from every angle, and all of their attacks have failed completely. There is not a hole in it anywhere. As we predicted at the outset, the more the people have investigated it, the stronger they have grown in their support of it. We believe with all respect to the few who are against it that the opposition is dwindling down to and finally will consist of the grossly selfish and the grossly ignorant.

"BOND CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE,
"By Frank M. Inman, Chairman."

BOND ISSUE INDORSED BY RETAIL DRUGGISTS

Although the main purpose of the meeting of the Atlanta retail druggists, held Wednesday night at a dinner at the Daffodil Tea Room, was for the purpose of organizing a club from the members of that business, the coming bond election was brought up and a motion was unanimously adopted indorsing the movement. Tentative plans of organization were made at the meeting.

The principal address of the meeting which was presided over by T. C. Marshall, of Marshall's pharmacy, was made by Harrison Jones, sales manager of the Coca-Cola company. Mr. Jones, who is reputed to be an authority on organization, went into a discussion of the davantages to be derived by an organized druggists' association, and stated that a full co-operation between the retail druggist and the manufacturer could never be had until the members of the trade united for the purpose of clarifying their needs.

The purpose of organization, as presented by Temporary Chairman Marshall, besides creating a better feeling among its members, is to assist each other in establishing records of credit, preventing leakage, command better insurance policies and to render assistance to the government in carrying out the narcotic and other similar laws that apply to the retail druggists' business.

A committee of five was appointed to draw up the by-laws and constitution, and to suggest a name for the organization, to be decided on together with the election of officers at the next meeting, which will be held next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Daffodil Tea Room.

Those present included Harrison Jones, of the Coca-Cola company; T. C. Marshall, of Marshall's pharmacy; Sinclair Jacobs, Jacobs' Pharmacy; W. B. Fitzgerald, P. G. Dunwoody, A. L. Curtis, A. R. M[illegible]n, P. L. Provano, M. L. Ranner, Charles A. Smith, H. O. Byrd, S. D. Powell, H. T. Harris, J. Q. McRae, J. I. Selman, J. L. Stephens, W. H. Curtis, R. M. McPharlan, E. Additional Lines Making Savannah As Port of Call

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—In addition to recently being made port of call for vessels of the Pacific Mail line and of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Steamship company, Savannah is to be a port of call, it is announced today, of two more lines.

The Iris, of the Pacific, Carribean and Gulf Steamship company, is en route to Savannah with a cargo of flour from Portland, Oreg., and that line will add Savannah to its ports on regular sailing list.

The other line to announce soon that its vessels will touch regularly at Savannah will be announced in a few days. Shipping circles are much gratified at the steadily recurring evidences of recognition of the Georgia port.

Give Your Name
Or Your Number

"Hello," "What number is this," and "Who is speaking," are telephone phrases which waste your time and that of the person you call.

As soon as your party answers, the correct practice is to announce your name and start the call in the same direct manner that you use in a face-to-face meeting.

For example, say, "Mr. Jones speaking, I should like to talk with Mr. Smith," or Jones speaking, Mr. Smith, please," or if Mr. Smith has answered with his name, say "This is Mr. Jones."

And when you answer a telephone always announce your name first.

"ILLEGALITY" PRETEXT.

As a last resort argument to defeat the bonding proposal the few who are opposing it have trotted out the time-worn "illegality" bugaboo.

But that will frighten nobody.

If the ordinance authorizing the bond issue is illegal no possible harm can be done in passing the bonding proposal at the election next Tuesday, for if the bond issue is legally unauthorized it will not, of course, stand the test of the courts—and the law says that the bonds cannot be sold until they are validated by the state courts.

On the other hand, if the proceeding is legal—as it will undoubtedly be so declared by the courts at the proper time—those who might be misled by this claptrap "illegality" argument will find themselves in a pretty mess should they, approving the bonding proposal per se, oppose it, or fail to support it at the polls, under the misapprehension that the illegality argument is real.

The truth is all this talk about "illegality" is buncombe, and simply a pretext by which to defeat the bond issue; and it is put forward by a few reactionaries who are opposed to bonds, and who are willing for Atlanta to continue to be an overgrown, congested—and, consequently, a "high-rent"—town instead of measuring up to the status and the destiny of a great, expanding, metropolitan city!

The very fact that they have chosen this late hour as the most effective time at which to hoist their fake danger signal is proof of their insincerity.

They know that the bonds can cost the people not a penny until the courts shall have passed affirmatively upon their legality, and that until the bonds are affirmed by the voters the courts will have nothing upon which to pass.

They also know that before the bonds are authorized, their validity must be passed on by the courts.

So the fact that they have injected this question into the campaign shows clearly that the bond opponents are seeking only to becloud the issue.

But the people will not be misled.

Public sentiment is aroused on this bonding question as it never has been before on anything that has been put before the voters of Atlanta.

The bonds are going to carry by an overwhelming majority if the voters of the city, men and women, will, on March 8, materialize into action the determination that has been so abundantly manifested since the beginning of this campaign.

And in order to insure the success of this proposal, which means more to Atlanta and to Atlanta's future than anything that has been undertaken in this city within the last half-century, every non-registered voter should bear in mind that this is the last week of the campaign, and that it is his, or her, duty to qualify for the ballot while there is still time in which to do so.

Then go to the polls and vote on election day!

Harding says he is "willing to pay income tax on the presidential salary." That's where he's in harmony with the rest of us.

TIME TO CALL A HALT.

The Constitution, in common with all other consumers of commercial gas, is opposed to the recent increase in the rates of the local gas company, for the very obvious reason that The Constitution, as a consumer, has to bear its portion of the burden incident to the increased rate.

The Georgia Railroad commission, as the board constituted by law to determine the justice and reasonableness of the rates charged by public utilities, sanctioned the increase after an exhaustive investigation, in which all parties at interest were afforded the fullest facilities to submit facts, figures and arguments affecting the cost of production and supply or illustrating the respective rights and obligations of the producers and the public.

The paying public promptly exercised the time immemorial privilege of grumbling over a rate increase, which it has a perfect right to do, and just as it has to call for remedial action.

But impassioned orators haranguing ward meetings, have roundly denounced the commissioners as unworthy of public confidence, and have not hesitated, under the stress of fervid eloquence, to impugn their judgment and impeach the judges.

Reckless assaults upon the character and motives of those charged with the administration of the law can have no other effect than to encourage disrespect for the law itself, and thus undermine the very root of public security.

The able Georgians who constitute the railroad commission have all been requisitioned to perform the difficult duties of the office to which they have been elected by the votes of the people.

As citizens, their individual interest would have been served by depressing the rates of any commodity for which they, like other citizens, must pay the price.

As officials they were bound under their oaths of office to reach an award based upon the evidence submitted to their consideration.

If those who now condemn their verdict possessed information which would have justified a lower rate it was their duty to have placed such information before the commission while the case was under consideration.

If the accusing censors have information to support their conclusions that the commissioners "are in league with the gas company," civic duty demands indictment by specification, in order that innocence may be vindicated or guilt established.

In the meantime, regardless of the pang of parting that accompanies every additional demand upon its purse, the public will not be led into ex-parte condemnation of officials whose characters have been established and whose official records have been indorsed by the people at the polls.

The railroad commissioners of Georgia have no sinecure. It is no easy task to continually arbitrate between public service corporations and the public and grant to property the rights guaranteed by the constitution without alienating the applause of those who "pay the freight."

The public is entitled to rates as low as the law, fairness and conditions will jointly justify, and the orders of the commission are entitled to popular support, even though the individual tax is increased thereby.

Justice is sometimes expensive, but, as the keystone of civilization, it's worth the price.

Unless the commission shall depart from a long career of usefulness, as the pioneer board of public arbitration in the United States, it may be depended upon to restore all rates to a normal basis as soon as normal conditions shall justify such restoration, and this The Constitution will steadily keep before it, for attention.

In the meantime, we are of the opinion that some of those who are indulging in personal diatribes against the commission are injuring the cause for which they speak.

Argument on the merit of the issue involved is one thing, and is not to be criticised so long as it makes appeal to reason—but when it takes the form of character assassination, as is the case in this instance, it is time to call a halt.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

CLUB FOOT.

Anyone with even a casual knowledge of embryology or the antenatal development of the body cannot but marvel that such slight faults of development, or rather interruptions of growth, as club foot, hare lip, and spina bifida occur so rarely. And one not wholly ignorant of embryology can find only amusement in the superstitious explanations for such accidental occurrences made by our irrepressible commentator, the fishwife. Next to the finespun fancies with which unenlightened mortals attempt to account for their respiratory diseases, there is nothing in the realm of etiology so absurd to a half-way intelligent mind as the superstition of marking.

The curative treatment for club foot should begin when the child is two weeks old, if the very best results are desired.

Correction of the deformity is very simple in some cases, and very difficult in others, depending upon the amount of deformity or the lack of development. As a rule, even though practically perfect functional development is brought about by proper medical treatment, the size of the foot remains always a little less than normal.

The best kind of treatment has been found to be manual correction or overcorrection of the deformity and the application of suitable plaster of Paris bandages to hold the foot in the corrected position for a time. This seance is repeated at regular intervals, a little being gained each time, as the child grows, in the first year. Adhesive plaster is also used with advanage in improving he position of the foot. Physicians most experienced in treating such conditions (orthopedic surgeons) persist until the foot is overcorrected to the degree of contact with the lower part of the leg, in which position it is retained for about six weeks before the retentive dressings are discontinued. After that the mother may carry on the restorative treatment by daily manipulations of the foot under the physician's direction. When the child begins to walk the outer border of the shoe is raised one-fourth inch. In very few cases is it necessary to restore to an anesthetic or incision; but in those cases it would be disastrous to avoid the necessary operation.

As a general rule, club foot is treated more successfully without braces or splints of any kind. It is a mistake to imagine that a brace will correct a deformity. All a brace can do is retain the member in a certain position—which may or may not be helpful—it is wholly up to the physician in charge. Parents who put braces or supports of any kind whatsoever on children with a defect or deformity, without the advice and constant supervision of a physician, make a dreadful mistake which is pretty rure to bring them lifelong regret.

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. McINTYRE

New York, March 2.—Twenty thousand women in New York live under the constant eagle-eyed espionage of private detectives, so a man wise in the knowledge of high life undercurrents told me. He declared that the majority of the private agencies are supported by the vagaries of marital intrigue.

The affairs usually begin with mild pekoe drinking, flirtations and swirl on and on to scandalous divorce suits. Impoverished sons of blue-blooded families are known to be employed as divorce trailers and are thus able to enter private functions that would be denied the ordinary operative.

An amusing story is told of an elderly retired business man who met an elegantly ermined creature at a charity bazar. He fell in love and a hasty marriage followed. In a few months he saw that a young caller at his house was particularly welcome with his bride. Several times he returned home unexpectedly to find them drinking tea together.

He bowed to the inevitable and permitted them to drain love's chalice together. As he expected, the wife soon tired of her new toy and renewed her interest in him. Then one night, stung by his indifference, she sobbed out the story of her intrigue. He patted her shoulder kindly and went to a desk from which he took many pages of paper.

It proved to be a report of the detectives who had been following her and her every move was carefully noted. "Never mind," he said, "we will destroy this and forget it," and he placed the pages on the burning logs of a great open fire in their drawing room. The next day he eloped to Europe with a young manicurist. And she has gone into seclusion.

Most of the women who play the mad, mad game of intrigue are those of wealth. They have plenty of servants and no home ties. There is apparently someone ever waiting to pay them attention and they begin to imagine that they are neglected. "When they think they are neglected," said my friend, "there is nothing to stop them."

The most popular tea room in New York is in a hotel of little distinction off Fifth avenue. A stranger going into the room cannot distinguish faces at the tables until his eyes become accustomed to the light. There are exits and entrances on three streets. Page boys are barred from the room and no telephone inquiries are answered.

Young and middle-aged men are still pouring into New York looking for work despite the fact that 17,000 jobless men now roam the streets and sleep in charity refuges. Panhandlers are in evidence at every subway kiosk and no side street is without the whining individual who sidles up to you with "'Scuse me, cap, but I'm hungry." The morning bread lines on the Bowery are well crowded. Conditions, it is true, are better than they were a month ago, but it is useless for a man to come to New York seeking a job for at least several months.

Essam Habib is an old push cart peddler from Syria. Fifty years ago the steamship agent painted to him the glories of free America. He came over and has been able to raise a family off his earnings along the east side curbs. Then came evil days for the pushcarters. City ordinances began to curtail his liberties so that last year he was arrested eighty times. Each time he went into court wondering what law he had violated. He never seemed to understand. His last arrest finished him. This week he is to return to Syria to spend his days.

SAYS BANKS CAN SOLVE THE PROBLEM OF COTTON PRICES

Editor Constitution: Much has been said but little of a constructive nature has been done to solve the south's cotton problem. Is the problem an insoluble one, or are present condition due largely to the indifference of our banking and business interests? It is a mistaken idea, if it exists, to think that the farmer must work out his own salvation alone. Many of them are ignorant of the true situation and financially unable to help themselves.

Based upon the cost of production, even for the year 1921, cotton is relatively cheaper today than when it sold for 4 cents in the early nineties. Do our really big men of finance and business as well as our press fully appreciate the gravity of the situation? If so, what concerted action have they taken to better conditions? Because cotton once sold for 4 cents per pound are we going to sit idly by and see if the bears can drive it down to that point again? If 4 cents isn't the stopping point in the present decline, then what price between 4 cents and the present price is the stopping point? The south as a whole can't prosper with the farmer in bankruptcy. Isn't it quite time, therefore, that the banking and business interests were doing something to save themselves and call a halt on this senseless slaughter of prices?

The world needs a good portion of our present supply of cotton and will pay a reasonable price for it provided the market can be stabilized. The market is being manipulated largely by Liverpool. The English spinner is the shrewdest in the game. What bother is it to him to shut his mills down for a few weeks if by doing so he can buy our cotton at his own price? As soon as cotton is given away we will see his mills resume on full time. This game is played on the south year after year and we haven't sense enough to see it. It is a notorious fact that the south always turns bearish at the bottom of the decline and begins to unload.

We all know that the purchasing power of Europe is limited; that the finances of the world are strained and that we have a large apparent supply of cotton. Nevertheless, cotton is a world necessity and people will continue to wear clothes even though they may not be able to wear as many as formerly. When it is realized that we exported more than 6,500,000 bales of cotton for the year ending August 1, last, and at the highest prices in history when paid for in the depreciated money of the purchasers and that the mills sold the goods made from that cotton at unconscionable profits, is there any good reason to believe that now that more than three pounds of cotton can be purchased by them for what one cost them last year that they will continue to refuse to buy? Since August 1 Germany has bought more of our cotton than she purchased the whole of last year. The mills are carrying very small stocks of cotton, and the whole world is short of both cotton contracts and cotton goods and the turning point in the situation must be near at hand. The mills are only waiting for the market to strike bottom before stocking up. They think the bottom will be struck when the banks call cotton loans and force the producers to give their cotton away. Forced sales is what the bear speculator and the mills are confidently counting on. They make no secret of their expectations. Are we powerless to prevent the catastrophe which would result from a wholesale calling of cotton loans?

There are two things needed to bring about a radical change for the better in the cotton market. First, a greatly reduced cotton acreage this year, and second, the assurance, publicly made by the banks that they will not call any cotton loans until a fair price is offered for the security.

What Banks Can Do.

Recently it was announced from New York that subject to Washington's approval, a committee of leading bankers and sugar men had been formed to handle the present Cuban sugar crop, with a view to stabilizing the market. Boiled down, this simply means that the New York banks have come to the rescue of the Cuban sugar growers, for the most part large Wall street corporations, and that they do not intend that the sugar crop be dumped on the market at panic prices. The influence of this announcement alone was instantaneously favorable. Both raw and refined sugar have advanced materially since the announcement was made, notwithstanding the fact that there is a tremendous surplus of sugar. If the banks of New York can do that for the Cuban sugar growers, why can't our banks get together and do something of a similar nature for the southern cotton grower? Sugar is now selling about 50 per cent higher than pre-war prices whereas the average grade of cotton now held in the south is selling about 50 per cent under the price of June, 1914. Are the banks of this country more interested in the welfare of the Cubans than they are in the south?

Without the assistance, direct or indirect (through the merchant) of some bank 90 per cent of our farmers will be unable to plant a crop this year. Isn't it practicable as well as ethical for our banks to do something to remedy the present critical situation? The banks are, probably, our best organized institution. They are a compact and well organized institution. They have all the machinery necessary for quick and concerted action. By withholding credit they can control the acreage. The banks thus far have stood by the farmer in a most creditable manner, and it is understood that many of them are in sympathy with the acreage reduction movement and are rendering every assistance. What the situation would seem to require, however, is that the bankers' associations of each cotton-growing state take the matter up officially and give it the stamp of their approval and then individually and collectively see that it is carried out. If the various bankers' associations would not only adopt the acreage reduction resolution but would also resolve and publicly announce that in view of the small acreage to be planted this year and the present low price for cotton they would not call any cotton loans until a fair price was offered for the security, the probabilities are that we would immediately witness a material and sustained advance in the price of cotton. This would limit the supply to the demand at a fair price. The public would then buy cotton as a speculative investment for the long pull. The writer is not a banker and hence does not know whether or not there are insurmountable difficulties involved in such a scheme, but we all know, or should know, that unless we are willing to see the south bankrupted something should be done, hence, if the plan suggested can be put through, isn't it at least worth trying?

The banking situation, taken as a whole, will not be eased by forcing cotton on a stagnant market as suggested by a certain South Carolina as well as a Texas banker, whose statements to this effect have been given wide publicity. It might ease some banks, but it would cause destruction to many more. Such statements, coming from our southern bankers have had more to do with present market conditions than the temporary slack demand. The lack of demand, as a matter of fact, is due in large measure to the expectation that what the quoted bankers said will actually take place and that the mills will get cotton at any old price. What is the sense in our attempting to produce another normal crop of cotton when we know even before it is planted that the present price is many cents below what it will cost us to produce it. Is the cotton producer going to be forced to sell something for about one-third of what it cost to produce it? On top of this is he going to plant another normal crop when present prices are far below what it will cost him?

The fate of the south is absolutely in the hands of the banks, country merchants and the press. The hour has struck when something must be done. If we lose the fight now we have lost for many years to come. If we win now we have won our economic independence for all time. What shall the answer be?

Barrow County Citizen Bewails Rogue Wave

Editor Constitution: I want you to write an editorial about rogues. I read one not long since about rats saying that rats destroyed a million dollars worth of property every day, but rats are a credit to the rogues that we have to support.

The rogues have stolen enough cotton and meat in Georgia in the last few months to clothe and feed all the widows and orphans and enough automobiles to give them all a ride at one time.

On last Thursday night in Banks county some one visited a garage at a country home and stripped a Ford car of everything it had on it—did not even leave enough on it for it to have been presentable at one of Rev. J. W. Hams' dances. And on Friday night, within a few miles of where the Ford was undressed, some gentleman went to a country home and lifted two bales of lint cotton and hauled it to Gainesville, Ga.

While you have been handing out some good editorials on blind tigers, bootlegging and so forth, please ask 'em to tighten the coils of the law a little on the rogues—let their age be tender or tough—and their standing in society be in the Ford class or the Franklin or Hudson Super six.

New Yale University Head Visits Colleges in Atlanta

Photograph by Walton Reeves' New Studio.

Dr. James R. Angell, president-elect of Yale university, taken with President K. G. Matheson, of the Georgia Tech, at the latter's home.

Dr. James R. Angell, president-elect of Yale university and president of the Carnegie corporation, after a two days' stay in Atlanta, left yesterday morning for a visit to South Carolina colleges.

He spent two full days in Atlanta, being steadily occupied both days in visiting the collegiate institutions in and around the city.

At the Tech he reviewed the R. O. T. C. and the day before he visited Agnes Scott and Emory.

During his stay in Atlanta, Dr. Angell was entertained at a luncheon party by Dr. K. G. Matheson, of Georgia Tech. Dr. Matheson escorted the visiting educator over the grounds and buildings of the local technological institution. He addressed the girls of Agnes Scott college in their chapel Tuesday morning, and also made a thorough examination of the new plant of Emory university in Druid Hills.

Dr. Angell is visiting the various colleges and universities of the south in the interest of the Carnegie corporation, which he heads, with a view to recommending possible assistance from the funds of that corporation to some of the worthiest institutions.

Upon the resignation of President Hadley, head of Yale, Dr. Angell was elected to succeed him, and his connection with the great eastern university will begin when Dr. Hadley's resignation become effective, with the beginning of the September term this year.

Gen. Wood Pleads For Contributions To Armenian Fund

The Constitution is in receipt of a communication from General Leonard Wood in which he is pleading for contributions for the two-and-a-half-million suffering Armenians. The Constitution will gladly receive any contributions to this fund and forward them to the proper authorities.

General Wood's communication follows:

"Editor Constitution: As chairman of a special committee of representative men and women of this country charged with placing before the American people the desperate need of two and a half million Armenians, the remnant of the oldest Christian nation, whose sufferings through sixteen centuries seem to have brought them no nearer peace, liberty or security, I beg your personal co-operation and the influence of your newspaper to forward an appeal for a Lenten sacrifice offering to enable the Near East relief to go on with its work of mercy.

"Over one hundred thousand little children, who have been kept alive by American generosity for the past three years, are absolutely dependent upon the support which America gives them through the Near East relief.

"I feel that however many and however worthy the other appeals which are being made to the great heart of America these days, may be, this cry from little children of the land where Christ gave his life for mankind cannot remain unanswered. Will you help to save this martyred people?

SENTENCED TO DIE ON GALLOWS, MAN SUED FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Gertrude Kelloy, wife of Jack Kelloy, who is under death sentence for the murder of Leroy Trexler, an Atlanta taxicab driver, near Griffin, Ga., September 12, 1920, yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Fulton superior court.

In her petition Mrs. Kelloy recalls the incident of the murder and claims that it has caused her much notoriety and embarrassment. She further charges that her husband was continually intoxicated and abused her to such an extent, she says, she was forced at one time to take out a peace warrant against him. She asks for a total divorce and requests that her maiden name, Gertrude Camp, be restored to her. Attorney H. W. McLarty is counsel for the plaintiff.

OGLETHORPE PLAYERS AND NEW COACH MEET

At a meeting of the Oglethorpe Players' club held in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce building Tuesday night the members of the club met their new coach, Mrs. Carl S. Jackson, and spent a short time reading the plays that are to be presented at the Atlanta theater sometime in May.

The players are staging four short plays this year written by members of the club, something that so far as southern colleges are concerned, is decidedly new.

The plays chosen for presentation are: "Arranged by the Family," by B. Wooten Collier; "The Interrupted Chess Game," by Parker Cahoon; "The Man From the Agency," by R. H. Armstrong, and "The Thief," by Miss Margaret Horton. All of these plays show marked ability on the part of the youthful playwrights and both Mrs. Jackson and President Ernest E. Moore, of the players, are of the opinion that they will prove of interest to Atlantans.

Selection of castes for the plays will be finished by the coach some time this week and then the work of rehearsing will start.

PRESIDENTS' CLUB MEETING POSTPONED

Postponement of the scheduled meeting of the Presidents' club which was to have been held this evening, was announced Wednesday night. The meeting will be held at 6 o'clock on the evening of March 10. The postponement was necessary because Ivy L. Lee, who was to have been the guest of honor, will be entertained tonight at the Capital City club. Mr. Lee is chairman of the New York branch of the Greater Georgia Tech campaign committee.

Salvation Army Leaders Coming To Meeting Here

Commissioner and Mrs. Thomas Estill, territorial commanders of the Salvation Army for the east, will be in Atlanta on Sunday, March 13, and will deliver addresses at the Georgia Baptist Tabernacle at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Commissioner Estill is considered one of the greatest pulpit orators in the ranks of the Salvation Army. He has been in the service of the Army since 1878, when it was known as the Christian Mission, and has served in posts situated in all parts of he world. These include assignments in South Africa, New South Wales (Australia), New Zealand, Holland and Japan. Prior to his New York assignment he was for twelve years in command of the department of the west, with headquarters in Chicago.

Commissioner and Mrs. Estill were married in 1883, at Nottingham, England, in the church in which the founder of the Salvation Army was converted. Four of their six children are officers of the Salvation Army.

It is expected that hundreds of Atlantans will attend the meeting in the Tabbernacle to hear the leaders of the Salvation Army tell of its aims in the furtherance of the alleviation of human misery and suffering.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Plan Given Impetus

A definite move toward the establishment here of a junior chamber of commerce was begun Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the committee on organization, appointed by Lee Ashcraft, president of the senior chamber of Atlanta. The meeting was held in the chamber offices and was presided over by Henry Robinson, chairman.

A committee of three, consisting of Palmer Blackburn, chairman, Roy LeCraw and C. N. Walker, was appointed to formulate constitution and by-laws, for presentation within the next few days to the organization committee and later to the directors of the senior chamber and the junior organization.

Plans under which more than 30 junior chambers of commerce now operate in various cities of the United States were outlined to the committee Wednesday afternoon by Charles E. Robertson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who explained that the intended organization was to give a channel of civic activity for young men between the ages of 18 and 30; a need, he said, severely felt in Atlanta.

Mr. Robertson told that the junior chamber of commerce idea originated in the belief that young men could best serve their cities in an organization of their own. The opinion of local chamber officials is that this is the best method of developing leadership in the youth of the city which will be of invaluable aid to them and their town in later years as well as in the period of its development.

It is planned to organize the junior chamber so that it will be self-governing and to allow it co-operation with the senior body by having the president of the junior organization on the board of directors of the seniorchamber and a representative of the older organization attend the sessions of the younger board. The junior organization, in its perfected state, will have a secretary who will devote all his time to the work of the body.

The plan further intends that the junior chamber of commerce shall formulate its own program through a referendum system similar to that employed by the chamber of commerce at present. The junior chamber of commerce would perform many functions alone and would cooperate with the older body on other features of the city's civic advancement.

MACON CHAMBER TO ASSUME QUOTA OF BOOSTING STATE

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—E. W. Burke, president of the Macon Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the chamber will underwrite Bibb county's quota of $10,000 for the "Advertise Georgia" campaign. The money will be raised by public subscription. The Bibb county commissioners yesterday refused to appropriate the money, claiming they had no authority to do so. They declared, however, that they are thoroughly in sympathy with the purpose of the drive.

GIVE DINNER TONIGHT FOR GREATER TECH

Ivy L. Lee, of New York, Will Be the Guest of Honor.

Ivy L. Lee, guest of honor at a dinner of 150 leading Atlanta business men at the Capital City club tonight, is scheduled to reach Atlanta early this morning and will go to the Georgian Terrace for breakfast, after which he will go to the Georgia School of Technology, to look over the school in connection with the campaign for $5,000,000 for a Greater Georgia Tech, of which Mr. Lee is chairman of the New York committee.

Mr. Lee, a former Atlantan, now is at the head of the biggest publicity concern in the world. His committee in New York has engaged to raise $1,000,000 of the fund in that city and the east, conditional upon Georgia raising the remainder of the $5,000,000.

For several days Mr. Lee has been visiting Henry P. Davison, of the firm of Morgan & Co., and head of the Red Cross war work during that period, at the latter's winter home near Thomasville, Ga. He comes to Atlanta direct from Thomasville.

At the dinner, which will be served at 7:30 o'clock, Colonel W. L. Peel will preside, and Clark Howell will act as toastmaster. Among the speakers will be Governor Hugh Dorsey, Mayor James L. Key, Nat E. Harris, Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of Georgia Tech; Mr. Lee, Victor Allen, of Buford, chairman of the Greater Georgia Tech movement; Mell R. Wilkinson, Lee Ashcraft, Eugene Harrington, W. C. Barnwell, Julian V. Boehm, J. R. Smith and D. W. Webb.

Theft of $15,700 Solved by Work Of Postal Clerk

Calvin Hammock Confesses to Crime and Implicates W. D. Lewis.

Through the work of a 19-year-old clerk employed in the department of postoffice inspectors, two arrests were made Wednesday morning in connection with the theft of $15,700 in securities from the mails in Atlanta last November. The prisoners are Calvin Hammock and W. D. Lewis, two former postoffice distributing clerks. They will be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner W. C. Carter at 10 o'clock this morning.

Following his arrest Wednesday morning, Hammock confessed that he had stolen the valuables, and implicated Lewis, to whom he claims he gave a portion of the loot for disposal. Lewis denies Hammock's statement.

The lot consisted of $2,700 in Liberty bonds and $13,000 in other securities, and was a shipment from the Bank of Carnesville, Ga., consigned to the Atlanta National bank. It was sent by ordinary first-class mail, and was not registered or insured.

Only $500 Recovered.

Only $500 of the loot has been recovered to date. A $500 Liberty bond was found in the street near the Bijou theater several weeks ago by an Atlanta vegetable peddler, who attempted to pawn it on Decatur street. The suspicious manner of the finder led to the seizure of the bond by postoffice inspectors.

Hammock confessed to postoffice inspectors that he had stolen the securities. He claimed to have given part of the loot to Lewis several weeks ago, while Lewis was in the employ of an Oakland City laundry for disposal. After keeping the remainder of the securities for several days, he said, he became uneasy and tore them into fragments and threw them into a garbage box near the old Bijou site. It was at this point where the peddler found the $500 bond, which Hammock had evidently dropped.

Hammock claims to be only 17 years of age, but appears older. When he entered the postal service at the age of 15, he said, he claimed to be 18, the minimum age permitted by civil service regulations. He is 6 feet 2 inches in height. Lewis is 23 years old, and is slightly taller than Hammock.

Clerk Causes Arrest.

Their arrest occurred Wednesday after a 19-year-old clerk of the department had worked diligently on the mystery for several days. He was assigned to the case, under the supervision of Inspector N. A. McKew.

Hammock was apprehended by the young clerk at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Healey building lobby. He was immediately taken to Inspector McKew's office in the federal building and grilled for five hours before he signed a written confession, which implicated Lewis.

Lewis was arrested shortly thereafter at his home in East Point. When arraigned before Commissioner Carter Wednesday afternoon Lewis was committed to jail in default of $5,000 bond, and Hammock was held under $3,000 bond pending a preliminary trial today. Lewis has another charge of robbing the mails pending against him in federal court.

UNION WAGE SCALE ATTACK IS FILED BY THE PARK BOARD

After being sharply scored by members of the park board, a communication from the Master Builders' association criticising the board and charging it with flagrant waste for having restored the union scale of wages at the new cyclorama building under construction at Grant park, was received and filed Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the park commissioners.

Major D. F. McClatchey moved that the letter be received and filed. "I don't know whether we ought to receive it or not," stated Commissioner F. C. Blake. "It is the most inconsistent document that I ever heard read, and I'm going to stand here and protest against it. I'd like to talk to the man who wrote it."

"If giving men a living wage is wasting money," asserted L. L. Wallace, another commissioner, "then I want to go on record as being in favor of spending money extravagantly." The vote to file the paper was unanimous.

The offer of the Peters Land company of a tract of land near Georgia Tech to be converted into a public park, on condition that the city maintain it, was approved by the board and will be transmitted to council at its next meeting.

The board voted to advertise for bids for concession privileges at Moseley, Oakland City and Maddox parks, contracts to be made for one year or for as long as three years.

WATSON SPEEDING TO ASSUME OFFICE

Arrives in Washington This Morning and Will Take Oath as Junior Senator Friday.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

Washington, March 2.—Senator-elect Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, will arrive in Washington with a party of friends tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, coming direct from Augusta, via Seaboard Air Line.

He will be quartered at the George Washington inn during the extra session of the senate before the 67th congress meets in extra session in April.

He will be visited tomorrow at his rooms by members of the Georgia delegation and on Friday at noon he will be sworn in by Vice President Coolidge as junior United States senator from Georgia, succeeding Hoke Smith, the present senior senator whose term of office expires tomorrow midnight.

31 To Be Sworn.

With Mr. Watson thirty-one other senators will be sworn in, including elect and encumbent members.

The swearing in of new term senators will follow immediately after the oath has been administered to the new vice president and the latter has been inducted into the chair. The names of senators-elect will then be called by the clerk of the senate, alphabetically by state. When Georgia is reached the clerk will announce "Georgia, Thomas E. Watson." Senator Harris, at that moment, the senior senator from Georgia, will then arise, address the vice president and declare that "Mr. Watson is present and desires to take the oath."

Harris On Right.

The vice president will then declare "if there is no objection the oath will be administered to Mr. Watson of Georgia." There will then be a brief pause, and as there will be no objection Mr. Watson will emerge from the democratic cloak room and proceed to the center aisle of the chamber. There he will be joined by Senator Harris who will stand upon the right. Mr. Watson will take the left arm of his senior senator and the two will proceed slowly down to the chancel.

This will be the same ceremony in all cases of induction and when the senators to be sworn in are thus grouped in front of the vice president the oath will be administered, and they will be escorted orderly to the seats assigned them. Thereupon the new senate will get down to legislative business.

County Will Ask For Rule on Law Insuring Workers

In Meantime, Bids Are Asked From Local Insurance Agents on Premiums.

Bids from local insurance agents on insurance premiums for county employees will be asked by Henry Wood, clerk of the county commission, following the action taken at the regular monthly meeting of the commission Wednesday afternoon at the courthouse.

In the meantime, Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, county attorney, was instructed to ask Attorney General R. A. Denny for an opinion to determine if the county will be forced to insure its employees under the Georgia compensation act, which went into effect March 1.

Colonel Pomeroy informed the commission that he had written Mr. Denny asking for an opinion in the matter, and after waiting two weeks had called on him at the capitol and was told that he was out of the city. He stated that he had never received any answer to his request.

It was brought out in the general discussion that the law does not allow the county to use the tax money for anything but running the county, and that the new compensation act does not change this law, though it is the opinion of Colonel Pomeroy that the act does apply to counties.

Pending an opinion from the attorney general, bids will be asked by the county.

Banker in Macon Buys Willingham Cotton Warehouse

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The Willingham Warehouse today passed into the hands of Jesse B. Hart, president of the Macon National bank. The purchase price is said to have been between $80,000 and $90,000. Mr. Hart declares he made the purchase as an investment. Mr. Hart has recently sold property to the value of $170,000 at what he terms to "top price."

His latest purchase, he says, has been made at a price which is around the bottom.

SHOWERS PROBABLE FOR ATLANTA TODAY

The Texas raincloud draws nearer still, and the best C. F. von Herrmann, forecaster, could do in the way of a promise for Atlanta Thursday was to say that the sunshine would be abundant until Thursday afternoon, when, in all probability, showers will arrive.

The temperature Thursday is expected to mount even higher than it has during the past few days of summery weather, since above 60 degrees is looked for around the middle of the day.

Great Enthusiasm Is Shown Over Local Automobile Show

At the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Automobile association, held at the Ansley hotel yesterday at noon, great enthusiasm was evident over the automobile show, which opens Saturday at the Auditorium.

John Lottridge, president of the association, called the meeting to order, and then called for reports from various committees.

B. F. Ulmer, chairman of the publicity and advertising committee, made a comprehensive report of the work which has been done in the way of advertising and publicity for the show, stating that the co-operation of the local press, as well as newspapers throughout the southeast, has been wonderfully helpful in promoting the campaign. Particularly was this true with regard to local newspapers, he said. Mr. Ulmer explained in detail the campaign of direct and mail publicity in the form of letters, cards, circulars and dealers' tickets, which have been sent to something more than 2,500 automotive dealers in this territory.

Kilties' Band Engaged.

R. N. Reed, chairman of the entertainment committee, stated that all arrangements for the features of entertainment had been completed and, in addition to the celebrated Kilties band, a local musical organization had been engaged to give concerts in the truck division of the show. Mr. Reed also outlined the plan of signs which are to be placed at the various entrances of the Auditorium, and also the signs to be used in connection with the individual exhibits.

Crawford Maddox, chairman of the rules and regulation committee, in giving his report, stressed to the dealers present the magnitude and importance of the show, and stated that the ultimate success of each exhibtior would be largely governed by the amount of energy and enthusiasm expended.

R. H. Martin, chairman of the advisory committee, briefly reported his work, which included the supervision of the program, and stated that the programs have been mailed and distributed to more than 7,000 persons throughout the southeast.

Virgil Shepard, manager of the show, reported that all the decorations, including floor covering, would be completed by Thursday night, and everything in readiness for the installation of the exhibits on Friday.

Will Invite Governor.

It was suggested that the governor and his staff be invited to attend the show on some particular night, to be decided upon later, as guests of the Automobile association. It was also decided that the visiting attendants for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' week, to be held during the week of the show, would be accorded a reduction in admission, the fee being set at 25 cents. This same action was taken in regard to Georgia Tech and Tech High boys.

Mr. Lottridge took occasion to compliment very highly all committees on the excellence and thoroughness of their work. Many dealers present reported that there would be a number of factory representatives attending the show.

E. Y. Hill, publicity and advertising director, requested that the names of these factory representatives be furnished him in order that proper recognition might be given them.

Report of the secretary, W. B. Fitzgerald, in regard to finances and other secretarial matters in connection with the show was exceptionally good, and gave an idea of the amount of money that is being expended in this project.

THREE WITNESSES IN MURDER TRIAL ARE SENT TO JAIL

The second trial of Henry Reid, a negro, charged with having shot and killed Babe Rachael, another negro, several months ago, was enlivened Wednesday when Henry Bellingrath, a witness, informed Judge [illegible] D. Humphries in the criminal division of the superior court that some of the witnesses had called him a "liar" after he came off the witness stand. Judge Humphries accordingly ordered two negro women and one negro man to spend the night in jail.

Reid was convicted at his first trial, and was sentenced to from seven to twelve years on the chaingang, but a new trial was granted on the grounds venue had not been established. It is contended by the state that Reid shot Rachael in front of the former's store, on Bell street, over a liquor deal.

Student at Emory Academy Has Fall Of Three Stories

Covington, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Roy Sessions, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sessions, of Marietta, and a student at Emory university academy, at Oxford, fell from the third story of the dormitory there Tuesday afternoon. He suffered a shattered collar bone, and it is feared, other injuries.

He was rushed to a hospital in Atlanta on the 7:45 o'clock train from Emory, and was accompanied by his brother, also a student at Emory and Worth Sharp, son of Dr. Sharp. While his hurts are considered serious, it is not thought that he is internally injured.

Reads Like Atlanta

The operation of public utilities is an old industry. It has a history from which light may be had to illumine all ordinary difficulties that beset it.

In the light of public service history, that covers a century, it is certain that city governments and politicians are universally the enemies of utility companies. They have shown this a thousand times.

The record of public service by private companies all over this country is strewn with vicious attacks by demagogues. "Go get 'em" seems to be the slogan, the only guide, the single impulse of the politicians. The matter of investigating, weighing the evidence and reaching a conclusion as to the entitlements of the private companies never enters into the conduct of the politicians.

This is as true of Atlanta as of Kalamazoo or Honolulu. There's a reason.

It is manifest that politicians can see advantage to themselves only in attacking the private companies—never in defending them. Men who live upon the public votes often believe that their growth depends absolutely upon the energy they employ against the service industry. That's the reason for these attacks.

The Georgia Railway and Power Company believes that this universal practice of political assault is fairly well stated in the editorial presented below.

"A charge persisted in without knowledge of facts is nothing short of slander. This, in essence, was what Abraham Lincoln said (60 years ago) in his Cooper Union speech in New York City. We may safely broaden this generalization to read: Persistent statements not based on investigation of facts are tantamount to deliberate falsification.

"We concede that the average man is as yet very careless in his assertions, and that he sees nothing reprehensible in being wrong. But when being wrong in an assertion works injury to someone, the asserter is morally but little above a common liar.

"During the past few years when public utility owners and managers have been begging the public for relief from excessively low rates for services rendered, there have been numberless printed assertions by public officials to the effect that existing rates were high enough to yield a fair return upon actual investments. Even where appraisals by reputable engineers and audits by accountants have belied such assertions, rarely have the asserters had the honesty to investigate the facts. Instead, their unusal practice has been to ignore all evidence and persist in their unprovable statements.

"To such a pass has this form of immorality brought things that several state legislatures are to be asked to rescind laws relating to state regulation of public utility rates. When mayors and other public officials persist in telling the public that street railways can profitably carry passengers at 5 and 6 cents, is it any wonder that many people have come to regard state utility commissions as being the tools of utility companies?

"In one state the governor has ousted all the utility commissioners, because they incurred the ill will of certain people on account of rate increases granted to public utilities. In another state one of the most fearless and capable utility commissioners has resigned, apparently disgusted with the charges made not merely by some mayors but by some newspapers that the commission has done nothing but raise utility rates unnecessarily. If the engineering societies in such states were a few years in advance of their present development, probably the public would receive authoritative expressions of engineering opinion that would contradict and perhaps silence the false statements of demagogic mayors. The time is certainly overripe for protests from associations of professional and business men against the baseless assertions and the selfish acts of politicians who are pandering to the worst side of human nature. The public would like to ride on street cars for a nickel. They would like better to ride for nothing. Hence the public is not only willing to be convinced, but is half convinced before any one has spoken that the 'predatory railway kings' are robbing them. The silence of men who know better—engineers, business men and editors—is taken as evidence that the statements of the pandering politicians are true.

"It will not do to excuse ourselves from the duty of speaking and acting now. We have 'passed the buck' times without number, until a few more passings will find us all riding in the street cars as slowly and expensively operated as the elevators in the typical city hall. America is face to face with municipal ownership of street car systems, of gas and electric plants. Steadily and with unrelenting pressure, the economic life of public utility companies is being squeezed out. State commissions and courts are trying to be just, but an ignorant public is constantly threatening them and doing all that it can to block their efforts. The ignorance of the public is mainly ascribable to the silence of the men who are most competent to speak not only with authority but with freedom from selfish motives—the professional engineers.

"Whether there is to be municipal ownership of all utilities or not, professional engineers will be employed. Many engineers think that their chances of securing adequate compensation are better under public than under private administration. At all events there is so little to choose in that respect, that engineers as a body cannot be charged with selfish motives in advocating fair rates for public utility corporation services and fair treatment of public utility commissions.

"Apropos of the unsound attitude of most municipal officials relative to public utility rates, we quote from a recent address before the League of California Municipalities by W. E. Creed, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

"'On the habit of jumping at conclusions without knowledge of the facts, I cite the official procedure when an application for increased rates is filed.

"'The city council meets. It forthwith passes a resolution and instructs the city attorney to oppose the application. The city attorney issues his public pronouncement, duly accompanied by photographs, saying: "I will fight to the last ditch," as he raises his eyes to heaven and prays to God to give him strength that justice may triumph and right prevail.

"'Never in all my experience, and I have been in the public utility business a good many years as a lawyer and as an executive, never in all my experience have I ever heard of, read, or seen a resolution by a city council directing a city attorney to investigate the facts and to reason from those facts to a sound conclusion in the public interest. Apparently some public officials are not concerned about the facts, but are stalwart nevertheless in their conclusions.

"'A rate inquiry ought not to be an adversary proceeding, but should be a mutual and co-operative investigation of the facts, proceeding upon the theory that either too high or too low a rate is an injury both to the utility and to the public.'"

Efficiency Lectures.

"Human Efficiency" will be the general topic of the series of lectures on practical psychology to be delivered by Harriet Luella McCollum, beginning Friday, March 4, at 8 p. m. at the Central Congregational church.

The McCollum club, formed last year under the inspiration of a visit at that time from Mrs. McCollum, is sponsoring the lecture series which was anticipated by an address on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Effie McCollum Jones before the club.

Mrs. Jones also gave an interesting description of the teachers' training school in practical psychology at Memphis, in which two former Atlantans, Dr. Terry Watter and D. B. Ashford, are teachers.

Private Showing.

The members of the Atlanta Woman's club are invited to a private showing of Winston Churchill's "The Inside of the Cup," Saturday morning, March 5, at 9:30 o'clock, at the Rialto theater.

Study Class Meets.

The study class of the Atlanta Woman's club held an interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon at the club house, Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, chairman, presiding.

Dr. W. F. Melton, head of the department of English of Emory university, gave an interesting talk on Ella Wheeler Wilcox, giving the women a view into the life of this noted woman, not generally known by the public. Dr. Melton enjoyed a personal correspondence with Mrs. Wilcox and showed the women some of the most interesting letters.

Loyd Hatcher, who has an unusually beautiful boy soprano, sang two songs, "O Sole Mio," by Capua, and "In the Time of Roses," by Luise Reichardt. He was accompanied by his cousin, Aileen Lonsdale.

Mrs. E. M. Jones gave a short talk on "The Passion Play."

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adger Smythe gave a beautiful dinner Tuesday evening at their home, when their guests were: Mrs. John D. Little, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Troup Howard, Mrs. Richard W. Johnston, James Alexander and Hugh Richardson.

Recital and Reading At Edison Hall.

A reading and recital will be given at the Edison hall, 182 Peachtree street, Friday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

Howard Irwin North, of Boston, the best in his profession, will give Mass., who is recognized as one of the readings.

Child Players to Present Juvenile Comedy.

A Children's theater, which is to be a permanent institution training the little folks in the co-ordination of the arts, will have its first big event on March 9, when the play will be "When the Pig Bank Busted."

Miss Mary Ella Perry, of Brenau studios in Atlanta, is director, and the author of the little drama. Her pupils are the players.

Silver Tea.

Oglethorpe chapter, No. 122, Order of the Eastern Star, will give a silver tea Saturday evening, March 5, in the Masonic temple at Buckhead.

An invitation is cordially extended to the public. Music will be furnished throughout the evening and refreshments will be served.

Benefit Bridge At Woman's Club.

The thrift committee of the Atlanta Woman's club will give a benefit bridge this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse.

Atlanta's Profit in Bonds Stressed by Mrs. Hermance

Mrs. H. P. Hermance, just returned from Massachusetts and New York, uses a striking comparison between the snow-blocked streets she left there and Atlanta's sunshine and other material advantages, to point the value of the bond issue, and, asked to give her reasons for her enthusiasm, she said:

"Sunday, February 20, I spent in western Massachusetts. Snow fell the live-long day, smothering everything, even sound. The milk men made their rounds under great difficulties, and after that there was no passing. Pedestrians would have had to plough through snow more than a foot deep. By nightfall it was two feet. Nature had imprisoned a city full of people! The temperature was eight degrees below zero, and coal $20 per ton.

"When I reached New York the next afternoon the snow in Fifth avenue was piled six and eight feet high in the center, with narrow channels cleared on either side for traffic lanes. Hundreds of trucks and teams and thousands of men were laboring in the cold air to clear the snow away from the main arteries of travel. The cross streets had not been cleared at all, and it was an adventure to ride but a few blocks in a taxi over the heaps, hummocks, lumps and valleys of the packed snow, through the one track that it was possible to negotiate. The scrape and clash of shovels rang above all sounds and a city full of people were uncomfortable and struggling to rid themselves of the burden of snow and slush.

"That snow storm cost New York over $1,000,000 the papers announced. Twelve thousand men were reported to have been engaged in clearing the city so that the business of life might go on.

"When I reached Atlanta the sun shone warmly; flowering shrubs were in full bloom; jonquils and daffodils budding and the streets filled with romping children and throngs of contented people going about their affairs in comfort, with no fear of a visitation such as had smothered the cities of the north and east, who have this sort of an emergency with consequent expenditure to expect frequently.

"Yet under these beneficent skies, with all the natural advantage which Atlanta possesses over other places, our city lacks the essential safeguards of a competent sewer system and an assured plentiful supply of pure water, and the fundamentals of adequate schools, clean, well-kept paved streets and an able handling of traffic through well-constructed outlets.

"With no emergency of snow-removal to ever consider, with more blessings than we can readily enumerate we still so lack vision and a full sense of our duty to the health, enlightenment and comfort of all our people that a portion of our citizens are having to make violent efforts to interest enough voters in the bond election so that funds may be obtained to merely provide the essential permanent necessities of the town. Since we are spared many of the expenses and discomforts that the inhabitants of most other places must meet, why may we not expect to have the very best of material equipment in our town for our safety and well-being.

If 12,000 men were energetically working in Atlanta toward the permanent improvements that we need instead of for mere relief from a temporary affliction, as in New York,—what marvelous results we would see! And why should not twenty times 12,000 citizens evidence enough interest in their town to work for the bond issue and vote for it, and then stand by the governing power of their city with a real and helpful interest in the improvements that the bond money will make possible?

"If the citizens will unitedly boost for their town and for the sorely needed improvements, we could have here, in a phenomenally short time, a city thrice the size of the present Atlanta.

"A city with the natural and climatic advantages we have, possessed of a safe and adequate water supply, a competent sewer system and clean streets, guaranteeing health; superior schools, guaranteeing education of the best, and a system of well-paved streets with numerous main channels of travel, permitting the satisfactory handling of an ever-increasing traffic, will inevitably thrive and grow by leaps and bounds.

"When most new citizens come to Atlanta now they are compelled by business or self-interest, and repelled by the fear that they will find undesirable conditions here. We need to have them impelled by a keen desire to live in the most progressive, comfortable and agreeable city in the country, and if we can, through means of an investment of $8,850,000 of bonded indebtedness assure ourselves of the much needed improvements for our streets and schools, and thereby acquire definite and valuable increases in our population, we are only exhibiting the most elementary business sense in securing them

"These new-comers will help to pay off the indebtedness, the improvements will be ours to enjoy and thrive upon, and the renown of Atlanta will equal that of certain western cities which boost in season and out, bond themselves to the limit for every possible civic improvement, and grow like the beanstalk of Jack, the Giant-Killer."

TO DIRECT CHORUS

MRS. GRACE BROWN TOWNSEND.

Prominent singer and musician, who will direct the woman's chorus in the opening operalogue of the Joseph Habersham series on Tuesday night at Cable hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe To Visit Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Lowe, formerly of Atlanta, but for the past three years residents of Shanghai, China, will be interested to know of their landing in Vancouver, British Columbia, last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, with their three little daughters, Antoinette, Mary Irene and Alice Barbara, will arrive in Atlanta next Sunday evening for a visit of three or four months.

Mr. Lowe has been in Shanghai as auditor of the Standard Oil company, of New York, for the northern part of China. Mrs. Lowe was formerly Miss Irene Wilkie, of Atlanta, and they have many friends and relatives here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lowe have been very popular socially in the foreign colony of Shanghai, and have occupied a handsome home in the section of the city where the Americans reside. They have leased an apartment on St. Charles avenue, and will take possession on their arrival Sunday.

Dr. Skelton Will Address Third Ward.

An interesting meeting for bonds will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Luke's M. E. church in the third ward, corner Powell and Berean avenue. Rev. Mr. Echols will preside. Dr. Shelton will address the meeting. A feature of much pleasure to all who attend will be the music by "Fiddling" John Carson, the famous Georgia champion. Everybody cordially invited.

Mrs. Harper To Entertain.

Mrs. Marion Harper will entertain at luncheon Thursday, March 10, at the Piedmont Driving club, in compliment to Mrs. Ross Harper, of Philadelphia, who will be her guest, and to Mrs. Dunbar Roy's guests, Mrs. Percy Smedley Darlington, of Westchester, Pa., and Mrs. Beaden Kyle, of Philadelphia.

Council of Jewish Women Honors Mrs. Sporborg.

Mrs. William B. Sporborg, of New York, was the principal speaker yesterday at a meeting of the Council of Jewish Women at the temple, when she delivered a strong and interesting address on the broadening opportunity of women in organized effort.

Mrs. Sporborg is a leader in club work in New York, president of the ish Women, and prominent in the New York section, Council of Jewcity and state federations of women's clubs. The subject matter of her address was from the viewpoint of experience, ability and vision, and it was illuminated by interesting personality.

Professor W. A. Sutton made a brief talk, urging registration and the need of the bond issue, and Mrs. Benjamin Elsas sang in delightful style.

The meeting followed a luncheon of the Atlanta council in honor of Mrs. Sporborg. Daffodils and bridal wreaths in silver vases were the decoration for handsomely appointed luncheon tables.

Miss Ponselle Arrives.

Miss Rosa Ponselle, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, arrived yesterday, and is at the Georgian Terrace. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Halle. William Tyroler, pianist, who is accompanist to Miss Ponselle, accompanied her to Atlanta, and her week's visit will be largely spent in practice and rest.

To Visitors.

Mrs. Percy Smedley Darlington, of Westchester, Pa., and Mrs. Beaden Kyle, of Philadelphia, who will visit Mrs. Dunbar Roy next week, will be entertained at luncheon on Friday, March 11, by Mrs. Charles A. Conkin.

Visitors Entertained.

Mrs. James T. Selman entertained Wednesday afternoon at a bridge party at her home on Park drive for her guest, Mrs. W. R. Anglin, of Charlotte, N. C., and her sister, Mrs. W. J. Gower, who has recently moved to Atlanta from Douglasville.

Throughout the house spring flowers were used as decorations. After the game tea was served in the dining room from a lace-covered table, a silver loving cup filled with jonquils adorned the center, and was encircled with silver candlesticks holding yellow unshaded tapers.

The guests of honor were presented with corsages of pink and lavender sweetpeas.

The prize for top score was a bottle of toilet water, and the consolation was a deck of cards.

Mrs. Selman received her guests wearing a gown of brown lace over brown satin.

Mrs. Gower wore brown taffeta.

The guests included Mrs. F. M. Wodall, Mrs. L. H. Parris, Mrs. A. W. White, Mrs. W. J. Gower, Mrs. M. J. Wright, Mrs. E. R. Harris, Mrs. Floyd Carmichael, Mrs. H. McC. Stanford, Mrs. C. J. Baisden, Miss Mildred Selman, Mrs. Paul Dixon, Mrs. J. D. Freeman, Mrs. H. J. Rosenberg, Miss Alice Greene, Mrs. Willingham Smith, Mrs. Allen Stanford, Mrs. W. R. Anglin, Mrs. R. H. McDougall, Jr., and Mrs. Z. A. Snipes.

Home Dinner.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Philip's cathedral will serve a pork chop dinner at their lunchroom, 16 Washington street, Thursday, from 12 to 2:30 o'clock. Menu as follows: Pork chops, browned, tomato sauce, cream potatoes, hot rolls, tea or coffee, tapico pudding. Big plate dinner, with dessert included, 25 cents. Mrs. Thomas Henry Johnston, chairman of the day, assisted by a strong committee, will give prompt attention. Public cordially invited.

Cake Sale At Boys' Shop.

The Sigma Theta Pi sorority will have a cake sale at the Boys' shop on the Whitehall street viaduct Friday morning, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Some of the famous cake bakers of Atlanta have contributed their choicest products.

The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to charity.

English Ave. School.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

For Miss Stanford.

Mrs. Powers Entertained.

Mrs. Joseph Madison High was hostess at an informal luncheon Wednesday at her home, on Peachtree road, for Mrs. Ray Powers, who has just returned from France.

The beautifully appointed table was overlaid with a Madeira cover. In the center and at each end were wicker baskets filled with spring flowers. The place cards bore the monogram of the hostess in gold and white and were attached to small paper baskets filled with mints.

Covers were placed for Mrs. High, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Mark Bailey, Miss Marion Woodward, Mrs. Frank West, Mrs. T. T. Williams, Miss Nina Hornaday, Mrs. J. A. Mathewson, Mrs. C. B. Wilmer, Mrs. J. K. Orr, Mrs. William Barnes, Mrs. Charles Davis and Mrs. Dennie Peteet.

Mrs. Green, Hostess.

A lovely affair of Monday was the bridge-luncheon given by Mrs. Henry Haines Green in her apartment on the Boulevard, in honor of Miss Elsie Carpenter, of New York, and Miss Lois Fondern, of Clarksdale, Miss.

The living room and sun parlor were bright with spring flowers and ferns.

The prize for top score was an ivory pincushion, and a perfume atomizer was given for consolation. The honor guests were presented with dainty French novelties.

The guests included Mrs. J. B. Rowe, Mrs. Bliss Cook, Mrs. Robert Mullinnix, Mrs. C. E. LaFontaine, Mrs. J. K. Barrett, Mrs. Clarence Bemis, Mrs. W. O. Nix, Mrs. R. C. Turner, Mrs. W. C. Lee, Misses Carpenter and Fondern.

Honoring Bride-Elect.

Miss Eva Mae Willingham, a bride-elect of this month, was honor guest at a bridge-tea yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. E. M. Lusk at her home on Cypress street.

Miss Willingham was presented a fancy work basket. The top-score prize was a hand-made collar and cuff set, and a deck of cards was given for consolation.

Mrs. Lusk was gowned in blue embroidered taffeta.

Miss Alexa Stirling will leave from the Brookwood station this morning at 11:40 o'clock for New York, where she will be the guest for a few days of Miss Josephine Windle at her home on Long Island, before sailing for England and France on the Carmania, where she will take part in the golf championship games. She will not return to Atlanta before late in the fall.

Mrs. G. C. Manell, of Rochester, N. Y., the feted guest of Mrs. J. A. Alexander.

Mrs. Wilson Again Heads Uncle Remus Association

The annual luncheon of the Uncle Remus association took place at the Winecoff hotel on Wednesday afternoon. The opening address was made by Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, president of the association, who introduced Colonel F. J. Paxon as toastmaster, who introduced the speakers.

Dr. Charles Crane delighted the audience with the reading of four African folk-lore stories: "The Wisdom of God in Contrast With That of Man," "Mutombo Split the Drum," "Nsesi in Search of His Mother" and "How the Prairie Dog Saved His Mother." There is a certain bit of philosophy that goes with each of these quaint stories. Particularly is this so in the first story that points out the moral "that there's a reason for things—so be contented as they are." "Br'er Rabbit" and Br'er Fox" played no part, as the rat, pig, elephant, gazelle, elephant, butterfly, leopard, fly, snake and antelope figured conspicuously in these stories.

Dr. Crane's readings were very instructive and were intensely enjoyed.

E. G. Turner, of the Y. M. C. A., who has done wonderful missionary work in China, was the next speaker. He said that if you want to get a laugh in China, read an Uncle Remus story. His message from China was very interesting. He spoke of the stories of China in which figure demons and evil spirits—nothing to provoke humor—but all foreboding evil.

Officers Elected.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, president; Mrs. E. L. Connally, first vice president; Mrs. Sam D. Jones, second vice president; Mrs. A. C. McHan, third vice president; Mrs. H. G. Hastings, recording secretary; Mrs. T. T. Stevens, treasurer; Mrs. Warren D. White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. L. Connally, official hostess; Mrs. John F. Purser, auditor; Mrs. Fred Stewart, chairman for extension work; Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie, historian.

The table decorations were beautiful in white and yellow, for which Mrs. Hastings was given a vote of appreciation.

KIRKWOOD BOYS HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGES

Julius Calhoun and Wiley Calhoun, aged 18 and 15 years, respectiively, and George Anderson, aged 17, all of whom are charged with burglarizing the South Kirkwood pharmacy last Saturday, on arraignment before Justice Giless Wednesday waived trial. They were remanded to jail in default of $2,000 bond, which Justice Giles had fixed in each case.

CITIZENS SCORE POWER COMPANY

Plans Are Announced at Rally Wednesday for Mass Meeting to Be Held on March 10.

Still further condemnation of the Georgia Railway and Power company as an "octopus" and a "grasping, avaricious corporation," was hurled Wednesday night at an indignation meeting of citizens of the Tenth ward at the Adair school, where Dr. L. N. Huff, a leading exponent of municipal ownership, and W. M. Hairston, chairman of program arrangements for the mass meeting planned by those fighting the gas rate raise, were the principal speakers.

Dr. Huff, when he arose to speak, was tendered an enthusiastic reception by the gathering. He explained that his interest in the fight against the increase in gas rates which had been granted by the railroad commission was only as a consumer of gas and quoted figures tending to show the lack of logic he claims for the power company's contentions. He declared that there is an immense profit in the by-products of the gas company. He also read excerpts from the power company's publication "Two Bells," labeling the statements therein as "lies out of the whole cloth." The comparison between the gas rates in Richmond and Atlanta was also attacked.

Mr. Hairston, who was the first speaker of the evening, told his hearers that the fight against the gas raise was "a fight for the financial emancipation of the masses." He said that the meeting had been called to sound out the sentiment of the citizens and to urge that all attend the mass meeting at the Baptist Tabernacle March 10.

John Sewardt, a resident of the tenth ward, said that the service the gas company rendered the community was absolutely as good as could be desired, but said that the raise in rates was outrageous. Upon question by Mr. Hairston, Mr. Stewart said that he favored municipal ownership of the gas plant. Mrs. J. E. McGinnis said that the service was fine, but that in her opinion, if the raise had to come it should have come during the war days, when wages and salaries were higher.

At the conclusion of the meeting, resolutions similar to those which have been passed at previous meetings against the gas raises were passed.

FULL PROBE ORDERED OF THE LANDIS AFFAIR

Acceptance of Baseball Arbiter Position Termed Serious Impropriety.

Washington, March 2.—Acceptance by Federal Judge Landis of the position as supreme baseball arbiter is inconsistent with the full and adequate performance of his duties as judge and constitutes a serious impropriety on his part, the house judiciary committee held today in recomending full investigation at the next session of congress of impeachment charges made by Representative Welty, democrat, of Ohio.

The report of the subcommittee was adopted unanimously by the full committee, although Chairman Volstead reserved the right to file a minority report.

Landis Is Silent.

This was the sole comment of Federal Judge K. M. Landis regarding the report of the house judiciary committee characterizing his activities as baseball arbiter "A serious impropriety" and "at least inconsistent with the full and adequate performance" with his duties as a federal judge.

ATLANTA WASTING ENORMOUS VOLUME OF UNUSED CREDIT WHILE IMPROVEMENTS STAGNATE

(The following statement by the Bond Campaign Committee, Frank H. Inman, chairman, is reproduced here by M. Rich & Brothers Company for the benefit of the Bond Issue.)

An effort is afoot in certain quarters to make it appear that Atlanta already is bonded as high as she ought to be bonded; that additional bonds would carry the city too dangerously near the seven per cent limit of the constitution; that some emergency might then arise which the city could not meet.

This effort to defeat the pending bond issue, like numerous other efforts, will not bear analysis. The argument thus advanced is not supported by the facts. It becomes, when analyzed, a mere puff of vapor.

Atlanta's gross bonded debt at the present time is $5,699,500. In the hands of the sinking fund commission are cash and securities amounting to $2,220,000, leaving a net bonded debt of $3,479,500.

Atlanta's taxable values in 1920 were $233,381,896. Applied to these values, the constitutional bonding limit of seven per cent for Georgia municipalities produces a bonding capacity, for Atlanta, of $16,336,732.

With an existing net debt of $3,479,500, and a proposed new bond issue of $8,850,000, Atlanta's total indebtedness when the bonds are passed will be $12,329,500. This amount subtracted from the city's present bonding capacity leaves a margin of $4,007,232.

That is to say, Atlanta can issue the bonds now proposed, amounting to $8,850,000, and add this debt to the existing debt, and still have a margin of unused credit amounting to $4,007,232.

But Atlanta's taxable values for 1921 are certain to increase. The estimate is that they will go to $255,000,000 this year. This will give Atlanta a bonding capacity of $17,850,000. The existing debt and the proposed debt, when added together and subtracted from this bonding capacity, would therefore leave an unused margin of $5,520,500 by the time the proposed bonds have been put upon the market.

It is perfectly clear, therefore, that Atlanta is not, as certain opponents of the pending bond issue try to make it appear, already bonded as high as she ought to be bonded; and is not dangerously near the seven per cent limit of the constitution. In point of fact, the seven per cent limit on bond issues by the city of Atlanta has been removed from the constitution of Georgia, and the legislature can authorize the city to go still higher by a vote of the people; but that is another story. For the purpose of the present article, we are assuming that the seven per cent limit still applies to Atlanta municipal bonds. In other words, we prefer to lean to the side of extreme conservatism. We are trying to take the argument of the opposition, as they advance it, and demonstrate by fact that it amounts to nothing.

Not only is Atlanta, as above demonstrated, not anywhere near her bonding capacity at the present time, but, on the contrary, she is carrying unused an enormous volume of wasted credit, while her schools go to rack, her waterworks system carries an overload which threatens to tear the machinery to pieces, her health is imperiled by three thousand surface closets and seventeen sewer outfalls in populous neighborhoods, and her traffic is congested for the lack of adequate thoroughfares.

Not only will Atlanta not overbond herself by issuing the bonds as now proposed, but, on the contrary, she will have a bonding margin still unused, to meet contingencies arising in the future, of $5,520,500, and this unused margin will constantly increase as taxable values increase.

And more than all this, Atlanta's bonded debt on a per capita basis at the present time is among the lowest in the country. While other cities have per capita bonded debts running all the way from $50 up to $165, Atlanta's per capita bonded debt, at the present time, is only $28.

Here are the figures on twenty-two leading cities, including Atlanta, showing assessed values of all taxable property, total bonded debt, per capita debt, and population. All of the figures are for the year 1920, including the population figures.

Quintet Tries to Revive Speed

There are furrows on the noble brow of Joe Bean, mentor of the basketball team of the Atlanta Athletic club. This is natural. Mr. Bean is full of years and honors. He has a right to frontal corrugations. But there are likewise, furrows on the dome of thought of Johnny Westmoreland, who is captain of the same team, and the furrows were not put there by nature. For Captain Westmoreland is in no dire danger of receiving an old-age pension if congress authorize one at its special session.

But both Colonel Bean and Captain Westmoreland are perturbed over the same condition. Likewise is Major General Al Doonan, who is the Pooh-Bah of the aforementioned organization. Here's the reason:

The Atlanta Athletic club's quintet leaves Saturday to participate in the Amateur Athletic union's national championship tournament, which opens in Kansas City Monday. The club athletes are bent on making a good showing in this free-for-all, if they don't come home the salted hog meat.

Major General Doonan and Colonel Bean and Captain Westmoreland and Lieutenant Bass and Sergeant Graves and Corporal Morrison and Lance Jack Sullivan and First-Class Private Oliver all admit that right on the eve of the tournament they have gone frightfully stale. They say that they have lost the speed and the surety in passing and shooting baskets that they had early in the season, which permitted them to sweep down southern opposition with a frightful ruthlessness.

They say that they began slipping even before the Georgia games and declare that they are going to have the hardest kind of work getting back in form by the time the train pulls out that will carry them to Missouri. Wherefore they are practicing early and ardently at the A. A. C. gymnasium each day.

How Captain Westmoreland Feels About Proposition.

In its game with the Agoga team just before the Kentcky-Georgia finals Tuesday night, the Athletic club showed conclusively that though Westmoreland's crowd had lost little of their skill on attack, they had lost practically every semblance of their once impregnable defense.

The Agogas are no weaklings, for they would never have been city champions if they were not formidable basketball organization. But admittedly the Agogas have never classed up with the club organization. Still, Tuesday night, they were able to filter through the club defense on remarkably frequent intervals, and the ease with which they shot baskets for a while threatened to permit them to overtake the club players and win the game.

Discussing the whys and wherefores after the battle, Captain Westmoreland said "there's nothing to it except that we have gone stale. We got up a fine edge early in the eason, too early, in fact. We had lost that edge before we met Georgia. We were never quite ourselves in those games.

"Since then we've done no practicing. This tournament has interferred, and tonight has shown us just how desperatley we need scrimmage work.

"But don't forget we'll be busy from now on. I've called a practice for tomorrow afternoon and, if hard work will turn the trick, we'll be back in form by the time we are ready to catch a train for the tournament, and if we are, we are going to give a good account of ourselves. For we are not going to make this long trip with any idea of early elimination."

* * * *

Kentucky Satisfied With Southern Title.

The University of Kentucky is mightly tickled with its championship, so tickled, in fact, that it is not going out after any new fields to conquer. Colonel Doonan was authorized by the A. A. U. to offer the winner of the southern tourney an amount equal to about half the expenses of the trip, to participate in the national affair.

The Kentuckians sagely shook their heads. "We came down here hoping to win the S. I. A. A. title, but we are satisfied with it. Anyhow, we've been away from our classes long enogh to give some of us a lot of trouble before summer," explained Captain Hayden.

* * * *

Report of Tourney Blasts Birmingham.

On the stage at the final game of the tournament, was Big Bill Streit, who runs everything athletic over Birmingham way. Bill is a vice presdient of the A. A. U.

"I was sitting in the Birmingham Athletic club Monday night, and I could hear the yelling of the crowd over here at the Georgia-Tech fracas," explained Bill. "So I thought it would be a good idea for me to drop over for the last night's show. It's been a great week for amateur athletics in the south."

* * * *

Kid Yorke Finds Game Too Rough.

Kid Yorke, who is the least handsome man who ever appeared in an Atlanta prize ring, and who has had his features addditionally disfigured by their stopping more punches than were served on Christmas before the nation was blighted, was an interested spectator at all the tournament contests.

By force of habit he got a ringside seat and grunted his approval as the going got hot. "Did you ever play basketball?" he was asked.

VANCE SAYS FRANK IS TITLE-HOLDER IN SALESMANSHIP

Henry Vance, former sporting editor of The Georgian, but who returned to his old home in Birmingham some months ago to devote the whole of his time to short story writing, has brought out his typewriter for further sports endeavor, and his column "On the Level" now forms a very readable portion of The Birmingham Age-Herald.

For his first theme, Henry goes back to last summer when Charlie Frank pulled one of his well-known deals, Vance relating the story in this manner:

Colonel Quack Smith, prexy of the Baronial outfit, has brought to light a deal which will further establish Cholly Frank, Atlanta magnate-president-manager, as the David Harum of baseball. Now, to begin with, it must be admitted that the dimensioned Dutchman has more antagonists than hooch—and that's saying a whole lungfull. (For both the enemies and the friends of booze try to kill it a fraction more than ever and anon.) Still, regardless of the fact that there are many in baseball who haven't any love for Cholly, they all are willing to admit that he's about the foxiest goof running 'round on ankles.

The Baron boss was in a reminiscent mood, and he brought to light a trade which netted the Dutchman $750, when a few minutes before the deal had been effected, Cholly would have sold his chances for the first installment on a paper of pins.

The Atlanta club had in its possession Razor Ledbetter, and the management and the elongated Razor had fallen into a dispute about the constitutionality of certain club rules. By virtue of this argument Mr. Ledbetter had been suspended and fined. And, according to Colonel Smith, Mr. Frank had made up his mind to give the hurler his unconditional release without seeking to get a penny.

It so happened that Ledbetter's suspension and Joe Thorburn's jump to the Million-Dollar league had left Frank in a bad way for pitchers, so he had chartered a berth on a cinder spreader and had gone to New York to seek aid from the Yankees.

Cholly was seated at headquarters of the New York American league club when a messenger boy sauntered in and flipped a telegram upon the desk of Colonel Huston.

The Yankee owner noted contents of the message, looked over his spectacles at Cholly and said: "Just got a wire from a Carolina league club. They want us to let 'em have a pitcher."

The Dutchman did some rapid-fire thinking and the machinery in his brain-cells ground out a happy thought. He grinned. He spat. He hitched up his trousers. Then he spoke.

"Wire 'em you have Ledbetter and that they can have him for $750." With this announcement Mr. Frank's grin acreage increased.

Colonel Houston by this time was also the victim of the smile epidemic, and he followed out Cholly's suggestion.

That afternoon the two were seated in the office and another messanger boy sauntered in. (That's characteristic of messenger boys.) He flipped another yellow envelope upon the table.

Thus it happened that the wily Dutchman, by speeding up his think tank for this emergency situation, got $750 for a player he was about to cast adrift as a free agent.

The fact that Ledbetter appeared to be the property of a big league club spurred the Carolinians on toward buying him.

KIRKWOOD GIRLS MEET FULTON HIGH TODAY

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Kirkwood basketball court will be the scene of a hard-fought game between the Kirkwood High school girls and the Fulton High five. This should prove a thriller, as both teams are about evenly matched. Basketball is still in full swing in DeKalb county, and it is expected that a record-breaking crowd will be out to witness the two teams in action.

NORTH CAROLINA BEGINS BASEBALL TRAINING SEASON

Chapel Hill, March 2.—(Special.)—Coach Bill Fetzer today called out all candidates for the varsity baseball team at the University of North Carolina and began regular practice. He has had his battery men at work for two weeks, but the real drive began today.

Five veterans are among the candidates: Captain "Lefty" Wilson and Llewellyn, pitchers; Lowe, first base; McLean, second base; and Sweetman, outfielder.

Last year's crack freshman team is expected to fill the holes on the varsity. "Casey" Morris behind the bat; Bryson and Bell, pitchers; Shirley, first base; McDonald, shortstop; Fred Morris, third base; and Swink, Smith and Carmichael, outfielders, are all of varsity caliber, as is also Spruill, first base, on the 1917 freshman team, back again in the university for the first year since then. Fetzer will probably shift some of his surplus infield material to the outfield.

NEW YORK BOXING CHAMPION BEATEN BY SPENGLER, COP

In the semi-final between heavyweights, R. N. Townsend, of the Twenty-second, declined to answer the bell for the third round and the honors were awarded to Wallace Scripearage, of the navy. James Harrison, Twenty-second infantry, defeated Alfred Kemp, Newport naval station, in another heavyweight contest.

SPARTANBURG "Y" FIVE TO ENTER BIG CAGE TOURNAMENT

Spartanburg, S. C., March 2.—(Special.)—The Spartanburg Y. M. C. A. basketball team will be one of the three southern teams to enter the national tournament to be held at Kansas City during the week of March 5. The other southern teams will be from the Atlanta Athletic club and the University of Georgia. The local team has been defeated on its own court but once this season, and has won most of its games away from home, and has laid claim to the championship of the Carolinas.

TRIS MAKES HOMERS IN INITIAL EFFORT

Cleveland, March 2.—With Catcher Steve O'Neill serving the ball in battling practice, Manager Tris Speaker, of the Cleveland Indians, inaugurated the spring training season at Dallas by driving two balls over the fence, according to advices received here. The champions were greeted with ideal weather. Jim Bagby was expected today.

WALKER WILL FIGHT GIBBONS MARCH 11

Kansas City, Mo., March 2.—Hugh Walker, Kansas City heavyweight, has been matched to meet Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul, in a ten-round bout in Havana, Cuba, March 11, Jay J. Thomas, Walker's manager, said here today. Walker and Gibbons have met before during the winter and in each instance Gibbons has been declared the winner.

TECH'S OUTER WORKS LOOK TO BE GREAT

BY WALLACE GEORGE.

Despite the military parade that occupied the greater part of Grant field and that took up the greater part of the practice hour, too, the Tech baseball squad managed to squeeze in about four or five innings of good, fast baseball. Two nines of the Jackets lined up against each other, with Ed Collins and Ed Liddell doing battery service for the one team, and O'Leary and Barnett for the other.

The warm day was overflowing with good baseball weather, and the regulars from last year, ten or twelve of them, made their first appearance in full uniform. These were issued Wednesday by Coach Clay, and others will probably be given out as soon as the signout list becomes effective next Monday. The last big cut of the year has already been doped out and will be made public Friday, some 35 names being included in the list.

While Coach Clay persistently declines to mention the likeliest prospects for his varsity, there are at least five men who are absolute certainties on the line-up, if they don't suddenly make a bid for a hospital reservation. These are the three gardeners and the first and third-sackers.

That outfield is a regular million-dollar affair from every viewpoint. Esau Settle, Soc Ingram and Red Barron are all consistent hitters, Soc leading the Tech men last year with .428, and Red and Esau both hit a bit over .290. That it is a fast fielding outfit is shown by the way they line up in a footrace in uniform, neither Soc nor Esau being one bit behind Red, who is fast enough to make the Johns Hopkins' meet take notice.

On the infield Bevo Webb, who swatted .323 last season, again reposes on first, and Eddie Morgan, whose inelegibility last year forced him to play with the scrubs, will take care of the third corner duties. Buck Flowers, keystone guardian of the '20 team, will, in all probability, be back on the same old spot this year, but just now a rather difficult schedule makes it impossible for him to put all his time on baseball.

Track Preparations.

The regular call for track candidates for the 1921 team is to be sounded today at 4 o'clock out on the Tech campus, when Coach Alexander assembles his men in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. It is a preliminary meeting, merely for getting things started and to collect the data on the various and sundry candidates.

The showing of the quartette of Tech athletes that went north to represent Tech, was truly remarkable from every viewpoint. Not only did every man going win a place, but the team stood second in the open events of the meet and, in addition, Daves copped the feature race of the whole day, the 1,000-yard affair, that did not count in the accumulative scoring. Incidentally, according to the Tech rule, every man winning a place in a meet of this calibre is entitled to a varsity track letter. This is especially fortunate for Red Barron, because the remainder of the year he is planning to devote his time to baseball instead of the sprint work.

The men can't get at active track work until next Monday for the big cross-country affair is billed for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Always a great attraction, it promises to far eclipse anything attempted in years gone by. There are to be 75 cakes awarded to this number who first canter down the finishing lane, and the presentations are to be made by some popular maidens of the college set.

Every day for several weeks, the course out to the waterworks and back has been dotted with runners, and it is safe to estimate that 500 will toe the mark Saturday. The men line up across the entire field, from the north end of the stadium over to the bleachers, must pass through the north gate of the field, thence to the turning point nearly two miles away. They are given 26 minutes to finish the course in, although the winner will trot home in something slightly over 19 minutes. McCleskey holds the course record of 19:1 2-5, but cannot enter the race on account of his sprained ankle. Daves rules favorite just now, though Fouche, Cotton and other veterans will undoubtedly push him hard all the way.

FIVE YANK HOLDOUTS REPORT TO HUGGINS

New York, March 2.—Five New York American league players who have been "holding out" have surrendered and will report to Manager Huggins at Shreveport, La., next week, it was announced today.

They are Wally Schang, catcher; Bob Shawkey and Jack Quinn, pitchers; Aaron Ward and Wallie Pipp, infielders. Roger Peckinpaugh, shortstop, and Bob Meusel, utility player, have not yet signed their contracts, but Huggins believs they will report for training with the other regulars.

Norman McMillan, a Yankee prospect formerly with the Greenville club of the South Atlantic league, is performing brilliantly at the Shreveport camp.

WOMEN SEEKING PLACE ON GOLF COMMITTEE

Chicago, March 2.—Members of the Women's Western Golf association have announced their intention to appeal for appointment of a woman as one of the four new members added to the United States Golf association's executive committee by a recent decision of the U. S. G. A.

Leading golfers of the Women's Western Golf association are said to feel that one of these positions should be filled by a woman from the southern, eastern and western associations in rotation.

ELEVEN REDS LEAVE FOR TRAINING CAMP

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 2.—Eleven players of the Cincinnati National league baseball club assembled here and left for the south today, headed by Manager Moran. Other players who did not come to Cincinnati will go to the training camp at Cisco, Texas, directly from their homes.

Change Schedule.

State College, Pa., March 2.—Instead of opening the southern trip with the University of Virginia on March 29, the Penn State baseball team will have its first test against the United States Naval Training Station team at Hampton Roads, Va., on the preceding day. This announcement was made today by Manager Seeds. This will give Coach Bezdek's nine six games against teams in the south, the other contests being with Virginia Military Institute, Washington and Lee, Navy and Georgetown.

CONSTITUTION'S BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT STORY PRAISED

"Editor Constitution: I don't know much about basketball but I flatter myself I know a good story when the other fellow writes it. When an account of a game between two teams in either of which I have a personal interest will keep my eye glued to the page until the last word is absorbed, will make curious little thrills run up and down my backbone and will make me feel in spite of a moist eye a desire to throw up my hat and cheer; I know I have struck a masterpiece. That's just how Fuzzy Woodruff's story of the Tech-Georgia basketball game affected me and I am not ashamed of it.

"Julian Ralph at his best never did anything better. My hat's off to Mr. Woodruff. He wields a Homeric pen, or to be more modern, he pounds a wicked typewriter. (Signed) JOSEPH B. BABB.

RICKARD IS OFFERED BIG GUARANTEE

New York, March 2.—Tex Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship contest, announced tonight receipt of a $750,000 offer for the bout from London. The offer, in cable form, was signed by George McDonald, of the London Olympia. Rickard, who has until the end of the month to select a site for the contest, announced that he would give the proposition due consideration.

GREENSBORO HIGH WINS TWIN BILL FROM EATONTON

Greensboro, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The Greensboro High School defeated Eatonton High School yesterday afternoon in a doubleheader basketball game, winning the girls' game by the score of 19 to 13, and the boys' game 51 to 21. The girls' game was featured by the splendid playing of Shivers, for Eatonton, and Goodwin, for Greensboro.

The feature of the boys' game was the comeback of Eatonton High in the second half. The first half ended with the score 35 to 5 in favor of the Greensboro lads, they having swept the Eatonton team off their feet in the early stages by a brilliant display of goal shooting such as had not been seen here this year. The Eatonton boys, however, rallied magnificently in the face of overwhelming odds and played splendidly throughout the latter stages of the game. During the spurt of the Greensboro boys, the whole team starred, the guards piling up field goals along with the forwards.

EAT. HI. (21)	Pos.	GREES. HI (51)
G. Hicks (11)	l.f.	Reynolds (10)
T. Hicks (4)	r.f.	M'Commons (13)
Hearn (6)	c.	Cloud (10)
Middlebrooks	l.g.	Crossley (4)
Walker	r.g.	Lewis (14)

CHICKASAWS LOSE GRINER AND GAIN PITCHER WILSON

Memphis, Tenn., March 3.—(Special.)—Dan Griner, pitcher purchased from the St. Paul club by Memphis, has been returned to the Saints. Griner expressed an unwillingness to report here and Spencer Abbott, manager of the Chicks, stated that he did not want any ball player who would come here dissatisfied.

W. W. Wilson, a right-handed pitcher, has been purchased by Memphis from the Huron club of the South Dakota league, it was announced by Manager Abbott. Wilson, who is over six feet tall and 22 years old, won eight games and lost four for Huron last season. He refused to rejoin the Huron club.

SENATOR HARRIS EULOGIZES LATE ALABAMA LEADER

Washington, March 2.—Senator W. J. Harris made an address at the memorial service of the late Frederick L. Blackmon, a representative from Alabama, who died last month, held in the senate this afternoon. Senator Harris told of the boyhood life of Mr. Blackmon in Polk county, Georgia, where both Mr. Blackmon and Mr. Harris were born.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC RECORDS TO BE SAVED

Washington, March 2.—Athletic records of high schools and higher grades in elementary schools are to be preserved under plans of the federal bureau of education. Professor George R. Schlafer, Indiana university, is to direct the work, and the records are to be compiled regularly in printed form.

GREAT GAMES FEATURE IN FIRST ROUND

The first round of the Wilson league played last night was a great success and furnished plenty of excitement for the fans. The teams were very evenly matched and some great battles were staged.

University and Pi Beta put on the first attraction of the evening, which proved to be the second best game on the program. University came out on the long end of a 35-to-20 score. The play in the first half was very close with both teams going at their best. The half ended with the losers on the short end of a 19-to-13 count.

In the second half the Fourteenth street lads came to the front with some nice basketball and steadily increased their lead. Walsch was star for the Bluebirds, being credited with 25 of his team's points. Goodrich, playing guard for the losers, played a very creditable game.

Grant Park Wins.

In the second game the Grant park quintet had very little trouble in gaining a 40-to-15 verdict over Grace Methodist. The first half was very fast indeed. Both teams went after the ball in great style and the half ended with Grant park leading by a 14-to-10 score.

In the second half the Grant park quintet ran wild and Grace was left behind. Stephenson and Albright played best ball for the Grace quintet. Albright's floor work was excellent. Stephenson, at guard, played a great game on defense.

Game Forfeited.

The third game which promised to be a real battle was forfeited to Tech High by a 2-to-0 score when the Hapeville quintet failed to appear.

Gilmerites Lose.

The last game was the best of the four. Central Night school won a very close and warm contest by a 21-to-17 score. These two teams are about the best that the Wilson league and a battle royal was staged.

The first half was the best of the two periods with both teams fighting their best. First one would take the lead and very soon the other would cut it down and forge to the front. When the whistle blew for the end of the half, Central quintet was leading Boys' High by a lone point, 8 to 7.

Boys' High slowed up a little in the next half, while their opponents played their same grand of ball and began to pile up a lead the Purple and White quintet could not overcome. By a great rally the Boys' High team threw quite a scare over the competitors, but the lead gained at the first of the period stood good and the Central boys were declared victors.

The Morris brothers played the best for the winners, while Reane and Schell played well for the losers. "Andy Gump" Speer, the demon center of Boys' High, was off-form.

The Line-Up.

BOYS' BIGH	Pos.	C. NIGHT
Jackson (4)	l. f.	E. Morris (10)
Morrow (2)	r. f.	H. Morris (6)
Speer (6)	c.	Nolan (5)
Roane	l. g.	Foloam
Pharr	r. g.	Jackson

Substitutes: Boys' High, Schell (5) for Morrow. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

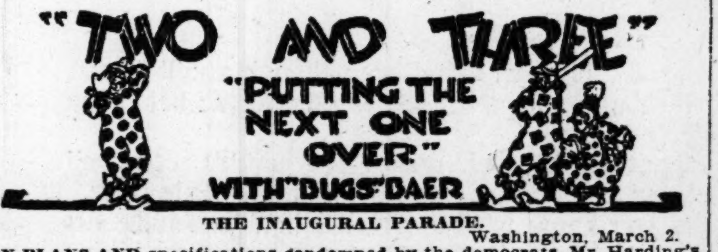
BANTAM CHAMPION WILL BATTLE BURMAN

Cleveland, March 2.—Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, has been matched for a ten-round bout with Joe Burman, of Chicago, here March 20. Burman is to make 118 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Tennis Challenge.

New York, March 2.—The Tennis Association of Czecho-Slovakia has issued a challenge for the Davis cup, the United States Lawn Tennis association announced today.

This is the seventh nation to enter the list for the international trophy. India, Spain, France, British Isles, the Philippines and Australia already have challenged.



THE INAUGURAL PARADE.

Washington, March 2.

ON PLANS AND specifications condemned by the democrats, Mr. Harding's one-man inaugural parade will leave the senate next Friday, escape up Pennsylvania avenue and arrive safely at the white house.

THE PARADE seems to be bothering the democrats almost as much as the people who are interested in it. Mr. Harding desires no pomp or grandeur. All he desires is to be left alone. Especially by the house and senate.

HE WILL WEAR a frock coat. But there will be a simple heart beating beneath one of the buttons on that noble garment. He will wear patent leather shoes. But there will be simple corns throbbing beneath the resplendent glitter of those plutocratic shoes. He will be forced to wear a high silk hat, but there will be a simple mind pulsing beneath the polished gloss on that presidential kelly.

THE PLANS FOR the permit march call for the vice president to swallow the oath of office indoors. The president takes his oath on the steps. It is but a temporary victory. For the next four years Harding will be indoors and Coolidge will be out on the steps.

MR. HARDING is not opposed to inaugural parades. He has but postponed the 1921 boulevard pageant for four short years and states that he is willing again to take a leading part in the 1925 avenue marathon, which he guarantees to make a fancy dress frolic. He indicates that the 1925 inaugural will be complete in all its gorgeous details and hopes that nothing will be missing from the minor details except democrats.

WASHINGTON IS excited with melancholy, frenzied with ennui and hearts are fluttering like a two-ton anchor sunk in East River mud. This will be the most delirious inaugural ever held, and people are pouring into Union station like dried glue in an abandoned office paste jar.

ACCOMMODATIONS are difficult to secure, as all the bars have been closed. Food is high, but not necessary. Unless congress passes the soldiers' bonus bill, there is an earthquake or some farmer sees the first robin redbreast, it looks as if there will be nothing in Washington next Friday except a small but select presidential inauguration.

VANDERBILT TRACK WORK IS STARTED

Nashville, Tenn., March 2.—(Special.)—Wintry blasts and a muddy track failed to daunt forty candidates for varsity track honors who answered Coach Bill Anderson's call for recruits today on Dudley field. Light jogging will be the order of the day until the weather shows some signs of becoming more moderate. In the meanwhile the track boys are wearing sweaters and "heavies" instead of the conventional "beeveedee" attire.

Coach Anderson has a huge task ahead of him in developing a squad that will be able to carry on through a lengthy season of dual meets that begins on April 2 and continues through the Auburn scrap on May 7, to be followed by the S. I. A. A. annual classic which will be held at Sewanee on May 13-14. Tennessee, Sewanee, Kentucky State, Auburn and probably Yale will form the Vanderbilt track card for 1921 and if that isn't enough for a bunch of rookies, then Bill Anderson is badly fooled. Bill is a great believer in competition, however, and he figures that one of the best ways to build for the future is through strong competition today.

Despite the fact that only one letter man of prominence will be in Commodore track livery this spring, Coach Anderson prepares to drive ahead in his usual style in the effort to turn out something that will at least resemble a Vanderbilt track team. Captain Runyon, member of last year's championship relay team, is in command on the field and there is some slight possibility that ex-Captain Keiser Nance will be able to bribe the med faculty to allow him time enough to do a little running for the Commodores, as this is his last year and he will return to China where his father is head of Soochow university.

CROWDS FLOCKING FOR INAUGURATION

Vice President-elect Coolidge worked today on his inaugural address, which he intimated would be very brief, and received political leaders and congressmen at his hotel apartments. Among his callers was Assistant Secretary of the Navy Woodbury.

Wilson's Part Uncertain.

Whether President Wilson is actually to attend the inauguration of Mr. Harding still remains to be determined. White House officials said today the president was anxious to follow all precedents and the congressional inaugural committee has agreed to provide a chair for him on the east portico of the capitol. Other guests at the inauguration will stand during the ceremony and of the delivery of Mr. Harding's speech.

It is definitely settled that Mr. Wilson will be present at the inauguration of Mr. Coolidge. He will ride to the capital with Mr. Harding but will not accompany him back to the White House as is the usual custom. Instead, he will drive direct to his recently acquired home on S street, where during the afternoon he will receive democratic senate leaders and other official friends.

Harding Bidden Godspeed by Marion.

In the leave-taking there were many colorful touches of regret, and Mr. Harding's final words to his friends and neighbors voiced a solemn realization of the trials that will beset his pathway. But he added that he faced the journey confidently, with an unfaltering faith in the sympathy of his fellow citizens and providence of God.

The farewell message of the president-elect was delivered from the now famous front porch of his residence here, to a conclave of several thousand who had gathered to extend a formal farewell. As he spoke his voice trembled with emotion and Mrs. Harding, standing by his side, looked out on the assemblage of familiar faces through eyes dimmed by tears.

Arrives Thursday.

The special train carrying the next president and first lady of the land departed at 7:30 o'clock, and will reach the capital at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They expect to go directly to a hotel, to remain until the inauguration ceremonies which begin on the following day. On the way Mr. Harding intends to make no speeches to crowds that may come out to greet him.

Contrary to expectations, the president-elect began his trip to Washington with one cabinet selection still to be definitely announced. Yesterday he indicated that the remaining vacancy in his official family, the secretaryship of labor, would be closed finally before tonight. There was no authoritative explanation for the change in plan, but the impression gained ground that important developments had intervened.

In Harding's Party.

In the president-elect's party also are his father, Dr. George T. Harding; his sister, Miss Abagail Harding, and Dr. C. E. Sawyer, who has been his personal physician since the campaign began.

As part of the farewell ceremonies at the front porch, the president-elect and Mrs. Harding were presented with a silver plate bearing an inscription that invoked a blessing on them in the days to come. The monument was purchased by the people of Marion and was presented by Dr. Thomas H. McAfee, pastor of Trinity Baptist church here, in a speech praising the part the coming chief executive and his wife had played in the homely areas of their community.

FATHER HURT SAVING INFANT FROM MULE

Fitzgerald, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—In rescuing his two-year-old son from beneath the lashing hoofs of a mule, Earl Chaple was painfully injured by the animal kicking him in the face yesterday. The kick landed under Mr. Cahple's eye. His sight, however, will be saved, doctors assert.

The baby, which had gone with its father to the pasture in which the mule was confined, toddled between the legs of the beast, frighting him, and he started kicking at random. Mr. Chaple dived in between the flying legs and pulled the baby to safety. The child was unhurt.

Celmars and Mantell Matched

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

Good Fight Card Is Arranged

Frankie Murphy, having decided that nothing less than a thousand dollars will bring him back to Atlanta to meet Knockout Celmars, the hard-hitting Toledo middleweight, Promoter Walk Miller has decided that Mr. Murphy will not get an early chance at a fling in local arenas, announcing yesterday that he had matched Celmars to battle Frank Mantell at the Auditorium on the 15th. Both of these boys have splendid records and, from the present outlook, it seems that the approaching card will be one of the best Promoter Miller has arranged.

Per custom, Miller will include among the preliminaries several attractions that will carry considerable local interest, this being especially true in the Larry Avera-Kid Karst fracas. In this bout, the soldier will have approximately fifteen pounds' advantage in weight, but Miller believes that Avera's great cleverness will more than offset the handicap. Karst is a fearful clouter and, unless Larry uses his knowledge of the ring game to gain every break, he runs pretty much of a risk of being halted by the soldier.

Fearless Ferns, Miller's popular lightweight, will be pitted against Battling Brooks, a recent addition to Atlanta's pugilistic colony, and who might cause Ferns a deal of trouble. Miller has not announced the remainder of his card, but he hinted that there would be additional attractions.

Their approaching battle will mark the initial appearance of both Celmars and Mantell in an Atlanta ring, but fans of pugilistic endeavor in this section need little introduction. Celmars' best fights in the south have been staged in Dallas, where he is a big drawing card. In two fights with Young Denny, New Orleans middleweight, the Crescent City bruiser was knocked out in both instances. This means that Celmars is the real article, Denny having obtained a decision and a draw in two engagements with Martin Burke, claimant for the light-heavyweight crown until he was stopped recently by Bob Martin.

Bantamweight Added To Miller Stable.

Atlanta has long needed a bantamweight that would stack well against the contenders in that class, and Walk Miler comes forward with the announcement that he has added one to his string that will more than fill the requirements. Walk asserts that this boy will fight as Art Albert, which name fits well enough in the headlines to satisfy almost any scribe.

Albert, or whatever his real name is, will report for duty soon, and Miller expects to use him on the March 22d fight card, one week after the Mantell-Celmars scrap. He is said to be in camp within a few miles of Atlanta, and will be available shortly. He is described as being a legitimate bantamweight, and will have little difficulty in making weight for Pal Moore, Pete Herman, Champion Lynch and others.

Miller hesitates to spring this new find on the fans until Albert has been given a thorough test, but if the lad comes up to expectations, the local impressario will immediately find him a suitable opponent.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD MONTHLY BUSINESS REVIEW

Washington, March 2.—The volume of America's foreign trade last year was distinctly less than in 1919 despite the establishment of a new high record in values for both exports and imports, according to the February review of business and financial conditions issued tonight by the federal reserve board.

The volume of exports of 29 principal commodities declines about 9 per cent in 1920 while the volume of imports of 25 principal commodities increased only 4 per cent. The year of 1920, the board declared, saw a tendency toward a more balanced condition of the country's international trade indicated by the decided reduction in the excess of exports over imports as compared with an excess of exports of a little over $4,000,000,000 in 1919.

"Only through imports that we receive," the board added, "is it possible for foreign countries to pay us the very large balance now outstanding. For this reason, the steady declines in imports that have been reported from month to month since June, 1920, when imports were at their peak, are not so encouraging."

Business and industry during February, the board asserted, continued in a transitional and unstable condition. The movement towards better conditions, it was added, was not wholly sustained during the early weeks of the month due to changes in the prices of basic raw materials.

The employment situation in the basic industries has been somewhat improved, the board reported, but that improvement has been partially offset by reduced employment in other lines.

Although there are abundant indications that stocks of goods have been greatly reduced and that a large volume of potential buying is in sight, it has not yet become actual, the board said. Current purchasing has been chiefly for immediate needs because of a feeling of uncertainty as to the future trend of prices.

Bank Reopened.

State Bank Superintendent T. R. Bennett Wednesday announced the Bank of Pavo, of Pavo, Ga., has been reopened after meeting full requirements of the law.

INDUSTRY CHIEFS OF STATE TO HOLD MEETING IN MACON

Macon, March 2.—(Special.)—A meeting of leaders of industry in Georgia will be held here March 15. At this meeting, which was decided upon at a conference of leading industrial men of Georgia, who met in Atlanta on February 23, talks will be made with a view to presenting an adequate survey of industrial conditions which are now faced by manufacturers.

Notification of this meeting, the importance of which was stressed at the Atlanta gathering, has been sent numbers of industrial leaders of Georgia. A committee of business men here have been appointed as a committee to make local arrangements for the conference and will announce plans for the meeting in the near future.

Among the questions upon which addresses will be given are co-operation of Georgia's industries, the development of Georgia's natural resources, the working up of Georgia's raw products, expert training of Georgia's young men, scientific research and experimentation as applied to Georgia's industrial problems, and the maintenance of a state engineering school equipped to fully serve Georgia's industries and controlled by Georgia's industries.

The meeting in Atlanta was called by Victor H. Allen and W. J. Vereen, and was held at the Atlanta chamber of commerce.

PRESIDENT APPROVES CONSULAR MEASURE

Washington, March 2.—President Wilson today approved the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill carrying an appropriation of $10,500,000.

The bill provides for the acceptance by the United States of the home of J. Pierpont Morgan in London as an American embassy and the purchase of fourteen buildings in the principal capitals of the world for American embassies and legations.

NATIONAL FISH DAY APPEAL IS ISSUED

Washington, March 2.—Secretary Alexander today urged all Americans to eat fish for at least one meal on March 9, designated "national fish day."

The secretary of commerce in a statement making the request, also asked fish dealers to give the public an opportunity to buy the best fish at reasonable prices and to arrange attractive displays of sea foods in their places of business on that day.

These are the postoffice, diplomatic, District of Columbia, rivers and harbors, pension and deficiency. Sent to him today were the legislative, Indian and agriculture bills.

General legislation awaiting the president's signature includes the emergency tariff bill, which reached the white house this morning and was referred for report to the treasury department; the immigration restriction bill, now before the labor department for a report, and the repealing most of the special wartime laws.

The house today again refused to agree to the senate amendment to the army appropriation bill fixing the army strength next year at 175,000, the vote against the proposal being 240 to 81. The bill was sent back to conference with house managers instructed to insist on the house figure of 150,000.

Representative Anthony, republican, Kansas, in charge of the measure, said he was confident an agreement could be reached in time for the bill to be passed before adjournment.

Agrees to Compromise.

The house agreed to the conferees' compromise of $21,100,000 for the army air service, instead of the $19,200,000 it originally voted. The senate has proposed $23,000,000. Of the total $3,500,000 would be available for new planes and $100,000 for experimental work.

The fate of the soldier bonus bill apparently was decided today in the senate. Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, for the finance committee, made formal request for unanimous consent to bring up the measure, but Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, who filed a minority report yesterday opposing it objected.

Senator McCumber asked is the senator would carry his opposition far enough to tie up the measure with parliamentary obstruction and Senator Thomas replied that while his throat wasn't in very good condition, he would do the best he could. Senator McCumber thereupon announced that he would not press the measure further as Senator Thomas' "best would be more than sufficient" to block the bill.

Deadlock Unbroken.

The deadlock between the house and senate over the senate amendment to the sundry civil bill appropriation $10,000,000 for the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., still is unbroken.

Obstacles multiplied against the $496,000,000 naval budget, the senate and house holding another long night session at which advocates and opponents of the bill fought for supremacy.

Predictions were widespread that the struggle would continue right up to hte final gavel next Friday. Opposition leaders declared the bill would die and several prominent supporters of the measure concurred. Others held dope that it might yet be passed by the senate, but little prospect of final enactment.

Numerous Delays.

They met numerous delays today, some incident to the approach of sine die adjournment and others from the opposition camp. Meeting at 11 o'clock today, the bill was laid aside for five hours, giving way to conference reports and other business and it was 5 o'clock before any real work was begun on the measure. Senator Poindexter, republican, Washington, in charge of the bill, again declared that he would hold the senate in continuous session until Friday, if necessary, for a vote.

Numerous negotiations toward compromising the controversy over the $100,000,000 added to the bill by the senate naval committee were had during the day. They appeared promising early, but later the line tightened.

Market Standing Up Well Under News Developments

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, March 2.—All things taken into consideration, the stock market seems to be taking the news developments, most of which have been unfavorable during the past few days, in rather good shape. The one thing which is in its favor is the quietness which prevails, and it is hoped that this will continue. This, no doubt, is due to the heavy liquidation which has taken place during the past six months, and which has eliminated the greater part of the weak speculative holdings. If the public were still interested in the market on a large scale, one could have expected a severe reaction as a result of the developments abroad, the poor annual statements of earnings, passing of dividends and what not.

There is a belief in some quarters that the meeting of the directors of the Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, which was postponed last Thursday of this week, because of the "lack of a quorum," will be again postponed, for as far as can be learned little or no progress has been made in connection with the company's financing, and the declaration of the regular dividend on the preferred stock depends upon the successful arrangements for new financing. Speculative quarters are doubtful about the preferred dividends, if the money needed is not raised, as it seems impossible that it can be paid, under such conditions.

Directors of the three leading fertilizer companies—American Agricultural Chemical, International Agricultural Chemical and Virginia-Carolina Chemical—meet for action on dividends during the latter part of this month. Wall street is speculating on what action may be taken by the directors of the companies mentioned, and the stocks have declined on rumors that there may be either some reduction or passing of the payments entirely. The annual reports will not be published for some time, probably not until June, and when these make their appearance it is expected that the showing will be none too favorable, as far as the balance sheets are concerned, as farmers have been unable to pay for materials bought last year. And they will also have to be given credit for materias needed for this year's crops. It is expected that bills receivable will show a big jump.

Chandler Annual Report.

Chandler Motors company's annual report for 1920 has been published, and this shows earnings amounting to $15 per share on the 280,000 shares of stock outstanding, as against $26 earned on 210,000 shares in 1919. The company is paying $10 per share annually, and recently reports were circulated that there might be a reduction at the next meeting. This may be so if the directors find it necessary to conserve cash resources for this year's business. But, in view of the showing made by the annual report, there are some folk who believe that there is a possibility that no change will be made. These reports, however, are purely guesswork. Actual announcement will have to be awaited. As a 10 per cent dividend-payer Chandler Motors is selling too low, so there may be a possibility that the dividend will be reduced.

An indication of the dullness in the stock market is given in the calculations giving the total sales for February. The amount is more than 50 per cent below February of last year, and also the smallest of any corresponding month since February of 1915, which was shortly after the stock exchange reoened, after the beginning of the world war.

Following the passing of the quarterly dividend on the stock of the Kennecott Copper company, an unusual amount of interest centers—upon the meeting of the directors of the Porphyry copper companies Utah, Ray, Nevada and Chino—which will be held on Thursday. Any action which the directors may take, however, will not be surprising to Wall street for rumors have been afloat for some time, that the dividends would either be again reduced or passed entirely. Especially in the case of Utah is a reduction looked for, while it has even been predicted that the payment would be passed entirely. Now that the reports for the last quarter of 1920 are out of the way, the passing or reduction of dividends will be received as the last piece of unfavorable news in connection with the copper companies, at least that is Wall street's opinion. The reports for the first quarter of the year will also be unfavorable, but by the time they are published it is hoped that the copper metal market will be much improved.

McCrory Shows Increase.

Dispatches from London state that the stockholders of the Royal Dutch company will be asked to approve an increase in the capital stock to 330,000,000 florins, at a meeting to be held March 15. It is stated also, however, that there is no intention to issue any of the increased stock at this time.

The annual report of the Tobacco Products corporation for 1920 shows earnings equal to $7.79 per share as against $8.59 the year before. The McCrory Stores corporation reported earnings of $10.24 per share in 1920 against only $6.69 in the previous year.

Announcement that several of the larger oil companies in the west and southwest in again taking 100 per cent of the output of the companies in their territory is taken to indicate that at least some companies are of the opinion that the decline in oil prices has temporarily ended.

Assistance of South Is Asked by Foreign Trade Corporation

Assuming a wider scope of activity than other similar projects instituted under the Edge law, the Foreign Trade Financing corporation, hundred-million-dollar corporation, with headquarters at 66 Wall street, New York city, is looking to the south to assist in completing subscription to its stock, and will later extend its great benefits and services to this section in helping to provide an overseas market for cotton and other products.

This is the substance of a letter addressed by John McHugh, chairman of the organization committee, to James A. Metcalf, president of the Atlanta Foreign Trade club.

Mr. McHugh calls attention to the fact that this new corporation has been launched under the friendly auspices of the 30,000 banks composing the American Bankers' association, with strong indorsement by the United States Chamber of Commerce and other similar trade bodies throughout the United States. While organized as a private corporation, under the provisions of the Edge law, Mr. McHugh points out that it is essentially a public enterprise. The permanent directorate will include representatives of banking, industry and agriculture of all sections of the country.

"The services of the corporation will be available for every legitimate interest, and, so far as possible, its operations will be made responsive to the needs of the country as a whole," Mr. McHugh states.

Metcalf's Comment.

Commenting upon this latter statement, Mr. Metcalaf said: "This comprehensive scope of the Foreign Trade Financing corporation is the particular feature of its plan which should make it appeal strongly to the banking, commercial, industrial and agricultural interests of the south.

"It has occurred to me that, with a number of these Edge law corporations springing into existence in different parts of the country, all with the same purpose in view, there is likely to result a sectionalizing of particular foreign trade interests which would be detrimental to the business of the country as a whole. As I have taken the liberty of pointing out in a letter to Mr. McHugh, we must not overlook the fact that our foreign trade, though composed of the separated activities of a multitude of individual concerns, is distinctly a national asset; that it must be considered, conserved and controlled as such.

"Years in advance of us, other nations have in effect nationalized their foreign commerce, much to the advantage of their nationals who are engaged in trade with other peoples. In order to meet successfully this kind of competition, the United States must go into the field of foreign trade with a comprehensive, unified policy which will be representative of the trade interests of this nation as a whole.

"I venture the prediction that the next evolutionary step along this line will be the practical merging of all these financing corporations, which receive their powers and functions from the Edge law, so as to eliminate duplication of effort, lost motion and wasted energy. When that result is achieved, there will be no nation or group of nations that can successfully compete with us in foreign trade.

"In the meanwhile the Foreign Financing Corporation of New York is the only project of its kind yet launched that approaches the problem from the truly national viewpoint. For that reason it ought to receive the strong support of the southern business interests and of all those who have idle funds which might be invested in the profitable stock of this great corporation, which will be authorized to operate to the extent of $10,000,000—one hundred times the amount of its capital stock—through the sale of debentures.

"Mr. Percival Smith pointed out the importance of these foreign-trade-financing projects in an address before the Atlanta Foreign Trade club Monday. Europe is without money, or practically so. In lieu thereof, we must supply the industrial forces of those countries with credit, so that they can go to work, earn money and purchase from us the surplus products whose non-sale is now creating industrial and commercial stagnation in the United States. Otherwise we will have idle factories, tenantless farms, bankrupt merchants and millions in dangerous idleness and poverty. Incidentally, it might be said, that it will be folly for us to attempt industrial rehabilitation in Europe and then destroy our own work by erecting a prohibitive tariff wall to shut out their products.

"It is certainly the part of wisdom, of forethought, of far-sighted selfishness, to make sure that the stock of the Foreign Trade Financing corporation is immediatley subscribed. Every man or woman who puts a hundred dollars into that stock makes a good investment, and takes out insurance against hard times in this country. There is enough idle money in savings banks of the country, doing no good to its possessors, to finance these projects ten times over. The people must be aroused and taught to appreciate a serious national probem, and to understand the only solution of it."

Dry Goods.

New York, March 2.—Cotton goods markets weakened in first hands today following another break in cotton. Print cloths dropped to 7c for 38½-inch, 64x60s and 8 cents for 68x72s, the lowest levels in several years. Yarns, burlaps and hosiery markets were very quiet.

The American Woolen company opened lines of men's wear suitings at prices 45 to 50 per cent lower than those of a year ago, but in some instances above special sales prices of last January.

Coffee.

New York, March 2.—The market for coffee futures was very quiet today, and after opening unchanged to 5 points higher, showed very little change. March, 6.10; May, 6.41; July, 6.81; September, 7.17; October, 7.29; December, 7.53.

Spot coffee, dull; Rio 7s, 6⅝@6⅞; Santos 4s, 9½@10. Clearances of coffee from Brazil during February amounted to 1,063,800 bags, including 680,000 to the United States and 368,000 to Europe. Brazilian port receipts, 35,000; Jundiahy receipts, 13,000.

Money Market.

New York, March 2.—Prime mercantile paper, 7¼@7½. Exchange, heavy; sterling 60-day bills and commercial 60-day bills on banks, 383⅜; commercial 60-day bills, 383¼; demand, 387⅞; cables, 388⅝. Francs, demand, 714; cables, 716. Belgian francs, demand, 7.35; cables, 7.37. Guilders, demand, 34.10; cables, 34.20. Lire, demand, 364; cables, 366. Marks, demand, 158; cables, 159. Greece, demand, 7.50. Argentine, demand, 34.75; Brazilian, demand, 15.75. Montreal, 12⅝ per cent discount. Government bonds, irregular; railroad bonds easy. Time loans, steady; 60 days, 90 days, six months, 6½@7 per cent.

RAILROAD ISSUES START RECOVERY

New York, March 2.—Trading on the stock exchange today represented little more than a contest of wits between professional bulls and bears, the advantage resting with the constructive element at the firm close. Noteworthy features of the recovery in progress during the final hour included Atlantic Gulf, Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum, Tobacco Products and Kansas City Southern at net gains of 1 to 4 points.

The day's turnover was much smaller than that of yesterday, but encompassed a greater variety of issues, including obscure specialties, many of which suffered at the hands of the shorts. Sales amounted to 475,000 shares.

Developments of the session were hardly of a character to rouse public interest from its protracted torpor, and commission houses whose operations usually exert some influence reported a dearth of business from outside sources.

The money market was slightly easier, call loans declining from 7 to 6 per cent at midday. Interior banks bought moderately of commercial paper, but offerings of time funds were no more liberal than recently.

Movements of foreign exchange were followed with more than usual interest for some light on the outcome of the London indemnity conference. Influential bankers were of the opinion, however, that definite action by the allies might wait on the installation of the new administration at Washington.

Remittances to all the leading European centers were lower, but business again centered in bills on London and Paris. The English rate eased only a fraction from yesterday, while the French quotations inclined to heaviness, and Norway and Denmark showed marked weakness.

Liberty issues and domestic rails and industrials were comparatively steady, but foreign or international bonds denoted further uncertainty arising from the situation abroad. Total sales, par value, $10,350,000.

Low Price of Cotton Caused by Gamblers, Is Charge of Thompson

Charging that the depressed price of cotton has been caused by the manipulation of gamblers, W. B. Thompson, prominent cotton factor and former president of the New Orleans exchange, Wednesday telegraphed J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton association, urging that federal action be taken to restrict speculative short sales of cotton futures.

Any one selling short contracts for selfish and speculative purposes should be imprisoned, according to Mr. Thompson, who declares the present break in cotton may be attributed to a coterie of "bears" enjoying a pleasant winter at Palm Beach.

"You must understand that I do not include in this prohibition the selling of all future contracts or the destruction of the future contract market," he observes in his telegram. "The man who is in the cotton business and desires to use the future contracts as a hedge for his stock in hand, or in prospect, should have the right to do so."

Hardwood Market.

The hardwood market is still showing gradual improvement in this section. Dealers state that inquiries are still picking up and that orders are being booked in a satisfactory manner considering general business conditions. Slight improvement is also noted in prices and it is expected that hardwood values will continue to climb until much higher levels are attained. One of the principal reasons the hardwood market is showing improvement lies in the fact that there is continued activity among the many furniture factories in the south and they are buying hardwoods in fair quantity. The demand is expected to show a greater activity in the near future, and it is generally believed that conditions are now beginning to rapidly get back to a normal state of affairs.

FURTHER ADVANCE RECORDED IN GRAIN

Chicago, March 2.—Fresh upturns in the price of wheat took place today owing chiefly to European political strain. The market closed unsettled, 1 to 1 3-4c net higher, with March $1.67 3-4 to $1.68 and May $1.59 1-4 to $1.59 12. Corn finished 3-4 to 1c up, and oats at an advance of 1-8@1-4 to 3-8@1-2c. In provision the outcome was unchanged to 15c lower.

A general rush to the buying side brought about a sharp advance in the wheat market during the early trading, but many holders realized on the bulge and top prices failed to hold. Further export demand was something of a factor in strengthening the market, and so, too, was notable lightness of rural offerings. Besides, it was contended that European conditions force higher prices regardless of whether or not there was crop damage in the United States. Official famine reports from India tended somewhat to emphasize this view. On the other hand sales of wheat to come to Chicago from Kansas City helped to ease the market at the last.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Export business in corn kept up, and domestic demand was fairly good, both for corn and oats.

Rice.

Sugar.

New York, March 2.—There was a little more activity in the raw sugar market today, but prices were unchanged at 4¾c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.77 for centrifugal. The committee announced that it had sold the remainder of the 100,000 tons offered during the past week, and that it had more inquiries at the same level. There were also sales of 2,500 bags of San Domingoes to a local refiner at 4½s c. i. f.

There were no changes in refined prices, which are listed at 7.75 for fine granulated, although several of the refiners are still withdrawn. The demand continues of fair proportions, but refiners as a rule are not accepting much fresh business, as they already have considerable orders on hand.

The futures market was weak and prices closed at declines of 12 to 18 points under scattered liquidation by trade and commission houses. Final bids: March, 4.68; May, 4.94; July, 5.14; September, 5.30.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, March 2.—Liquidation by overnight longs on the weakness in cotton caused a moderate decline in cotton seed oil in the face of higher crude. Trading was light and local in character, sales for the day being 9,400 barrels. Active months closed 8 to 12 points net lower. Prime crude, 5.25 sales; prime summer yellow, spot 6.85@7.50; May, 7.55; July, 7.93; September, 8.23, all bid.

Dec.	12.85	12.90	12.40	12.62	12.47

New York, March 2.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled today, probably reflecting nervousness over the uncertainty of war reparations and continued unfavorable trade reports from abroad. Yesterday's rallies were not only lost, but prices made new low records for the season, with May deliveries selling off to 11.12, or 62 points below last night's closing. That delivery closed at 11.45, and other months also showed rallies of some 25 or 30 points from the lowest, with the general market closing very steady at a net decline of 25 to 43 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 17 to 37 points owing to the renewed weakness of Liverpool and reports that Manchester spinners were considering a proposal to close for a period of ten days at Easter. There were rallies of several points right after the call on a continuation of yesterday's buying, but the contracts were readily supplied by southern selling, and the market soon turned weaker under liquidation. Stop orders were uncovered on the break which carried March off to 10.52, or 81 points below last night's closing, while later months showed net losses of 51 to 62 points, with July selling at 11.55. The decline was then checked by covering, but wire and commission houses were sellers late in the afternoon, and later fluctuations were very irregular. Private cables said the Liverpool market was influenced by nervousness over the political situation, and a number of one of the local houses was credited with sending heavy July selling orders here. Port receipts today, 7,112; United States port stocks, 1,404,075. Exports, 9,506, making 3,403,195 so far this season.

NEW YORK SPOTS.

EUROPEAN EVENTS ARE UNFAVORABLE

New Orleans, March 2.—The turn of political events in Europe was construed in an unfavorable way by the cotton trade today, with the result that prices in the contract market were lower from the opening. The sagging tendency was not checked until the more active months were 57 to 63 points under the close of yesterday, and at new low record levels for the season, May dropping as low as 10.87 and July as low as 11.21. In the late trading considerable profit-taking was done by shorts, especially after the receipt of London cables saying that the British labor party was against an armed invasion of Germany, and this caused moderate reactions from the decline. The close showed net losses on the day of 38 to 40 points, with May at 11.11 and July at 11.42.

The effect of the unfavorable political news was heightened on the opening by a very poor Liverpool market, and toward the middle of the day fresh weakness was created by the report that the proposal to send French troops into Germany had met with the approval of the allies.

In the early afternoon the market commenced to look very much oversold and the demand from shorts who wanted to even up before the close furnished it with an underlying feeling of firmness which persisted to the end.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, March 2.—(Special.)—Liverpool was again weak this morning on the failure of the conference in London to reach as yet any definite decision regarding the settlement of the indemnity to be paid by Germany. While our market met the decline, some good buying appeared, the market rallying near last night's closing prices. At this level a very large selling order estimated at some 25,000 bales believed to be for a prominent spot house made its appearance. While the cotton was remarkably well taken, never the less the appearance of other selling orders from another prominent spot house brought sufficient pressure to carry prices below the previous low from which the market rallied slightly and remained dull. The trade is distinctly disappointed at the action of the market today, as it was felt that the improvement in Liverpool yesterday foreshadowed a change in the general situation.

HUBBARD BROTHERS & CO.

New Orleans, March 2.—(Special.)—The new crisis arising over the European political situation as result of Germany's refusals to meet the reparation demands of the allies making an invasion of Germany likely depressed market today.

Cables were much lower than due and spot sales at Liverpool were smaller, while private advices from England stated that Manchester spinners will meet next Friday to decide whether or not to close the mills for ten days during the Easter period.

The approval of the allies of an invasion of Germany to force indemnity payments and ordering the French railroads to hold themselves in readiness to transport troops to the German frontier created uneasiness.

Press advices from London are to effect French were said to plan seizure of all German custom houses along frontier, levying a 50 per cent tax on all German exports.

If the Germans find the allies are to put the screws to them upon reflection they are likely to bow to the inevitable by meeting the demands of the allies.

At any rate a German authority is quoted as saying Germany will not resort to armed resistance in event of that country being invaded.

It is possible, however, that if Germany is invaded that the radical element may strive to make trouble perhaps by joining soviet Russia in a contemplated revolution in numerous European countires in the spring, which would further disturb the peace of the world.

To prevent such a development it is hinted in London that the British labor party is opposed to armed invasion of Germany and is of the opinion that the allies will yet offer to compromise their present large demands.

Meanwhile, impressed by the seriousness of the international unfavorable trade and political situation, farmers of the south are following the advised policy of preparing to make a big reduction in the cotton acreage this year and to use much less than ordinary of fertilizers in the making of the next crop.

New York, March 2.—(Special.)—Pressure on cotton prices continued in today's market with the initial influence coming from Liverpool. It is notable though that 5,000 spots sold there. In this market successful sellers in recent weeks were credited with extending their commitments. But the market took this cotton remarkably well and showed real good power of absorption. This indicates a quick, sharp upturn when aggressive selling ceases which may occur very soon.

"Hello Alexander."

(At the Atlanta Theater.)

The return of the ever-welcome comedians, McIntyre and Heath, to the Atlanta theater this week in their spectacular new musical extravaganze, "Hell, Alexander," has been the occasion of nightly ovations for the princes among merrymakers. They will be seen every night this week, with matinee Saturday.

"Hello, Alexander," has been welcomed by critics as being funnier even than the famous "Ham Tree" created by McIntyre and Heath. The stars have been surrounded by a notable array of musical comedy favorites.

"Experience."

(Coming to Atlanta Theater.)

The most wonderful play in America, "Experience," by George V. Hobart, will be presented by F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest at the Atlanta theater commencing Monday, March 7.

This will be the seventh season of "Experience," and the play bids fair to be more successful this year than ever before, because it seems that no matter where "Experience" goes, this remarkable morality play always attracts capacity audiences.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

The last half of National Loew-Metro week at Loew's Grand is featured by an all-star vaudeville program and a new screen superfeature. The footlight attractions include the comic military playlet, "Sweeties;" Murphy and Plant, two clever entertainers; Helene Vincent, a young vocalist: the Diaz troupe, tight-wire equilibrists, and Rollo and Multoy, roller skaters. The screen feature is "The Greater Claim."

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.)

The prize singing comedy quartet of big time vaudeville—the Big City Four—will headline a corking good Keith vaudeville bill opening at the Lyric theater with the Thursday matinee.

"A Tete-a-Tete in Song" is the attractive title of a splendid offering in which James Burke and Eleanor Durkin will be featured.

"Slim" Grindell, one of the "narrowest" men in vaudeville, will appear with the capable assistance of Coryl Esther in "A Study in Thinology."

"Brewster's Millions."

(At the Howard.)

The new program at the Howard theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday brings Fatty Arbuckle in the Paramount picture, "Brewster's Millions;" an overture by the Howard concert orchestra consisting of dance hits by Irving Berlin, the jazz king; a special rendition of the Atlanta jazz number, "Peachtree Blues," composed by Harry Hughes, trombone player in the Howard orchestra; a solo by Loisa Patterson; a violin number by Rene Hemery, and other features.

Dorothy Gish.

Dorothy Gish, the popular Paramount star comedienne, has a delectable new comedy. It is a ghostly affair—"The Ghost in the Garret." It will be shown at the Forsyth theater for three days beginning today. The story deals with a poor girl who becomes involved in the theft of a pearl necklace of great value. The thieves have their rendezvous in a supposed haunted house and the girl invades the place, with her bulldog, puts the thieves to rout, recovers the necklace and—marries her sweetheart who has been arrested for the theft.

Drag Harlan.

(At the Strand.)

William Farnum's magnificent western photodrama, "Drag Harlan," filmed from Charles Alden Seltzer's story of that name, is pleasing audiences at the Strand this week. Farnum is seen as "Drag" Harlan, the mysterious two-gun man who plays a lone hand, whose mission is to exterminate the outlaws in the vicinity of Rancho Seco, and to save a rancher's daughter from their foul clutches.

"The Greatest Love."

(At the Rialto.)

Vera Gordon's beautiful characterization of the mother in "The Greatest Love," is proving one of the most splendidly acted roles that has been seen in a photoplay here this season. Not only does Miss Gordon portray in the most convincing manner the deep maternal love that makes motherhood the holiest thing on earth, but she lends to the picture a distinct charm that is seldom equaled upon the screen.

"Inside the Cup."

(Coming to the Rialto.)

A meeting of tremendous force and sweeping action is "The Inside of the Cup," a Paramount picture which comes to the Rialto theater next Monday. It is a picturization of Winston Churchill's famous and widely discussed novel of the same name, the publication of which in 1913 provoked a world-wire controversy.

The story is dramatic, the action thrilling and the love interest centering upon a rector and settlement worker, exceedingly appealing.

"Outside the Law."

(Coming to the Tudor.)

There have been many striking fights and brawls staged for legitimate and screen productions, but the free-for-all promised in "Outside the Law," the Priscilla Dean production coming to the Tudar theater next week, is said to outrank them all. The fight is a reproduction of a gang fight in San Francisco, and takes place in a succession of rooms and passage ways. Several scores of huskies took part and among the fighters are Lon Chaney, the character actor, and Wheeler Oakman. It took two weeks to screen it, but in the play it is reduced to two minutes.

Viola Dana.

(At the Criterion.)

"The Offshore Pirate," in which Viola Dana is the star and heading the film program at the Criterion theater this week, is the story of a group of people who adopt desperate measures to save an heiress from the wiles of a scheming foreigner who is after her money. Miss Dana is supported by an able cast which includes Jack Mulhall, Edward Jobson and Edwin Cecil. An Extra added attraction this week is Larry Semon in a new comedy, "The Suitor." Larry is unusually funny and has any number of new stunts.

CONTINUE PROBE OF FOREIGN LOANS

Washington, March 2.—The senate judiciary committee was authorized in a resolution adopted tonight by the senate to continue during the coming recess of congress its investigation of loans by the United States to foreign countries before and after the armistice.

The resolution was drafted by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, upon request of the committee, after the treasury department, pursuant to a demand of the committee, had delivered to it six boxes filled with photostatic copies of the correspondence covering all loan negotiations with France, Italy, Siberia, Greece and other countries.

The committee did not undertake the task of assorting the correspondence which was turned over to the senate sergeant-at-arms, but directed Assistant Secretary Kelly, of the treasury, to obtain from Secretary Colby the assorted files of the correspondence.

RE-ESTABLISH COTTON INDUSTRY IN WEST

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

Washington, March 2.—The agricultural department announces that the cotton industry is being re-established in the irrigated valleys of Arizona and California by the department with varieties better suited to soil and climate than those favored by farmers when the business was young. Cotton was grown in the San Joaquin valley, in California, about fifty years ago, but the planters found it increasingly difficult to compete with the short staple cotton grown in the eastern cotton belt. The enterprise was abandoned when it became apparent that labor and transportation facilities were difficult to maintain.

New cultural methods are being used, and long staple cotton instead of the old short staple varieties is being planted with great success. A standardized strain of Egyptian long staple cotton has been developed which is adapted to the soil and climatic conditions in these irrigated valleys.

Choice of Varieties.

In districts where cotton is comparatively a new crop the choice of vairetles is important. Comparisons made by the department of agriculture for the last six years show the pima variety of Egyptian cotton well suited to the greater part of the San Joaquin valley, including Kern county northward to Fresno and Madera counties. Pima is a doubtful crop north of Madera county, but here it may be replaced by Durango and other varieties of upland cotton.

These latter varieties may be planted as far north as Turlock, in Stanislaus county. Pima is a superior type, and there is little need for considering any other variety in the districts where that may be grown.

Warning Issued.

The profits from a successful crop of long staple cotton may tempt the farmer to plant too much. Cotton specialists warn against this, pointing out that cotton needs heavy irrigation during July and August. It is better to begin the cotton planting upon a comparatively small scale with the rest of the land in crops that will not require as much water in the summer. A small planting means better care, and usually better cotton which, naturally, means a better price.

Long staple cotton in the districts indicated does well as an interplanted crop, and removes the risk of depending for an income on a single crop. A farmer in Kern county, California, planted a cotton in 1918 between young apricot trees in their third year of growth, and from about two acres he obtained nearly $500 worth of cotton. Another farmer planted pima cotton between the rows in a 12-acre plat of grapevines and obtained a yield of about one bale to the acre. Grown in this way the cotton is as good as when grown alone. Grape experts declare the young vines are equal to those grown without an intercrop.

HERT DECLARES HE IS NOT IN RACE TO SUCCEED HAYS

Washington, March 2.—A. T. Hert, republican national committeeman from Kentucky, announced today that he was not a candidate to succeed Will H. Hays as chairman of the national committee, and that it would not be possible for him to accept if elected.

With Mr. Hays' announcement that he would resign as soon as possible after becoming postmaster-general in the new cabinet, discussion of a probable successor centered around the names of Mr. Hert and Charles D. Hilles, of New York.

TONE OF CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED BY GARY

Cost of Living Should Be Further Reduced, Says Steel Head.

New York, March 2.—A strong tone of confidence and industrial optimism was expressed in a statement today by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, in which he emphasized the necessity for a still greater cut in the cost of living. To meet the situation arising from the problems of reconstruction, Mr. Gary recommended patience, confidence, courage and honesty.

"I think the most important problems before the people of the United States and of the world today," he said, "relate to the high cost of living. This should and must be promptly and radically further reduced. It behooves all of us to make every consistent effort toward bringing about an early return to a normal and reasonable basis of living. Opportunity for great success and prosperity are offered in this country, and we should take advantage of it."

WILL CITY COUNCIL FORCE ANOTHER RECALL ELECTION?

On next Monday, Council will elect a Police Commissioner from the Fifth Ward.

It will be impossible to believe that this honorable body of men, to whom the voters of Atlanta will entrust the expenditure of an Eight-Million-Dollar bond issue, would vote for a man for Police Commissioner who has been convicted of crime in the courts of this county, and who has just recently voted to "whitewash" two policemen from charges of stealing liquor and then selling it, and after "whitewashing" them in session of Police Commission, assisted in their defense while they were being tried in Superior Court; and after they were convicted of stealing liquor this candidate for re-election to the Police Commission from the Fifth Ward went on the bonds of the convicted policemen after the courts had sentenced them to twelve months on the chaingang.

Will Atlanta stand for this?

Surely the members of Council will not elect such a man. The eyes of all law-abiding citizens will watch the action of Council next Monday.

Protest on Execution Of Irishmen Is Sent To President Wilson

Protests against the execution of six Irishmen in Ireland, reported Tuesday, were sent to President Wilson, Secretary of State Colby and senators and congressmen Wednesday by the Atlanta branch of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic. Judge Walter A. Brown, president of the local branch, signed the telegrams. The protests were as follows:

> "The execution of six Irishmen in Ireland is clear violation of the provisions of the Hague convention of 1907, respecting the laws and customs of war on land. We protest, in the name of liberty and justice, against such methods being used against a civilized nation, and earnestly request, as American citizens, that you make every effort to stop further violations of international law."

Condition of Caruso Reported Improved, Following Operation

New York, March 2.—A general improvement in the condition of Enrico Caruso, tenor, following the operation yesterday to remove pus from the pleural cavity, was reported tonight by his secretary, Bruno Zirato.

"Mr. Caruso's fever has abated," Mr. Zirato said, "so much that he and other members of the family felt that he had experienced the best day and evening since his relapse."

MRS. SARAH WILLIAMS DIES HERE WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Sarah Byne Williams, well known and beloved in Atlatna and Augusta, her former home, died at her residence in East Lake drive last night in the 76th year of her age. She was a member of one of Georgia's most prominent families. During the war between the states six of her brothers and her husband gallantly served in the Confederate army in General Cobb's legion; one brother, John B. Byne, voluntarily enlisting while a student at Mercer university with his college unit. She was a member of the Atlanta chapter of U. D. C. Before her marriage she was Miss Sarah Byne, of Jefferson county, and her girlhood was spent at the old plantation home of her parents, known as "Oak Grove." She was one of Georgia's belles of that day.

She is survived by her daughters, Mrs. W. E. Johnston, and Miss Louise Williams, of Atlanta; Mrs. Roland K. Stewart, of Ocean Beach, Cal., and her sons, Fred E. Williams, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Carlos P. Williams, of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, the time to be announced later, and the burial will take place at Augusta.

MOULTRIE PROTESTS PHONE RATE INCREASE

A request has been made by the chamber of commerce of Moultrie, Ga., that a recent decision by the Georgia railroad commission granting an increase in the telephone rates for that city be again heard upon its merits. The fact that the announced increases caused the assembling of the citizens of Moultrie in a spirited mass meeting recently, and that a vigorous protest had been made against the added telephone charges, were given as reasons for the reopening of the matter.

DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN TO REPRESENT EMORY

Emory University, March 2.—(Special.)—The results of the debate, held recently, showed that of the fourteen contestants, J. A. Dombrowsky, of Tampa, Fla.; Granger Hansel, of Atlanta, and S. M. Kelly, of Cairo, Ga., were selected to face the Mississippi team. Ralph Williams, of Griffin, Ga., was named alternate to take the place of any member of the team not able to assume his part in the debate.

Georgia Airman To Try to Break His Own Record

Lieutenant Coney Will Hop Off March 8 on Westward Flight.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 2.—Lieutenant William Devoe Coney, 91st aero squadron, U. S. A., who recently established a new airplane flight record of 27 hours and 22 minutes from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic, will hop off from Pablo Beach, near Jacksonville, at 12:01 a. m., March 8, in an attempt to lower his own record in a flight to San Diego, Cal. Lieutenant Coney plans to make only one stop—at Dallas—in his westward flight.

Lieutenant Coney, alluded to above, is a Brunswick, Ga., boy, and has many friends in Atlanta and throughout the state.

NEW POLICE HEAD DISBANDS SPECIAL LIQUOR SQUADRON

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The first action of Marion Lucas, the new head of the Savannah police department, was to abolish the "flying squadron," a special organization which in two weeks has made half a hundred raids on tigers and gambling places in Savannah.

In reorganizing the force few changes are made to begin with but the new commissioner declares that responsibility will be placed squarely on every man and officer every day, to the end that the campaign against law breakers may be steady and relentless, and there may be no need for special vice squads and tiger chasers.

CITY-OWNED MARKET URGED IN FITZGERALD

Fitzgerald, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—A "city market" owned and controlled by the mayor and council of Fitzgerald at which all green grocers in the city will be located, and where farmers can dispose of their produce directly to the consumer, is advocated by Drew W. Paulk, candidate for mayor of Fitzgerald, in a card issued today. Mr. Paulk has been mayor of Fitzgerald three times previously.

BAINBRIDGE SHRINE BAND TO ATTEND MEET

Bainbridge, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The Gafla Shrine club of Bainbridge will send their Drum and Bugle corps, composed of 26 pieces, to the meeting of the Imperial Council of the Shrine order to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, June 16-16.

The Bainbridge club will send the Drum and Bugle corps as the invited guest of Alee Temple, of Savannah. Bainbridge Shriners consider this a very great consideration in that they have been extended this invitation and mark of fraternal courtesy above all other Shrine clubs in Alee's territory.

HOW TO CURE BABY'S COLD

Baby specialists have learned from experience that the most important factor in curing babies' colds and spasmodic croup is to keep the liver active and bowels open. "Baby Ease," a perfected laxative, will quickly cleanse the intestinal tract; relieve constipation and billiousness; is safe, reliable and pleasant.

At the first sign of cold or spasmodic croup, give "Baby Ease," thus purifying the little system and breaking up the cold. "Baby Ease," a perfected laxative and corrective by baby specialists for mother's use with her children, is also the best remedy for stomach and bowel complaints of infants and children. STOMACH ON A STRIKE

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.—(adv.)
